THE GLOBE,

The Official Paper of Congress. I shall publish the Dully Globe, and the Congressional Globe, and Appendix during the next session of Congres. The Daily Globe will contain a report of the debates in both branches of Congress, as taken down by reporters, equal at least, to any corps of short hand writers in this or any other country. When the debates of the day do not make more than forty-five columns, they shall appear in the Globe of the next morning, which will contain, also, the news of the day, together with such editorial articles as passing events suggest.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix, will contain a report of all the debates in Confress, revised tain a report of all the debates in Confress, revised by the Speakers, the Messages of the President of the United States, the Annual reports of the heads of the Executive Departments, the Reports of committees of Congress on important subjects of genoral interest, the Laws passed during the session, and copious indexes to all. These will be printed on a double royal sheet in book form, royal quarte size, each number containing sixteen pages, averaging 2,397 words per page. The whole will make between 1,700 and 2,000 pages. It is believed that no book has ever bean published at so low a rate. Last year I advertised in the Daily Globe for six menths, and in about one hundred other newspapers in the United States, a reward to any person of pers in the United States, a reward to any person of two hundred and forty-five dellars, who would produce a book published at so low a rate, and none was produced. The large number of copies subscribed for by Congress enables me to afford the de-bates to subscribers so sheap.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix pass free through the mails of the United States, as will be seen by reading the following joint resolution pas-sed by Congress August 6, 1852: Joint Resolution Providing for the Distibution of the Laws of Congress and
