A Bridgeport, Conn., dispatch says: Connecticut's four delegates-at-large to the democratic national convention were elected and were instructed to "use all honorable means" to secure the nomination for president of Governor Baldwin. In resolutions passed at the state convention an amendment making Speaker Clary the delegation's second choice was voted down. The five district conventions also elected delegates and made Baldwin their first choice.

In the republican primaries for Massachusetts Mr. Taft received 3,000 majority on preferential vote, but the eight delegates-at-large were Roosevelt men. Mr. Roosevelt issued a statement that he would expect these delegates-at-large to vote for Mr. Taft because the latter received the preferential vote. The delegates-at-large, however, held a meeting and announced that they would insist on voting for Roosevelt. These delegates claimed that they all ran as Roosevelt men and that their election was in itself an instruction. One of these delegates, Mr. Baxter, perhaps voiced the attitude of all of them when he said: "I can not speak for my associates on the ticket, but this, I know, that I was a Roosevelt man three months ago and I am a Roosevelt man now. I would have been a Roosevelt man if I had been defeated in the primaries. I have never tried to get any votes that were not for Roosevelt in my campaign, and I am still for the Colonel. I am a Roosevelt man, ran as a Roosevelt man and have been elected as a Roosevelt man. I can say no more, and I hope I make myself clear."

Referring to the republican complication in Massachusetts, the Associated Press says: A somewhat similar situation was created on the democratic ballot. Speaker Champ Clark, who had no pledged candidates on the ticket, won a two-to-one victory over Governor Wilson in the presidential preference contest. At the same time delegates-at-large pledged to Governor Foss of Massachusetts were elected to attend the Baltimore convention, although the name of Governor Foss did not appear in the presidential preference column.

A Columbus, Ohio, dispatch, carried by the United Press, says: A state probe into the high cost of living will be conducted next June by the Ohio board of agriculture, with the assistance of big city officials, of several other states. Secretary Sandles, of the board, announced that Mayors Shank of Indianapolis, Gaynor of New York and Harrison of Chicago, will be invited to join Governor Harmon and mayors of all Ohio cities in giving their views on the subject.

The farmer, dairyman and all other producers of food-products, and all middlemen who handle food before it reaches the table of the consumer, will be summoned.

"We want to determine just who is getting the big profits," said Sandles. "It may be the farmers, the railroads, the express companies, the commission men or the retail dealers. Perhaps the housewives are wasteful in preparing food."

A big strike in the Chicago newspaper offices is on. SIMPLE HOME TREATMENT DOES IT

At last the good news can be published. It is predicted that within a few years eyeglasses and spectacles will be so scarce that they will be regarded as curiosities.

Throughout the civilized world there has for several years been a recognized movement by educated medical men, particularly eye experts, toward treating sore, weak or strained eyes rationally. The old way has been to fit a pair of glasses as soon as the eyes were found to be strained. These glasses are nothing better than crutches. They never overcome the trouble, but merely give a little relief while being worn, and they make the eyes gradually weaker. Every wearer of eye-glasses knows that he might as well expect to cure rheumatism by leaning upon a walking stick!

The great masses of sufferers from eye-strain and other curable optic disorders have been misled by those who were making fortunes out of eyeglasses and spectacles.

Save Your Eyes, Get Rid of Glasses

Dr. John E. Corish, an able New York physician of long experience, has come forward with the edict that eye-glasses must go. Intelligent people everywhere are indorsing him. The Doctor says that the ancients never disfigured their facial beauty with goggles. They employed certain methods, which have recently been brought to the light of modern science. Doctor Corish has written a marvelous book, entitled "How to Save the Eyes," which tells how many may be benefited, in many cases, instantly. There is an easy home treatment, which is just as simple as it is effective, and it is fully explained in this wonderful book, which will be sent free to any one. A postal card will bring it to your very door. This book tells you why eyeglasses are needless and how they may be put aside forever. When you have taken advantage of the information contained in this book, you may be able to throw your eyeglasses away, and should possess healthy, beautiful, soulfully expressive, magnetic eyes that indicate the true character and win confidence.

Bad Eyes Bring Bad Health

Dr. Corish goes further. He asserts that eye-strain is the main cause of headaches, nervousness, irritability, neurasthenia, brain fag, sleeplessness, stomach disorders, despondency and many other disorders. Leading oculists of the world confirm this, and say that a vast amount of physical and mental misery is due to the influence of eye-strain upon the nerves and brain cells. When eye-strain is overcome, these ailments usually disappear as if by magic.

Y., and ask them to send you, postage prepaid, free of all charges, the book entitled "How to Save the Eyes," and you will never regret the step taken.
