Delaware 19 for Concord; and 13 for Hartford Prolific, and some for Diana.

On a division vote, as to which should be placed first, the vote stood 13 for Delaware, and 8 for Concord.

Over the second class there was also much discussion, as indicated in our report.

The Diana was placed first by general consent, all conceding it to be of excellent flavor, and a strong grower.

The Isabella was placed second, but not without some protests, several gentlemen claiming that it should be discarded entirely.

Its great success in the city yards of New York and Brooklyn where many lots of it are annually grown, also at Cronon Point, at Naples, N. Y., and elsewhere, was sufficiently to prove it from being thrown aside.

It usually needs special protection of buildings, or of surrounding hills, as the influence of large bodies of water upon the atmosphere.

The Catawba was placed third, with the same general qualification as the Isabella, and the additional one that it ripens later, and cannot therefore be grown as far north.
