EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

OMAHA, N. T., October 3, 1858.

Yesterday, by an act which passed both branches of the Legislature, and received the Governor's signature, the Extra or call session terminated, and the regular session will commence to-morrow.

The Criminal Code goes into effect from the date of its passage, October 2d. It will most likely be ordered published immediately, either in pamphlet form, or in all the newspapers in the Territory.

Thus far matters have not progressed very harmoniously in the House. There is perhaps more real ability there than has ever been at any previous session.

A large number of important Bills and Joint Resolutions have passed the Council, and are now waiting the action of the House.

The subject of per diem being now disposed of tolerably satisfactory, and that of incidental printing eased off considerably, and the introduction of the "nigger question" nearly abandoned, we may reasonably hope, I think, for a vast amount of useful legislation.

The American ships Hawthorne and Black Margaret came in collision in the river Mersey, near the mouth. The latter vessel sunk, and all on board perished except the pilot and captain.

In another column will be found a detailed account of the burning of the steamer Austria.

The treaty with China is already telling favorably upon American trade. The manufacturers of domestic goods in Boston are already realizing the beneficial effects of the recent treaty.

The Paraguay expedition is being pushed with vigor. The entire fleet comprises fifteen vessels, and will probably sail by the 10th or 15th of this month.

Last night the Deputy Sheriff of this county left for "Pike's Peak," "Cherry Creek," or some other region, and four out of six prisoners confined in the county jail made their escape.

Paries are leaving here almost daily for the gold regions. I fear many are doomed to sore disappointment, and even suffering, by going before spring.

The first Annual Fair of the Douglas County Agricultural Society was held at Saratoga on Sept 30th and October 1st. I had the pleasure of being present on both days.

Paries are leaving here almost daily for the gold regions. I fear many are doomed to sore disappointment, and even suffering, by going before spring.

The agricultural implements on exhibition, being of the latest improvements, spoke well for the intelligence and enterprise of the farmers of Douglas.

Grain, especially corn, was superior. Some fine samples of wheat were on exhibition.

With the exception of Jesse Lome's herd of Devon cattle, there was nothing in the stock line of any kind worthy of note.

The Fair closed with a Ladies riding match. There were but four competitors. The premium, a forty dollar ladies' saddle, was awarded to Miss Augusta Estabrook of Omaha.

The News.

From Europe the news is of very little political importance. Among items of general intelligence, we notice the following:

A submarine telegraph cable about 300 miles long, to connect the colony of Victoria with Tasmania, was being manufactured in England.

The Mazzinian organ, Italia del Popolo, published at Genoa, had ceased to exist. During the last three months, all its principal writers spent more time in jail than at their office.

The Emperor of Russia has emancipated two hundred thousand serfs belonging to the national domain.

A great conflagration had taken place at Moscow, in which one hundred houses were destroyed.

The Chess world has followed with a great deal of interest and anxiety the progress of Mr. Paul Morphy, the great American chess-player, who went to England to challenge the acknowledged masters of the game.

Mr. Morphy has had great success. He played eight games blindfolded against some very strong players; and of these eight simultaneous games, Mr. Morphy won six, drew one against Mr. Avery, President of the Birmingham Chess Club, and lost only one, that against Mr. Kipping.

A match between Mr. Staunton, the chess-champion of England, has been arranged upon stakes $500 a side; the score of the first 11 games wins; to commence on the 1st of November next.

Mr. Lowenthal and several other chess celebrities of Paris, to challenge Mr. Harwitz; but there he found his superior at the game, and was beaten.

The American ships Hawthorne and Black Margaret came in collision in the river Mersey, near the mouth. The latter vessel sunk, and all on board perished except the pilot and captain.

Our Legislature.

It is plain that another session of Nebraska is about to be consumed in wrangling, speculation, &c.

We had hoped to hear of a united determination on the part of the members of both Houses to labor for the general prosperity and good of the Territory at large.

The condition of our laws was such that our most excellent Executive deemed an extra meeting of the Legislature imperatively necessary.

Our Democratic members have said by their votes it shall be done, and we feel exceedingly joyful to record it as an evidence of better times for the people.

The members of our Council, or a large majority of them, are democrats; in the House the nameless party have we believe a slight majority, enough to suppress all efforts toward general Legislation.

Certain, unless more harmony exists in the House, nothing useful will be done this session, and again we will be left without a law to collect an honest debt, and punish the highway man and midnight assassin.

