

ate breakfast with a selected few of the democratic leaders while the unselect few stood outside in the lobby and anathematized the selectors. It is whispered that the latter were the ones who broke bread with the guest of the day.

Women were addressed by the "peerless leader" at the Auditorium at 10:30, and at noon he spoke to 4,500 workmen at Naud Junction. In the afternoon he spoke to between 15,000 and 18,000 people, men and women, at Fiesta park.

IN UTAH

Following is an Associated Press dispatch: Ogden, Utah, Sept. 27.—William J. Bryan addressed a large crowd here tonight. In referring to the republican and progressive parties' candidates, Mr. Bryan said he believed President Taft to be sincere and honest, but he had made mistakes, which Colonel Roosevelt, the speaker said, had asked him to explain.

"I can not explain any more why Mr. Taft made mistakes," Mr. Bryan said, "than I can for the errors made by Roosevelt when president."

Mr. Bryan said Colonel Roosevelt was a good authority on bosses on account of his personal acquaintance with a good many of them. He said the colonel had guaranteed President Taft four years ago and because the latter did not make good, in his estimation, Colonel Roosevelt wanted to show how sorry he was by assuming the presidency himself forever.

Mr. Bryan also spoke at Brigham City and Logan. He will leave for the east tomorrow.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 26.—William J. Bryan's campaign tour carried him today to the picturesque mining towns of the Comstock lode. He spoke in Virginia City, Silver City and Carson, concluding his Nevada visit with an address at a largely attended meeting in Reno tonight.

At Carson, Colonel Bryan was introduced by Governor Odie, and made a speech from the capitol rotunda. He compared President Taft to a "boulder in a stream, which collects the driftwood and refuses to move with the progress of time." The president's vetoing of the tariff measures passed recently by congress was denounced.

Colonel Bryan charged the salient section of the democratic platform had been "taken boldly, and boldly by Mr. Roosevelt and his progressive party."

Speaking to the workmen of the Comstock mines at Virginia City, the Nebraskan asserted that the steel trust had turned out seven hundred million dollars' worth of water stock in a few minutes, while it took the great Comstock mines fifty years, with hard labor of many thousands of men, to produce a like amount.

"I do not concede a single state to either Taft or Roosevelt," said the democratic campaigner here. "Wilson and Marshall will make a clean sweep and will carry every state in the union."

Attorney General Wickersham will retire from President Taft's cabinet March 4, next, it is announced, regardless of the result of the election.

"Hanley's Revised Political Primer." Greatest political book ever written; it gives Roosevelt the worst roasting which he will receive from all other sources, in this campaign; it also roasts Taft, and the republican party to a frazzle. It is witty, humorous, satirical, biting, and without malice. It makes all republicans ashamed of themselves. It is more humorous than anything Bill Nye ever wrote. It will elect Woodrow Wilson in November. Price, 25c a copy, $3.00 per dozen. Orders filled by mail, or express. Remit with all orders. Order a dozen today. You can sell them in half an hour's time, and help the cause of true Jeffersonian, Jacksonian, Bryan democracy. Address all orders to Peter J. Hanley, attorney at law, Washington, Iowa.

Newton C. Dougherty, formerly an educator of wide reputation and at one time an officer of the National Educational association, was indicted at Peoria, Ill., in fifteen true bills charging forgery.

General Emilio Campa, revolutionist leader in North Mexico, with his staff of ten men, was captured near Tucson, Ariz., by a United States marshal, and the leader declared he is tired of fighting.

Mr. Roosevelt says that Governor Hadley of Missouri will help him out.

The progressives in Wisconsin have endorsed Governor Francis E. McGovern, republican nominee for governor.

Governor Wilson, speaking at New Haven, said he was for the initiative and referendum and for the recall but did not want to apply the latter to the judiciary.

Mr. Roosevelt, leaving his western trip, made a tour of the south.

The democrats of Massachusetts renominated Governor Foss. The republicans nominated Joseph Walker for governor.

The Taft men in California bolted a state convention and held a separate convention.

