"Mr. Lincoln, although the candidate of the Republican party, as Chief Magistrate, will neither belong to that or any other party. When inaugurated, he will vote against any encroachment upon its constitutional rights, as the one in which he has received the largest majority.-While they, by whose votes, he has been designated as Chief Magistrate of the republic, will expect him to maintain and carry forward the principles on which he no encroachment will be made on the reserved rights of any of the States. They know that the Federal Government one of delegated powers; that it can do nothing except the authority for the act can be found in the instrument which ereated it, and that all powers not conferred are reserved to the States, or the people of the State. Hence, when their political opponents have charged them with Abolitionism or attributed to them a desire to interfere with slavery in the States; or some fanatic has insisted they ought to do so, the reply has invariably been that the people who made the Federal Governsuch authority, and it has therefore no more right to meddle with slavery in a dom in Russia.