Let the fault be placed at the door of the "rag-tag and bob-tail" party, who are now attempting to clog the wheels of Legislation in the House.

Republicans voting for Special Legislation. Just as was expected the "Whang Doodles" in the lower House of our Legislature are in favor of special legislation.

Read this; it is worth a careful consideration and a lasting remembrance. Horse.—Sept. 23.—Mr. Rankin offered the following:

Resolved, That it shall not be in order to discuss in this House, or take any action whatever, except by reference to appropriate committees, or attempt to enact any local or special laws, until after the passage, or other disposal, by this House, of a civil code or act to regulate practice and proceedings in Courts of Justice;

After several fruitless attempts to amend and various motions, the yeas and nays were demanded and resulted as follows: Yeas—Messrs. Bramble, Briggs, Cassell, Clark, Collins, Cooper, Dean, Fleming, Gwyer, Hall, Kline, Lee, Mason, Noel, Rankin, Redder, Seymour, Shields, Steele, Taffin—21.

Nays—Messrs. Davis of Cass, Davis of Washington, Dady, Deam, De Puy, Marquette, Stewart, Wattles, Young—9.

Voters of Nemaha county, does this accord with the solemn pledges made to you last summer? Some of you who voted for old "wolf skin" must feel awful bad about the "innards." So we go.

All Democrats for Douglas. Yes, it is a fact, with probably one or two exceptions, democrats North and South are "in" for "Little Dog." He has stood the storm which but recently threatened to sweep him from the decks of the old Democratic Craft.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the United States convened at Baltimore on the 22d ult. On Tuesday, says the New York Tribune, William B. Astor, called on the Receiver, and after paying about $25,000 on personal estate, tendered his check for $60,000, the amount of tax on his real estate.

Since June 27th up to Sept. 20th, about 3,000 persons have died of yellow fever at New Orleans. A duel was fought on Sept. 17th, near Richmond, Va., between O. Jennings Wise, of the Enquirer, and Cherrard Clemens, a member of Congress from the Wheeling district.

At the fourth fire the latter gentleman was wounded in the thigh. The cause of the difficulty was the recent comments in the Enquirer on Mr. Clemens, relative to the gubernatorial question. Mr. Clemens was the challenger.

Henry Abraham has announced himself as the anti-slavery candidate for Governor in Virginia. He affirms that he will get a vote that will astonish every body but himself.

The Legislature of Virginia, as a tribute to the memory of the late Capt. Herndon, U. S. Navy, who was lost in the steamer Central America, when she foundered at sea, has presented to his widow a medal of pure gold, about two inches in diameter. On one side is depicted in bold relief the scene of the tempest, the steamer half dismantled, and the heroic commander standing resolutely on an elevated part of the wreck.

Around are inscribed the following words: "Devotion to duty, Christian conduct and genuine heroism respected and revered." The reverse of the medal bears the following inscription: "Presented to the widow of Captain W. L. Herndon, U. S. Navy, by Virginia, as a testimony of respect for her virtuous son, a noble and gallant officer, 1858."

Dred Scott died at St. Louis on the 23d ult. It is said that by the 1st of December the North Missouri Railroad will be completed to the Hannibal and St. Joseph Road. The steamer Fanny Harris struck the Rock Island Bridge on the night of the 28th ult., and sunk. Several lives were lost.

Letter from the Plains.

We have received an interesting correspondence from "Wyreka." We regret that its extreme length (it would fill 4 or 5 columns of our paper) prevents its insertion entire.

All we can do is to give only a few extracts. Fort Laramie, Sept 10, '58. FRIEND FURNAS—

Through the kindness of Capt. Magraw of Independence, Mo., and Mr. Davidson, sutler to the 10th Infantry, I am in possession of the following advices from Salt Lake City to the 1st inst. Capt. M. is returning after an absence of many months; he has been in direct communication with Salt Lake for several years, having had the mail contract from Independence.

They report every thing quiet in the city. No public meetings are held, and a disposition manifested by all parties to submit quietly to the newly appointed authorities; but no person without the pale of the church is enabled to arrive at any definite conclusion in regard to what transpires within. Gov. Cumming and lady with President Young and a "small party" of his family were rusticated at Cottonwood Canon, a favorite resort of the President. Judges Eckles and St. Clair have gone South, under the escort of a battalion of dragoons, for the purpose of holding Courts.

