

Die Wildtate.

Roman von Ida Heiser

(34. Fortsetzung.)

Draußen brüllte die Schelle eines... Die Wildtate... (34. Fortsetzung.) Draußen brüllte die Schelle eines... (The text continues with a dramatic narrative in German, describing a scene of distress and discovery.)

Freundlich waren wie der seine, und... (The text continues with a dramatic narrative in German, describing a scene of distress and discovery.)

honden Witz hatte sie, auch wenn der... (The text continues with a dramatic narrative in German, describing a scene of distress and discovery.)

Aus Columbus, Nebr. Columbus, Neb., 13. April.—In... (The text continues with a dramatic narrative in German, describing a scene of distress and discovery.)

Nebraska für die demokratische... (The text continues with a dramatic narrative in German, describing a scene of distress and discovery.)

Wegner in keiner Weise, wie auch... (The text continues with a dramatic narrative in German, describing a scene of distress and discovery.)

gestern morgen starb, wurde nach... (The text continues with a dramatic narrative in German, describing a scene of distress and discovery.)

An das Volk des Platte Countys!

Das Volk von Columbus ist einig, Sie begraben die Streitart... (The text continues with a dramatic narrative in German, describing a scene of distress and discovery.)

Columbus Commercial Club County Seat Committee