

Dr. Blosser's Catarrh Remedy

Trial Package Mailed Free to Any Sufferer.

If you have catarrh of the head, nose, throat; if catarrh has affected your hearing; if you sneeze, hawk or spit; if you take one cold after another; if your head feels stopped-up; you should try this Remedy discovered by Dr. Blosser, who has made a specialty of treating catarrh for over thirty-nine years.

This Remedy is composed of herbs, flowers and seeds possessing healing medicinal properties; contains no tobacco, is not injurious or habit-forming; is pleasant to use and perfectly harmless to man, woman or child.

Catarrhal germs are carried into the head, nose and throat with the air you breathe—just so the warm medicated smoke-vapor is carried with the breath, applying the medicine directly to the diseased parts. If you have tried the usual methods, such as sprays, douches, salves, inhalers and the stomach-ruining "constitutional" medicines, you will readily see the superiority of this Smoking Remedy.

Simply send your name and address to Dr. J. W. Blosser, 144 Walton St., Atlanta, Ga., and he will send you a free package containing samples of the Remedy for smoking in a pipe and made into cigarettes, together with an illustrated booklet which goes thoroughly into the subject of catarrh. He will send by mail, for one dollar, enough of the medicine to last about one month.

performance with breathless interest. The last act was drawing to a close. The duel almost dragged the lads from their seats.

Before their eyes the Queen was poisoned, Laertes killed, the king killed, Hamlet killed. On the final tragedy the curtain started down. The audience was spellbound.

In the gallery there was a clatter and a crash as one of the boys mentioned started for the door.

"Come on, Tommy?" he shouted back to his companion. "Hustle! Dere'll be extras out on dis!"—Harper's Monthly.

And She Kept On Smoking

"Aunt Chloe, do you think you are a Christian?" asked a preacher of an old negro woman who was smoking a pipe.

"Yes, brudder, I 'specks I is."

"Do you believe in the Bible?"

"Yes, brudder."

"Do you know there is a passage in the Scriptures that declares that nothing unclean shall inherit the Kingdom of Heaven?"

"Yes, I 'se heard it."

"Well, you smoke, and there is nothing so unclean as the breath of a smoker. So what do you say to that?"

"Well, when I go dere I 'specks to leave my breff behind me."—Kansas Farmer.

Luke McLuke Says

We would all be millionaires if we were as much interested in our own business as we are in that of other people.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who wore a carved peachstone on his watch chain?

The more relatives a man has the more he likes strangers.

Every middle-aged woman knows that they don't make as good mirrors nowadays as they did when she was a girl.

I may be mistaken about the junk they are wearing around their necks these days, but it looks to me as if a girl can take the Battenberg scarf off the bedroom dresser and hang it over her coat collar and be right in style. Then she can pin two crocheted doilies on the cuffs of her coat and turn up her nose at the world.

Nothing ever goes to waste in this world. They are using the old-fashioned wooden pie plates for buttons on women's winter coats.

When a girl is sloppy she is hopeless. If her shoes are run over at the heels you'll find that her hair is straggling down her neck and her hat looks as though the cat had used it for a bed.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Quaker Quips

Laugh and grow fat, and you will find the laugh is on you.

Filling your coal bins with ice is one way of getting them thoroughly cold.

Many a fellow kisses a girl just to prevent himself from getting out of practice.

It's a pity the people who quarrel over trifles haven't something worthy of their talents.

A man often wishes he could change his luck as easily as a woman can change her mind.—Philadelphia Record.

Pointed Paragraphs

The married man who hesitates is bossed.

A rich young widow and her weeds are soon parted.

Nothing makes a man so sad as to have a girl jolly him.

The more friends a woman has the more she has to talk about.

The man who follows his inclination never gets very far from the bottom of the ladder.—Chicago News.

It Increases One's Self-Respect

No one has ever received a life insurance policy from an agent or company without being conscious that the load of responsibility on his shoulders had been lightened. He also had at the time an increased feeling of self-respect at the thought that he had done what it was his duty to do, in that he had provided for the future welfare of those who were dependent upon him.

It is a curious fact, but one which is undoubtedly true, that one who has once carried life insurance seldom drops it permanently. He may allow one policy to lapse; he may sometimes change to another company, which is generally a mistake; he may become hard up and cash it in; but, sooner or later he takes another policy.

The man who has once been convinced of the benefits of life insurance, and has experienced that new sense of lightened responsibility and increased self-respect, never again feels entirely at ease while he is uninsured and has anyone dependent upon him for support.
