My Wife and I

Want to Tell You
How She Stopped Me From Drinking

For over twenty years I was a very hard drinker. I loved liquor. I cared for nothing else. Every cent I could get hold of I spent for beer and whiskey. My work was neglected. Our home was in sore straits.
My case was about as hopeless as a man's could be. My wife was constantly begging and pleading with me, but I loved liquor too well. I couldn't stop.

Many women would have despaired and given up all hope, but my wife didn't. She kept trying.
Finally, about ten years ago, she gave me a simple remedy, hoping against hope that it would have some effect upon my drinking. Much to her surprise, it stopped my drinking entirely.
It took away every desire I ever had for alcoholic liquor. I have not touched a drop since.

Can you imagine her delight—her great happiness? Really, it seemed to make a new woman of her. And what a change it made in me! Our friends and neighbors hardly knew me as the same man. To most of them it seemed a miracle.
But it wasn't. It was simply the little home remedy that my wife gave me. We know it was for she later gave it to her brother and several of our neighbors who were heavy drinkers and it stopped every one of them from drinking. This proved that it was not mere luck in my case.

And now, we want others to try it. We want every man and woman who suffers because of a dear one's intemperance to know what this remedy is that my wife gave me. We want you to know our story for we believe you will be helped by it. And we will be more than glad to tell it if you will send us your name and address.

Write the letter writer of our family and she will gladly answer every letter that is written to her. She will tell in her own way, much better than I can, what she used, how she happened to try it and how it worked. She will give this information with a glad heart so do not hesitate to write. She wants you to feel that she is your friend and that it is a pleasure to do this service.

In the ten years that have elapsed since I was cured many folks have written and asked her how it was done and she gladly answered all letters. And to show that her service has been appreciated we would like to have you read extracts from a few of the letters which she afterward received from some of these people.

Dear Madam: I feel very grateful to you for letting me know how I could cure my husband of drunkenness.
He was cured completely. Mrs. P. W. Cowell, Athens, Penna. Dear Friend: I was benefited by your letter for my husband was a hard drinker and now he does not drink. Mrs. W. D. Blue, Ferry, Fla. My Dear Friend: It cured him of drunkenness. He is in better health than ever before and is a different man altogether.
It has saved us many dollars and we now live in peace and happiness. Mrs. Ann Mitchell, Valliant, Okla. Dear Madam: Your advice was taken at once and my son was cured in a short time. Mrs. Martha Day, Roanoke, Va.

Such letters as these certainly do make my wife happy for she feels that her efforts have not been in vain and she says that she wants you to address your letter to her personally so that she can answer it herself. She also wants me to say that the remedy can be given secretly if desired and that it is very easy to use.

My wife's answer will come in a sealed envelope so there will be no publicity in your affairs.
There is one other thing. We have nothing to sell, so please do not send money. Simply write with all confidence to Mrs. Margaret Anderson, 306 Park Ave., Hillburn, N. Y., taking care to write your name and full address plainly. We would suggest that you tell others who need this information, about my wife's offer, for we often wish that the whole world knew it.

General Castro, formerly president of Venezuela, attempted to enter this country through the port of New York but was prohibited from doing so.

The new Spanish cabinet with Count Alvare de Romanones as premier was announced.

Adolph Ochs, publisher of the New York Times and Philadelphia Public Ledger, announced the sale of the latter paper to Philadelphia men.

Sixteen officials of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad and two trainmen were indicted on charges of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the wreck at Indianapolis November 13 in which sixteen were killed.

Henry J. Horn, of Boston, vice president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad; Benjamin H. Pollock, general manager, and Charles N. Woodward, superintendent, were arrested on warrants charging them with the responsibility for the wreck of the Springfield express at Westport, Conn.

Describing Governor William Sulzer's inauguration, the Associated Press says: Precedents of years' standing were ignored and others created during the inauguration of William Sulzer of New York as democratic governor of the empire state.
All the pomp and display usually incident to such occasions were lacking, this at the governor's own request. There was no military demonstration; no governor's salute of nineteen guns to announce the change of administration; no parade of civic and political bodies; nothing, in fact, to feature the induction into office of the state's chief executive, except a notable gathering of prominent persons and the carrying out of the procedure provided by the constitution.

The governor, in his desire for simplicity, insisted upon walking from the executive mansion to the capitol, refusing to ride in a carriage which had been provided. After the ceremonies he inaugurated a new feature by appearing on the front steps of the capitol and addressing the thousands who were unable to witness the ceremonies inside.

Governor Sulzer took the constitutional oath of office in the assembly chamber of the capitol. It was lavishly decorated with flags, bunting and patriotic emblems and provided seats for more than a thousand persons.

Carrying out the democratic platform pledge, Majority Leader Wagner of the senate and Assemblyman Goldberg introduced a concurrent resolution preparing for woman suffrage. The resolution is substantially as adopted last year in the assembly and defeated in the senate.

In offering the resolution Majority Leader Wagner, who fought the measure last year, explained that he still was opposed to equal suffrage and was fathering the resolution merely because the party platform advocated the presentation of the question to the voters of the state.

Senator Wagner also offered a resolution ratifying the proposed amendment to the constitution by congress, providing for the direct election of United States senators.

The popular election of United States senators was the principal recommendation made by Governor Sulzer in his first annual message to the legislature.

"The people can and ought to be trusted," said the governor. "They have demonstrated their ability for self-government. In my opinion the people of our state are in favor of the election of United States senators by a direct vote. I favor this change in the federal constitution, as I shall every change that will restore government to the control of the people."

The governor also asked the legislature to consider the problem of reducing the high cost of living and recommended the submission of a constitutional amendment for woman suffrage to the people as soon as possible.

After organizing and receiving the governor's message the legislature adjourned.

A London cablegram, carried by the Associated Press, says: After their protracted diplomatic skirmishing, the Turks finally capitulated to a majority of the demands of the Balkan allies at a session of the peace conference in St. James palace.
Through Rechad Pasha they agreed to cede practically the whole of the

Mr. Bryan has made several formal and extended addresses, in different
