AN ACT to incorporate the Nemaha Valley Insurance Company.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Council and House of Representatives of the Territory of Nebraska: That John Carson, Luther Hoadley, A. S. Holliday, Isaac T. Whyte, U. C. Johnson, James M. Huggis, Benjamin F. Lushbaugh, Henry W. Mayhew, R. W. Furnas, Robert W. Frame and John Grant, their associates, successors and assigns, are hereby constituted a body corporate and politic, by the name and title of the "Nemaha Valley Insurance Company," by which name they and their successors shall have perpetual succession, and are made capable in law, of contracting and being contracted with, of suing and being sued, of defending and being defended against, in all courts and places whatsoever, in all manner of actions, and may have a common seal, which they may change at pleasure.

Sec. 2. The capital stock of said company shall be ten thousand dollars, which may be increased to any amount not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars; and any three of the persons named in section first shall be commissioned to open books for subscription to said stock in such manner, and at such times and places as they may appoint, until five thousand dollars of stock in shares of twenty dollars each, shall be subscribed, and soon thereafter the subscribers shall meet and choose directors, first giving notice of meeting in one or more newspapers in the City of Brownville.

Sec. 3. The payment of said stock subscribed shall be in the following manner: At the time of subscribing one dollar shall be paid the commissioners on each share, and before the company shall be authorized to issue a policy of insurance, the further sum of ten dollars shall be paid the directors on each and every share, and the balance due satisfactorily secured, payable on demand, any stockholder failing to meet his calls for thirty days after the same shall have been demanded, the directors shall have power to declare said stock forfeited to the company.

Sec. 4. The corporation hereby created shall have full power and authority to insure all kinds of property against loss or damage by fire, to make all kinds of insurance against loss of property of any kind in course of transportation, whether happening on land or water; to make all kinds of insurance on lives and grant annuities, and to make such other insurance as they may deem proper or expedient; to loan money on real or personal security, and on respondentia themselves against loss on any risks they have taken, and generally to do and perform all necessary matters and things connected with these objects or either of them.

Sec. 5. The affairs of said corporation shall be managed by nine directors, who after the first year shall be elected on the second Tuesday of January, in every year in the city of Brownville, as the board of Directors may designate; first giving thirty days public notice of said election. Should anything prevent its taking place as hereby provided, the corporation for that cause shall not be deemed dissolved, but the election may take place as shall be provided by the board of Directors by-laws, each share being entitled to one vote.

Sec. 6. The directors regularly chosen by the stockholders of this company, shall as soon as may hereafter at any annual election, choose, out of their body, one person to act as President, and one person to act as Vice President. The first named shall preside at all meetings of the directors. In case of his absence or death, the Vice President shall perform his duties; either of whom with the Secretary or Actuary shall sign the policies or contracts made by order of the Board of Directors, which contract shall be valid and binding with or without the seal of said corporation and such other acts and things as may be prescribed in the companies' by-laws. Any director ceasing to be a stockholder forfeits his powers and privileges as a director.

Sec. 7. The corporation hereby created shall have full power and authority to invest its capital and surplus funds in any funded debt created by or under any law of the United States Government, or of any of the States or Territories or of the City of Brownville, and to sell and transfer the same as the directors may deem for the interest of the corporation, or to loan such of its unemployed money or its funds on such time and security as the directors shall prescribe, to be made available in the time of its ordinary business.

Sec. 8. The stock of said company shall be considered personal property, and shall be transferable according to such rules and under such restrictions as the Board of Directors may direct. Provided, that no transfer of stocks shall be made except upon the books of the Company, which shall specify the date of such transfer and shall be at all times subject to the inspection of any person interested. And, provided, further, that no such transfer shall release any stockholder from liabilities existing against said company before the date of such transfer. The directors, by their by-laws, may also prescribe what number of directors shall form a board competent to transact the business of the company, prescribe what number of Clerks, or other officers, may be necessary, prescribe their duties, titles salaries, and such other things as they may deem proper, always, however, subject to the general laws of the State or Territory.

Sec. 9. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to give the Company the power or privilege of banking.

Sec. 10. This act to take effect from and after its passage.

Report of the Committee on the Resignation of Gov. Richardson.

Your committee to whom was referred so much of the Governor's Message as relates to his resignation of his office, beg leave respectfully to report:
Governor Richardson arrived in Nebraska on the 10th day of January last, in the midst of one of the most violent contests this Territory ever witnessed.
He came here under an appointment of the General Government, most fit to be made. He stood up in the Congress of the United States, one of the foremost champions of that principle which asserts and vindicates the ability of the American citizen, whether a resident of the older or the newer settlements of the country, to govern himself. The champion, the eloquent, powerful, successful champion of the natural rights of the people of Nebraska, most fit was it he should be set over them as their Governor.

He came welcomed with the warmest enthusiasm of the people of the Territory; they felt, as they had abundant reason to feel, most thankful that a man of his reputation, which was national, of his abilities, which in the then present exigency of the public affairs were needed for the public good, of his connection, so intimate and so honorable, with their first history, should be sent among them. Open arms, warm hearts welcome him to this Territory.
He has served us for nearly a year.— All his wisdom, all his best efforts have been ours. No personal feeling ambition or pride has ever swayed him. Patriotism, a generous regard for the highest public good, have characterized his administration. The Territory of Nebraska stands to day on a moral and legal position far higher, more honorable than ever before. We have now a complete, wise and adjusted system of laws. Individual and public rights can, and henceforth will be vindicated, a wrong punished. For all this how largely are we indebted to Governor Richardson, to his wholesome and timely advice.
He goes from our midst carrying the sincere regrets of every class of our citizens, that the pleasant and useful public and private relations which he has in so short a time so firmly established, are to be severed. Amid all the shifting scenes of life, he will carry with him the gratitude of the whole people for the great good he has done us, and our posterity, and our own hearty wishes for his prosperity and welfare will attend him in all time to come.
All of which is respectfully submitted.
WILLIAM E. MOORE.