A street fight occurred a short time since between Mr. Williams and Brig. Gen. Grant of the Nauvoo Legion, in which the latter received a severe chastisement.

Great distress was experienced in the financial market. President Young's scrip, redeemable in cattle, had been repudiated even at the "Lord's store." Provisions very low. About 2000 heads of cattle had left California; cattle selling at from $60 to $70 per yoke.

The health of the army in the Valley was very good. The fortifications and winter quarters were rapidly approaching completion. These are composed of a daub brick, furnished by the Mormons at $10 per 1000 under contract.

Company quarters each 100 by 24 feet. The hay for the use of government animals is furnished under contract by the Mormons, at $10 per ton.

Great excitement prevails in relation to the gold fields on Frazer river. Many are leaving for the diggings, a distance of about 1200 miles overland from the city.

In relation to the discovery of gold on South Platte, specimens have been shown here. Those who have been out preserve great secrecy in regard to their destination. These mines will be properly prospected during the winter. About 200 men are preparing to winter there, from various points from here to Green river, principally Missouri men.

We are progressing with our usual uninterrupted success; cattle and men in good condition. We are each morning more sensible of our proximity to the Rocky Mountains by the refreshing breeze wafted to us across the Nevada covered rocky sierras.

We now breathe an atmosphere the purity of which is unequalled, in the habitable globe, causing a buoyancy and elasticity of spirits and muscles unknown among the luxurious citizens of civilization.

We have already passed the several curiosities of Chimney Rock, Courthouse Rock, Scott's Bluffs. But those of the new chums who arrive at the conclusion that they have seen the elephant, and turn their faces homeward from Camp Scott or other stations, will be denied the pleasure of witnessing the remarkable phenomena of Nature to be met with in a journey down Snake or Houdoldt and Bear Rivers.

First, we visit Soda Steam Boat and other springs on Bear river. These springs are a beautiful lotion for the complexion of the fair sex, is unsurpassed by any preparation of art or by any mineral water from Maine to Florida; for raising bread, it is superior to Durker's best. In the vicinity of these springs, the country bears marked evidence of some terrible convulsions of nature; but at what period, we are unable to determine.

The traditional reports of the Indians are so diverse, conflicting, and altogether so vague, that no definite period can be arrived at as to the time of these volcanic freaks of nature.

In places on the level plain we find heaps of rocks, from 50 to 500 feet in diameter and from 10 to 50 in height, looking as though they had been blasted from a quarry and hauled to their place. The openings in these rocks may be traced the rumbling of some convulsions in the basin formed by the waters many hundred feet below. By dropping down pebbles you may hear them after an interval of some minutes, fall in the water.

Near Salmon Falls, on Snake river, one of these streams flows out of a perpendicular rock bluff, about 100 feet below the surface, and falls about 200 feet to the bed of the river in one entire sheet, presenting a scene of singular grandeur and beauty.

Again, in Spring Valley we find springs containing boiling water and others containing cold water within a few paces of each other. The hot spring on the Trucker route to California I found the greatest curiosity. This is say eight feet in circumference, and emits a steam similar to a steam-boat escaping for 15 minutes, and in an instant becomes perfectly calm for five minutes, when it again becomes convulsed, throwing the water many feet in the air, for another 15 minutes. What subterranean machinery is brought to bear upon this immensity of water to cause it to pass through the singular state of calmness and convulsions, has been a subject of consideration for wiser heads than mine.

Before approaching this spring, upon an arid and sandy desert, we find remarkable cases of petrification, and occasionally solitary sand rocks, bearing evidence having been worn away by the action of water. But when and how such a body of water passed over this now God forsaken country is yet involved in mystery.

We have been visited almost daily by small parties of Red Skins, and at the post there is the usual number of hangers on. The Indians in this vicinity present a more respectable appearance than any met with on the plains. Among them I notice the spear and shield buckler of the ancients. Whether these offensive and defensive weapons originated with them or have been introduced from Asia at a remote period, tradition does not inform us.

Among the various Indian tribes of Oregon and Washington Territories, many of the ancient customs mentioned in the Bible are observed. This is one confirmation of this race having at some period anterior to any that we have any definite information, migrated to this continent through the Behring Straits.

From the Mines.

