George W. Perkins appeared before the campaign fund investigating committee and denied that a huge fund had been collected to finance the Roosevelt campaign. The Associated Press report says: Throughout most of his examination Perkins was in a wrangle with some member of the committee. Time and again he waved a clenched fist in the air and declared that the committee "could not get away with it." Once the committee voted to expunge a remark from the record. As he grew indignant under cross examination the witness would rise in his place, glaring at the committee and gesticulating violently. Mr. Perkins accounted to the committee for $123,000, which, he said, he spent on the pre-convention campaign of Colonel Roosevelt.

"That was absolutely all of my contributions," he declared, emphatically. Mr. Perkins could not recollect clearly the amounts he subscribed or collected for the republican campaign fund of 1904. He said the various large amounts credited to "G. W. P." on the list of contributors to that fund, furnished the committee by Elmer Dover, were undoubtedly secured by Treasurer C. N. Bliss from men whose names he had suggested or whom he had asked personally to contribute.

The witness also said he almost dropped dead when Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, returned to him $10,000 which he sent him in 1904. This was the only instance he knew of, he said, of a man running for office returning money after he had got his hands on it.

Democrats generally will be interested in the following report from the Associated Press: Thomas Fortune Ryan loomed up as the biggest individual campaign contributor that has come to the committee's attention when he told of contributing $450,000 to the fund of Alton B. Parker in 1904. Of this sum Mr. Ryan said he gave $350,000 after he was convinced that Mr. Parker was defeated, in order to save the democratic organization.

Half a dozen Philadelphia newspaper men were sworn to testify that William Flinn, the Pittsburgh leader, was in Philadelphia at the time Penrose charges that Flinn offered him $1,000,000 for his support to the senatorship to succeed Senator Quay. Mr. Flinn, on the stand, declared he was not in Philadelphia at the time.

The committee will meet tomorrow, but it is probable no witnesses will be heard. Several will be summoned for Wednesday, according to present plans, and the committee, after Wednesday's session, probably will adjourn until after election.

Thomas Fortune Ryan was the first witness today. He told the committee that he shouldered $350,000 of the debts of the democratic national campaign in 1904.

"Early in the campaign," he said, "I gave $50,000 to the fund, although I was opposed to the nomination of Judge Parker. I gave prob-

Great Majestic Range

Malleable and Charcoal Iron Range

A Perfect Baker

It Makes Good Every Day In The Year

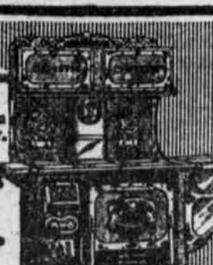

The perfect range is the one which fully meets every requirement of the average housewife. In addition to all its other good points, it must be a perfect baker, week in, week out—month in, month out—year in, year out, and it must be economical in consumption of fuel. The wise housewife will not buy the range, from which she expects a lifetime of perfect service from any mere printed description in a catalog—but before deciding upon any range she will go to the local dealer, who handles them, and examine closely into all the superior points of merits of the Great Majestic—the range with a reputation—built upon honor of the best materials.

Won't Break Or Rust Like Steel—Outwears Three Ordinary Ranges
It is the only range made of malleable iron and charcoal iron. Charcoal iron won't rust like steel—malleable iron can't break, and while the first cost of a Great Majestic may be more than some other ranges, it outwears three ordinary ranges.

Saves Half Your Fuel
The Majestic is put together with rivets. The joints and seams will remain absolutely tight as neither expansion nor contraction can effect or open them. The oven is lined with pure asbestos board, covered with an iron grate—put there to stay—you can see it. No heat escapes or cold air gets into the oven, thus half the fuel, used in other ranges, assures absolutely even, always dependable heat for perfect baking. No springs anywhere to weaken, or get out of order. All doors drop down and form perfect rigid shelves. Malleable iron oven racks slide out automatically, holding everything they contain.

Greatest Improvement Ever Put In a Range
Increasing the strength and wear of a Great Majestic more than 300% at a point where all other ranges are weakest. For sale by the best dealers in nearly every county in 40 states. Write for our booklet, "Range Comparison."

A Fuel Saver

All Copper Reservoir

The reservoir is all copper and heats like a tea kettle through a copper pocket, stamped from one piece, setting against lining of fire box. By turning a lever frame and reservoir are moved away from fire. This feature patented and exclusive in the Majestic.

Open End Ash Pan—No Shoveling
The open end ash pan does away with the shoveling of ashes out of ash pit. The ventilated ash pit prevents the floor from catching on fire and the ash cup catches the ashes that would otherwise fall to the floor.
