

OUR FLAG. They up with our flag! let it stream on the air! Though our fathers are cold in their graves, They had hands that could strike, they had souls that could dare, And their sons were not born to be slaves!

Notice to the Advertiser Patrons. Suddenly and entirely unexpected, I am called by the Secretary of War to fill a position in the service of the country.

Salutatory. In assuming the responsibility of editor during the absence of Mr. Furnas, it may be considered due to the patrons of the Advertiser to make a statement as to the future course of the paper.

It will continue to be Republican in politics. We have no love for nor sympathy with either Slavery or Locofocoism.

Local matters that are considered of interest will be noticed in the Advertiser. Western papers, having a limited circulation, must depend in a great measure upon local news to keep up an interest in the paper.

Fighting for Glory. Several soldiers from Price's army, whom "military necessity," or some other unrelenting necessity has compelled to leave their rebel chief, have returned to Atchison county, and other counties in North-west Missouri.

At a convention held in Dayton, Ohio, on the 22d March last, to nominate a Union city ticket, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we will take occasion of our ensuing city election to make it known to all men that the city of Dayton repudiates Clement L. Vallandigham and his organ, the Dayton Empire, and rebuke them for their refusal to support the Government in its death struggle with treason.

The News. The latest dispatches from Pittsburg Landing say an important movement has taken place, the particulars of which are not allowed to be published at present.

Recent intelligence from Corinth confirms previous reports concerning the magnitude of the enemy's forces. Reinforcements are arriving for Beauregard at an unexampled rate. He has now 100,000 men, and is fortifying Corinth, building entrenchments and constructing an abatis. The rebels entertain no doubt of their success the next time.

The Herald publishes a telegram from Beauregard at Corinth to Adjutant Gen. Colfax at Richmond, which is said to have been intercepted by Gen. Mitchell after taking possession of Decatur, Alabama.

The approaching great battle at or near Yorktown between the rebels and Gen. McClellan is looked for with the greatest interest.

The capture was effected by two gun boats on the 3d with but little opposition. A few shells dispersed the rebel force remaining.

Gen. Curtis' army has returned to Missouri, and is now encamped at Forsyth, Taney county, 45 miles South of Springfield.

Parson Brownlow is now in Philadelphia. In a speech in that city he said: At one time he had been within one vote of hanging by the sentence of a drum head court martial at Knoxville.

Vallandigham Repudiated at his Home. At a convention held in Dayton, Ohio, on the 22d March last, to nominate a Union city ticket, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we will take occasion of our ensuing city election to make it known to all men that the city of Dayton repudiates Clement L. Vallandigham and his organ, the Dayton Empire, and rebuke them for their refusal to support the Government in its death struggle with treason.

Sergeant Wm. Pollock. It is due to Mr. Pollock that I should make a public statement with regard to a letter written by him and published in the Advertiser last February.

I made this statement out of justice to Mr. Pollock and Mr. Furnas. No intelligent man like Mr. Pollock can help forming opinions about his superior officers, and it is very natural that they should express those opinions when writing to their own family.

From the Nebraska First. IN THE FIELD, PITTSBURG LANDING, April 8th, 1862, 2 P. M.

Our scouts who have penetrated the enemy's lines, say Beauregard is actively engaged throwing up intrenchments along his whole line, planting batteries, and preparing for a systematic defense.

Engagement Near Santa Fe. From Mr. Kiskadee, Jr., who arrived this evening from Fort Union, we learn the following:

At Apache Pass, the Major learned that a body of Texans were crossing over to intercept Col. Slough's command, and he notified him accordingly.

After we ceased fighting, and the rebels were totally routed, we learned that we had been opposed by Gen. Beauregard in person, with his crack Regiments, to prevent us from flanking his command.

THE LOYAL AND REBEL GENERALS.—The following casualties have occurred to loyal Generals since the beginning of the war:

[Written for the Advertiser.] Father! I must be professor, I have studied as M. D., Of medicine should be possessor, A sign in the next village see.

WAR NEWS. WASHINGTON, April 22. Richmond papers say that McClellan is waiting for the iron-clad gunboats to take Richmond by way of James river, and call for obstructions, regarding boats once sunken as the only means to prevent it.

