All of which, together who the skill and discipline of the propresors, enables them to work into useful shape every particle of timber-nothing being wasted. We predict for this establishment, with its machinery, perfect system, and go-a-head-ativeness of its proprietors, the most satisfactory success.

St. Frederick.

To-day we publish the articles of incorporation of the St. Frederick Town Company. At a recent election C. G. Dorser was elected President, G. H. Vick Roy, Secretary, and C. A. FREYBERG, Agent of the Company.

St. Frederick, as our home readers are aware, is a thriving interior village situated near the western border of this county, in the midst of a fine timbered and well watered portion of the country. Its inhabitants and those surrounding, are an enterprising, industrious people, possessing all the requisites to build up a town of no small importance in a short period of time. When our columns are less crowded than at present, we shall take occasion to speak more at length of this place.

Carpet Emporium.

We call particular attention to the advertisement of A. McDowell & Co., St. Louis, Mo. This House is so twenty-fours years, that it is only necesvary for us merely to remind wholesale dealers, hotel-keepers and others in want of articles in their line, that there is yet the place to find bargains.
