MR. BRYAN IN NEBRASKA

Lincoln (Neb.) State Journal: Mr. Bryan is probably to be saved the mortification of going to the national convention by a smaller vote than Senator Hitchcock gets. Mr. Hitchcock's big lead in Douglas county made him high man in the returns accumulated during the first five or six days following the primary. Returns from the country steadily cut down this lead until now Mr. Bryan has passed Mr. Hitchcock and promises to have a considerable lead by the time all votes are counted. By another two years the liquor issue will have still further faded from party politics. Mr. Bryan's leadership in his own state will then be indisputable.

Lincoln (Neb.) Evening News: Notwithstanding the liquor interests of the state, aided and abetted by the state machine, Senator Hitchcock and Mayor Dahlman fought openly and to the best of their ability against the selection of Mr. Bryan as a delegate at large from Nebraska, that great leader goes to Baltimore with a certificate of election, and that certificate is backed by the highest vote received of any of the candidates for delegate-atlarge. Mr. Hitchcock will also be a member of the delegation, but it will be largely because of the tremendous vote the special interest with which he consorts in politics-the brewersgave him in Omaha and other centers where their strength lies. Mr. Hitchcock has manifested symptoms in recent years of having imbibed the idea that he himself was the big man in Nebraska politics, and it is quite possible that the demonstration just given him to the contrary will have a chastening effect upon him.

A Colorado Boy's Good Work

Bryan Messiner, a sixteen-year-old Colorado boy, has demonstrated at an early age that he possesses the first quality of success-the ability to "hustle." Besides, he has shown the possibilities open to workers, young and old, in spreading the doctrines of good government among the voters.

In a recent letter to The Commoner, Mr. F. S. Rockefeller of Colorado, writes:

"Under date of February 6 I received a letter from you asking me to send you five subscriptions at the campaign rate of 50c a year. I was at that time and since then have been too sick to attend to the matter. However, I have a nephew (Bryan Messiner), who is sixteen years old. He was born in Colorado during the campaign of 1896 and his father being an admirer of Mr. W. J. Bryan, gave his son the name of Bryan. I told my nephew he was under obligations to extend the usefulness of The Commoner. He started out and at the end of three days, or rather evenings, he came in and dumped down $18.00 to pay for the enclosed list of subscribers."

This is an excellent record for anyone, but more especially commendable in a boy of this age. Bryan Messiner can not vote for several years yet; in fact, he will not be able to cast his first vote for president until 1920, but the work that he has done, and the work that he will do in the future, will perhaps be just as effective for the cause of good government as if he could cast a hundred or even a thousand votes himself. Considering his interest in political questions at his age, there is no doubt that when he comes to cast his first vote he will be thoroughly equipped to discharge every duty as an American citizen in the most intelligent manner.

When Bryan Messiner's club was formed the campaign rate for The Commoner was 50c. He therefore placed The Commoner into the hands of thirty-six voters. Since then the campaign rate has been reduced to 35 cents, or three subscriptions for $1. At the new rate, such a club would place The Commoner into the hands of fifty-four voters. This illustrates what effective work can be done in this campaign, and shows how easy it is to reach a large number of voters in each precinct by getting up Commoner clubs.

A change of just a few votes in each precinct will often change the entire result in a county or state. The Commoner's special campaign rate of 35 cents on new subscriptions-or 3 NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS for $1-will enable the workers in every precinct to put good campaign literature into the hands of every new and doubtful voter from now until the close of the campaign. This work should be done earlybefore the voters are deluged with tons of misleading campaign literature. Form a club in your precinct. Interest the young boys in the work, and make an effort to build up your party's strength in your own community. The attached coupon can be used for a club of three new subscribers, but the form may be copied on blank paper where a larger list of names is sent. Many clubs are coming in from all sections of the country. Add your precinct to the rapidly growing list.

VOLUME 12, NUMBER 17

EVERY INCH A PRIEST

Special dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer: New York, April-22 .--- Winnowed from among many pathetic stories of the Titanic catastrophe today was a tale of two clergymen who went down with the Titanic while ministering to the stricken passengers. One of the clergymen was Rev. Thomas R. D. Byles, of Westminster parish, London, who was on his way to officiate at the marriage of his brother in Brooklyn, and the other a German priest whose name is unknown.

Father Byles was in the first cabin and the German priest in the steerage. Both ministers had celebrated mass in the steerage Sunday morning. The story of their deaths was related today by three women survivors of the Titanic-Ellen Mocklare, Bertha Moran and Miss McCoy.

When the liner struck the iceberg, they said, Father Byles came down the steerage passageway with hand uplifted, commanding the people to be calm and giving them absolution and his blessing.

"He led us to where the boats were being lowered," said Miss Mocklare, "the meanwhile saying his prayers, and helped women and children into them. He whispered words of comfort and encouragement to all. The passengers were deeply impressed by his self-control. Twice be refused to enter a boat and save himself."
