Now, doubtless, those who where they had, the United States would been overthrown. A great many of us here at home laughed at Mr. Bryan's treaties, especially when he resigned from the premiership because he had thereof nothing but the title and the salary. But now the President who insisted upon being most of our best presidents have insisted on being in every crisis - in a brief talk in Paris summons to our Bryan was working for universal peace and confirms its validity. Curlously enough the President seems to have done this inadvertently. * . For a few hours we held our breath in anticipation of a dramade, not to say spectacular, vindication of Mr. Bryan's much-derided impracticality before the whole world. But it was not to be. Still it must be some consolation to the man from Nebraska to reflect that for a brief instant in the very heart of the glory raying from Woodrow Wilson, that world personality must have had in his mind the thought of the man who was most instrumental in giving him to magnificent destiny and spoke it unconsciously somewhat as Falstaff in his passing "babbled o' green fields." Mr. Bryan is at Paris, cure eczema, sait rheum, barbers itch and other skin diseases. Sent by mail, vited. He must reflect not unpleas-
