Remember the Carrier. The Advertiser's carrier will place before its patrons his "annual message" on New Year's morning.

"A Bustin" Hog. The Hill bought a lot of very fine hogs the other day, raised by Mr. John Beard of Missouri bottom; one of which was a "buster"; weighed 440 lbs. Well, as we said, he was a "buster," and things just kept on "bustin" until several cans of oysters, and what's that you wash 'em down with?—was "busted." Any more "bustin" hogs, "let 'em come."

Beaten. That "bustin" hog you "beaten" is beaten! Among a lot of hogs purchased by D. J. Martin & Co. of this city, there was one weighing 487 lbs. net. That "bustin" the "buster."

The Weather. The past few days has been and is yet "quite winter like." The river at this point is, for the first time this season, entirely closed, and ground covered with snow.

Almost a Fire. The large store house of D. J. Martin & Co., of this city, caught fire Friday, from the stove pipe. But for the timely discovery of the fire, the whole building, and perhaps others, would have been destroyed, as a very brisk wind was blowing.

Heavy Pork. We noticed a lot of 22 hogs purchased by TRAY HILL of this city, that averaged 300 pounds each. That is what may be called heavy pork. They were raised by H. W. Denman, one of the enterprising and thriving farmers of Nemaha county. Who can beat it?

Stone Coal. A couple wagon loads of very excellent stone coal was brought into this city recently from Pawnee county. In company with one or two persons, we have, within the past six months, been making observations in regard to stone coal in this region of Nebraska, and will before long give the result of our labors.

New Eating Saloon. Bon. MORRISON has opened up a "bran new" Saloon in the old Bank building. Everything new, neat and clean. Fine, fresh oysters, dished up to suit any taste at a "moments warning." We "speak from the book"—we've been there, and are authorized by a "unanimous vote" to say in a "public manner" that the new "institution" is "human."

Thanks to Hon. E. S. DUNDY of the Council for a copy of the new Election Law now before the Legislature. We think it much superior to the old one, and hope it may pass.

Saddlery. We call the attention of the public to the advertisement of Mr. Middleton. Mr. M. is an industrious young mechanic, who has "cast his lot among us," and we hope will in the future as in the past meet with a liberal patronage.

Tulip Bulbs. To our friend Dr. KENNEDY, Grove Nurseries, West Northfield, Illinois, we are indebted for a generous supply of tulip bulbs, sent by Express. They arrived in "good order," and just in time to plant before the ground froze up. If we can make a finer display of tulips next year than anybody else in these "diggins," why the Doctor is to blame; not us.

Loss $160,000. Boston, Dec. 24. The Glendon oil mill was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss $160,000. Two thirds insured.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 23. The secession feeling here is on the increase. Ashland Hall was again crowded with citizens last night. Disunion speeches were made by Gen. Taylor and others, and were much applauded.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24. The Speaker held his first day in the House. The letter signed by McGrath, Bonham, Boice and Ashburn, in which they say that they will avail themselves of the earliest opportunity, since receiving official intelligence, of making known that the people of S. C. in their sovereign capacity, have resumed the powers which they had heretofore delegated to the general government, and thus disavowed the signers, connection with the House of Representatives, laid on the table, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Moore, of Ky., introduced a bill giving a construction to the fugitive slave law of 1793. Referred to the Select Committee of 33.

Mr. Morris, of Ill., offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of 5, to inquire into the late abstraction of certain bonds from the Interior Department, but suffered them to be laid over for the present.

Tribune's correspondence: If the S. C. postmasters retire in a body, as expected, Mr. Holt will at once give public notice that he will not mail for S. C. he will not mail for S. C. he will not mail for S. C.

There is good authority for saying that the S. C. Commissioners left Charleston for this city this morning.

New York, Dec. 24. The Union Committee met at the office of Richard Luthers, on Saturday last, when a letter was read from Hon. Millard Fillmore. The committee do not deem themselves at liberty to make the letter public without Mr. Fillmore's consent, which has not been received.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 24. A company of 8 (1) men arrived from Savannah, yesterday, and tendered their services to the Governor of the State, in the name of the minute men or sons of the South.

Profits of sheep husbandry. We wish to call attention again to the profits of sheep raising. We know that while the country is filled up so largely with worthless dogs, that this presents discouragement to many. Still, we insist that even if a farmer is under the necessity of surrounding a ten acre field with a high picket fence, that is absolutely dog proof, it will pay to do so.

We have before us a statement made by Solon Robertson, at the New York State Fair, this year, and reported in the Country Gentleman, this is highly interesting. It is in regard to the sheep husbandry experiments of Mr. Thomas Bell, of New Jersey.

"Mr. Bell usually keeps one hundred sheep. He buys common sheep, of rather large size in the fall, and crosses them with a full-blooded Southdown. The lambs are dropped about the first of April. The ewes in the fall cost from $2.25 to $3.50 per head. He selects the best and puts the highest price. He has good August pasture, and keeps the sheep well, so that they go into winter quarters in good condition. In the winter he keeps them in yards with open sheds, 60 in a yard, with feeding racks, and liberty to go under the sheds, or lie in the open air, as they see fit. He feeds them almost entirely on cornstalks, cut up at the ground as soon as the corn is hard enough to ripen in the stalk. He does not chaff the cornstalks. The sheep eat of the leaves, and the butts serve for bedding. A few weeks previous to lambing, the ewes that are heavy are drawn out by themselves, and fed with good hay and a little grain. He seldom loses a lamb. By the end of July he has his lambs (which are strongly marked by the Southdown characteristics) all sent on to the butcher. This year he obtained $4.75 per head for them. After the lambs are weaned, the ewes get fat, and are sold to the butcher in time to take on a new supply. They have just been sold this year, and he netted from lambs, wool and old sheep a profit of $7.50 per head, over the first cost of the sheep. The year before he made a profit of $7 per head. Besides this, he finds that the sheep are enriching his land."

A clergyman visiting a school house at the Monson (Mass.) schoolhouse the other day made some remarks to the children, which he endeavored to illustrate the sinful condition of men, in a familiar way. "You know," said the clergyman, "that the negroes at the South are serving their masters. Now, we sinful creatures are serving a master who is worse than a slave driver can any boy tell me who that master is?" "Yes sir," said one of the lads, "it is James Buchanan!"

There are fifty-seven cities in the world which contain from 100,000 to 200,000 inhabitants; twenty-three from 200,000 to 500,000; and twelve which contain above 500,000.
