Support your Teacher.
Yes, we say, support your teacher. If a young gentleman or lady has been employed to teach your winter school, this is the most important, as such will need your influence. It may be their first attempt in baffling the realities of the world. It may be the commencement of a bright career—under your kindly guidance they may be laying the foundation of a character. How is it parents, that you expect so much of a young, inexperienced teacher, having under his care from twenty to thirty bright-eyed, mischievous children, two of which you may yourselves find it hard to govern even at home? How inconsistent for you to expect perfection from one so frail. But how shall we support our teacher. In several ways:

Why Children Die.
The reason children die is because they are not taken care of. From the day of birth they are stuffed with food, choked with physic, sloshed with water, suffocated in hot rooms, steamed in bedclothes. So much for indoor. When permitted to breathe a breath of pure air once a week in summer; once or twice during the colder months, only the nose is permitted to peer into daylight. A little later they are sent out with no clothing at all on the parts of the body which most need protection. Bare legs, bare arms, bare necks, girted middles, with an inverted umbrella to collect the air and chill the other parts of the body. A stout man goes out in the cold with gloves and overcoat, wool stockings, and thick, double-soled boots, with cork between, and rubbers over. The same day a child three years old, and in flesh and blood, and bone and constitution, goes out with shoes as thin as paper, cotton socks, legs uncovered to the knees, neck bare; an exposure which would disable the nurse, kill the mother outright, and make the father an invalid for weeks. And why? To harden them to a mode of dress which they are never expected to practice. To accustom them to exposure with a dozen years later would be a downright foolery. To rear children thus for the slaughter-pen and then lay it to the Lord, is a shame.

Who's to blame?
Every body—law and gospel, custom and habit, men and women; but, most of all, Mrs. Grundy, the daughter of public opinion, and the wife of Mr. Uppertendom Grundy, the millionaire, who, like the juggernaut of India, compels her victims to throw themselves beneath their carriage wheels, and without one twinge of conscience, crushes out the lives of her victims by thousands in this civilized and christianized country of ours. It's time to rebel. Don't you think so?