Mr. John Huston arrived in this city yesterday having left Fort Laramie on the 3d inst. He brings such important and interesting news from the gold mines of the Arkansas, Pike's Peak and Cherry Creek.

All the Indian traders about the fort, and in the vicinity of Deer Creek, were removing their goods to the mines. He saw at the fort a Mr. Jackson, who had several hundred dollars worth of the dust. The mines were poorly provided with breadstuffs, not having over two months' supplies on hand. They were also entirely destitute of mining tools. Picks and shovels were worth their weight in gold in fact, they could not be had at any price.

There was not a rocker in the mines, and no sheet iron with which to make riddles. Mr. Benj. Cline more is now coming in and will be here in eight or ten days, bringing some $500 of the gold which he obtained in about two weeks without any tools.

There is now about 250 men in the mines, most of whom are now engaged in prospecting Cherry Creek and in the vicinity of the Medicine B-w. Seven men worked two weeks and made $500, with nothing but pans.

These are in short, the particulars furnished us by Mr. Huston, who is a man well known to every business man in this city. This is certainly the most gratifying intelligence we have published for several weeks, and it is the more cheering inasmuch as it comes from a man we all know, and upon whose word we can rely.—Kansas City Journal.

Burning of the Steamship Austria. Halifax, Sept. 27. The bark Lotus, of Liverpool, arrived in Halifax harbor on Sunday afternoon, with 12 of the 67 surviving passengers of the steamship Austria, burnt at sea Sept. 13th, in lat. 45 deg. 1 min., long 51 deg. 30 min. They were taken from the bark Maurice, Capt. Ernest Renaud, on the 14th.

A little after two o'clock on the 12th dense volumes of smoke billowed from the after entrance of the steamer. The ship was instantly put at half speed, at which she continued until the magazine exploded. The engineers, it is inferred, were instantly suffocated.

The fire was next seen breaking through the lights amidships, and traveled all with fearful rapidity. Some persons leaped a boat from the front side of the quarter deck, and there it was thought to be crushed under the screw.

An attempt was made to launch a boat on the starboard side, but it was swamped from the numbers who rushed into it, and all were lost.

All the first cabin passengers were on the poop, except a few gentlemen, who must have been smothered in the smoking room; many of the second cabin passengers were also on the boat, but a number of them got out into their cabin by fire. Some of them were pulled up through the ventilator, but the great number could not be extricated. The last woman drawn up said there were six already suffocated.

The ladies and gentlemen on the poop jumped into the sea two and by threes, some of the ladies in the dresses; several hesitated but were driven to it at the last moment. In an hour not a soul was to be seen on the poop.

The French bark Maurice, Capt. Ernest Renaud, came alongside the steamer at about 5 o'clock p. m., and received 40 passengers, chiefly taken from the lower poop. A few were picked up floating around.

At about 8 o'clock, one of the metallic boats came up with about 23 persons in it, including the first and third officers.—At 9 o'clock three or four men were picked up floating on a piece of broken boat. The second officer was taken up, having been swimming for six hours. And the third officers were badly burned. One male passenger was frightfully burned, some others slightly.

There were but six women saved, three of whom were severely burned. A Norwegian bark came up with the steamer next morning, and a boat was observed going around the burning ship. They may have picked up a few.

The Maurice had no communication with the Norwegian vessel. At about seven o'clock the Maurice sailed for Foyal to deposit the rescued passengers. At about two o'clock p. m. she fell in with the bark Lotus from Liverpool for Halifax.

LATER.—The fire is known to have arisen from the culpable negligence of the crew. The Captain and Surgeon considered it expedient to fumigate the steamer with burning tar. The operation was performed by the boatswain, under the superintendence of the fourth officer.

The boatswain held the end of a rope to dip in tar to produce smoke. The tar became too hot to hold, and he let it fall upon the deck, to which it set fire. The tar upset, and immediately all about it was in flames. A feeble attempt was made to extinguish it, but without effect. The "was nothing at hand for such an emergency.

The rescued passengers saved nothing but the clothes on their backs, and the greater part of these were torn or otherwise lost. Six hundred souls were supposed to be on board, including many women and children. It is not all gold that glitters.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR.—The hair of the greatest beauties who flourish in the present age is not so much the result of natural endowment as it is of the use of a certain hair dressing. The hair of the most beautiful women is not so much the result of natural endowment as it is of the use of a certain hair dressing.
