

AN asperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON to be necured in otherwise sichly complexing indicate its necessity in afmost every conceivable care.

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Salt Ricum, Mismenstruction, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complainis, Rheumatism, Chronic Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DESILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no de cription nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have sad douly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signat instances of this kind are attested of female aufferers, emissiated victims of apparent marasmus, manguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and plication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for from here to the mines than from any other point mike the old exides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinute cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative, or indicting a

DYSENTARY, confirmed, emaclating, and apparently walignant, the offects have been equally decisive ann In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debillitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally in-dicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SUROPULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the goods effects of the most cautiously balanced preparations of lodine, without any of their well known liabilities. The attention of females cannot be too confidently in-wited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases pecu-