CHICAGO, April 22. Our scouts who have penetrated the enemy's lines, say Beauregard is actively engaged throwing up intrenchments along his whole line, planting batteries, and preparing for a systematic defense.

THE NEWS FROM FORT WRIGHT IS UNIMPORTANT. The bombardment continues.—The rebels have cut the levee on the Arkansas shore, opposite the fort.

THE TEXANS WERE WHIPPED IN THE engagement by Col. Slough's command, and retired. Col. Slough's command were camped near Pigeon's Rauch, and not in expectation of having any more trouble on the march, when a report was received that the Texans were again approaching having been reinforced by three or four more of their companies, numbering in all at this time, 1,200 strong.

A second engagement took place at noon on Friday, the 25th ult., which lasted several hours. Both parties ceased fighting, and withdrew to their respective camps, within four miles distant, with the intention of renewing the battle next day, when it was expected the "big fight" would take place.

IN THE HOUSE, Friday, a bill, introduced by Hon. H. P. Bennett, (the Delegate from Colorado Territory) to establish a branch mint at Denver, was passed almost unanimously.

THE GREAT BATTLES OF MODERN TIMES. From a comparison of the great battle of Pittsburg, which was fought on Sunday and Monday, the 6th and 7th of April last, with the following list, it will be seen that with the exceptions of Jena, Friedland, Wagram and Waterloo, the struggle is the greatest in the list, looking to the numbers engaged.

From Port Royal—Accounts of the Capture of Fort Palaski. New York, April 18. The steamer McClellan has arrived from Port Royal, 14th.

Condition of the Contrabands. Notwithstanding the immense number of contrabands that have been recorded as having arrived at Old Point, it is almost as difficult a matter to obtain a servant here as it is in Baltimore.

THE STEVENS BATTERY. The appropriation for the Stevens Battery has passed both Houses of Congress with a majority of more than two to one in its favor.

THE FORTS ABOVE MEMPHIS. The names of the fortifications of the rebels this side of Memphis are: First, Fort Pillow, named after the rebel General. Second, Fort Wright, at Raudolph, named after Lieut. Colonel Marcus J. Wright, of Col. Preston Smith's one hundred and fifty-fourth Tennessee Regiment.

THE FORTS ABOVE MEMPHIS. The names of the fortifications of the rebels this side of Memphis are: First, Fort Pillow, named after the rebel General. Second, Fort Wright, at Raudolph, named after Lieut. Colonel Marcus J. Wright, of Col. Preston Smith's one hundred and fifty-fourth Tennessee Regiment.

THE FORTS ABOVE MEMPHIS. The names of the fortifications of the rebels this side of Memphis are: First, Fort Pillow, named after the rebel General. Second, Fort Wright, at Raudolph, named after Lieut. Colonel Marcus J. Wright, of Col. Preston Smith's one hundred and fifty-fourth Tennessee Regiment.

THE FORTS ABOVE MEMPHIS. The names of the fortifications of the rebels this side of Memphis are: First, Fort Pillow, named after the rebel General. Second, Fort Wright, at Raudolph, named after Lieut. Colonel Marcus J. Wright, of Col. Preston Smith's one hundred and fifty-fourth Tennessee Regiment.

THE MARKETS. Since last week there has been a change in the price of grain in Louisville. In St. Louis there has been a slight decline; market dull and heavy. Wheat is falling. It is quoted at $2.00.

BLACK LOCUST SEED. LARGE RED ONION SEED. By the Ounce, or Pound. BRONOCO TOBACCO SEED. For sale at the Advertiser's Office.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. NEW GOODS. JUST RECEIVED AT PRICES TO SUIT THE TIME.

JOHN A. PONN. Is now receiving and opening out his Stock of Goods, consisting of Dry Goods, Groceries, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, Iron and Nails, Flour and Meal, Queensware, Hardware, Furnitures, Sash and Doors, Window Glass, etc., etc.

LEGAL NOTICE. Territory of Nebraska, County of Platte. Hamilton Cooper, vs. J. P. in and vs. Henry Marbut, county. Action in debt.

STAR CRACKER MANUFACTORY. ST. JOSEPH, MO. HENRY M'DIVITT.

Cracker Manufactory. He is prepared to furnish SODA, BOSTON, BUTTER, SUGAR AND PICNIC CRACKERS AND PILOT BREAD.