A New York dispatch, carried by the Associated Press, says: The contributions to date to the democratic campaign fund amount to $298,750, it was announced by Henry Morgenthau, chairman of the democratic national finance committee. Of this sum, he said, $206,086 has been expended, and while the national committee feels encouraged over the contributions received, there is urgent need of not less than $750,000 additional to pay legitimate expenses to the close of the campaign.

"The feeling of confidence throughout the country in the success of the Wilson and Marshall ticket is hurting us in a financial way," said Mr. Morgenthau. "We have received contributions from 17,116 persons, he continued, "and every state in the union has been heard from."

The states credited with the largest amounts are:

New York, $105,385; Pennsylvania, $19,516; Illinois, $15,453; Missouri, $9,470; New Jersey, $7,012; Wisconsin, $6,125; Louisiana, $5,645; Virginia, $5,402; Washington, $5,824; Alabama, $5,036; Texas, $4,025; Massachusetts, $3,039.

Contributions of $1,000 or more from individuals since the first list was published two weeks ago are:

Supreme Court Justice James W. Gerard, New York, $13,000.
Samuel Untermyer, $10,000.
David W. Heyman, New York; Abraham I. Ellis, New York; Judge J. C. May, Kentucky; Walter Rogers, Chicago; Charles R. Smith, Wisconsin, each $5,000.
S. M. Jarvis, New York, $2,500;
J. N. Camden, Kentucky, $2,500;

Ralph Pulitzer, New York, $2,500; and $1,000 from each of the following: George A. Guthrie, Vance McCormick, Pennsylvania; Delancy Nicholl, Robert Van Cortlandt, Robert B. Hirsch, William B. Hornblower, Ambrose Eno, Cornelius Pugsley, Frank Allen, Charles Strauss, New York; John T. Murphy, Thomas D. Lockwood, Buffalo, N. Y.; Edward Mandelhouse, Texas; Henry St. George, Tucker, Va.; John Boardman, Chicago.

The third party in Connecticut nominated Herbert Knox Smith, formerly United States commissioner of corporations for governor. The third party in New Hampshire nominated Winston Churchill.

The Colorado supreme court unanimously upheld Colorado's initiative and referendum law.

In the democratic convention for California the element led by Theodore Bell was defeated and the democrats supporting Wilson and Bryan won a big victory, endorsing Bryan and his work at Baltimore.

The republicans of New York have nominated Job E. Hedges, a New York city lawyer, for governor.

Textile operatives to the number of twelve thousand are affected by the new strike inaugurated at Lawrence, Mass.

A Belfast, Ireland, cablegram, carried by the Associated Press, says: The singing of the national anthem by a crowd of three thousand, comprising everybody representative of Belfast's great industrial, mercantile and religious community, brought to a close a great anti-home rule meeting in Ulster hall amid a fervor which was not equalled even by the anti-home rule convention of 1892. The meeting renewed the adoption of the resolution passed at that convention protesting against a home rule parliament for Ireland. The supreme dramatic moment of the memorable gathering was the unfurling and presentation to Sir Edward Carson, the chief propagandist against home rule, of the flag carried by King William at the battle of the Boyne. The flag was greeted with frenzied cheering, contrary to expectations.

No new pronouncement of unionist policy was made at the meeting. The Ulster watchword is "We will not have home rule," but none of the various speakers, nor letters of the influential leaders which were read attempted to reveal the plan of resistance if such a plan exists, should King George sign the home rule measure.

A Seagirt, N. J., dispatch, under date of September 29th, said: Governor Wilson issued a statement tonight calling on delegates at the New York state convention at Syracuse next Tuesday to choose as governor "a progressive man of the kind to be his own master." He likewise urged a progressive platform and declared that "it will not do for the choice of the convention at Syracuse to be any less free than that which gave the third party Mr. Straus and the regular republican party, Mr. Hedges."

It is not believed that anything more definite in the way of an expression of opinion will be forthcoming from the presidential nominee before the Syracuse convention begins. It is regarded also as unlikely that he
