LOCAL.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.

Religious service will be held at the Presbyterian Church in this city on next Sabbath, Sept. 11th, by Rev. J. T. Baird of Cincinnati.

We notice the arrival in our city Rev. J. T. Baird, of Cincinnati, Ohio. He is a young man of a thorough education and fine abilities and comes to take charge of the Presbyterian Church in this place.

The commencement of the School is postponed from Monday, to Wednesday, for the purpose of repairing the seats and desks.

We decline following the course adopted by our predecessors in regard to notices in the local column, believeing that we can fill it with more valuable information. Persons advertising in our columns are entitled to a notice on the arrival of new goods or once a month.—Other notices will be charged for at the rate of ten cents a line. Persons not advertising will be charged fifteen cents per line.

A boy about ten years old, whose name we have not been able to learn, was drowned at Peru on the 4th inst. He was in the river with some of his companions when he ventured too far from the shore, and was swept away by the current. His parents and friends have been looking for him but have not yet been able to find him, and persons along the river are requested to watch for his body.

For the past few days the mails have been very irregular, and for three days we have not received any of our exchanges. We are therefore without the latest news.

Mr. W. M. C. Perkins, Artist, has decided to remain for sometime yet in our city. Mr. Perkins is one of the best artists in the West, and takes a fine picture. Now is the time to have your picture taken. Everyone should call and see him before he leaves, and "catch the shadow 'ere the substance fails."

Mr. McCreery has just returned from St. Joseph, Mo., with a new supply of Drugs, fine Cigars, Tobacco, &c. His store will be found on the corner of 1st and Main streets. Give him a call.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IN OMAHA.

Indian War in Colorado.

FIVE SIOUX KILLED—THE REST ROUTED.

At an very early hour this morning we were aroused from our slumbers by the cry of "Indians." In a few moments the forces were out, but the Sioux kept at a respectful distance; but they succeeded, however, in getting possession of two horses belonging to a small party of Assiniboines camped near the Fort.—After a few minutes skirmishing with them the big gun was brought to bear and a shrapnel shot fired at them, which killed one as it burst—tearing the bowels completely out of him. The Assiniboines and three or four Mandans and Gros Ventres, with some of the soldiers immediately gave chase.

But two miles and a half below they came up with the Sioux, who turned and gave battle. Quite a sharp fire was kept up by both sides for a few minutes, when one of the Mandans succeeded in killing a Sioux, and they retreated, leaving one warrior and two horses on the field.—The Assiniboines immediately scalped their fallen enemy and cut off his hand, bringing both hand and scalp to the Fort as trophies. They also recovered their two horses. The Sioux fought bravely and made some desperate attempts to recover the body of their fallen friend, but their efforts were unavailing; they did succeed, however, in carrying off the body of one killed by the shell. Three Assiniboines were wounded by arrows.

The Indians around the Fort are having a big scalp dance—brandishing their ghastly trophies aloft, singing, dancing yelling &c., in honor of the victory.—We learn that at one time some of the boys were nearly surrounded by the red devils, but others coming up they were rescued from their perilous situation, and so succeeded in driving the Sioux back.

We are sadly in need of horses at this post, as without them we are unable to do much. Had we been mounted this morning we might have captured the whole of them. Give us some horses by all means.

Mr. Editor: In the coming political contest the Union voters of Nemaha county will be called upon to select Representatives in the Territorial Legislature. In view of this fact, we desire to present, through your friendly columns, the names of S. P. Majors, of Peru, and Mr. John H. Maun, of this city, as men in every way qualified for the position. Their nomination, (which is equivalent to election,) would be hailed with satisfaction by all Union men.—In their election, our county would secure to herself two efficient Representatives, and at the same time reward men who have stood nobly up for the Union and our just and glorious cause.

Baltimore.

Editor Advertiser.

I had some busines before the Probate Court a short time ago, and went almost 17 miles to Brownville to attend to it, and when I got there I was told that Court was held only on Mondays I know that others have suffered in the same way, and the lawyers in Brownville told me that the Court ought by law to be open every day. Now I voted for Mr. Sanders, and have nothing to say against him as a man, but I would like to ask the people of Nemaha County if it is right that the Probate Judge should be at his office only one day in the week. If Mr. Sanders would take my advice he would not try to be a judge and farmer both.

THANKSGIVING.

Washington, Aug. 5th.—To Major General Dix: The President has issued the following recommendation in relation to the recent successes of the United States forces at Mobile and Atlanta.

E. M. Stanton, Sec. of War.
Executive Mansion,
Washington Sept. 3d.

The signal success that Divine Providence has reeently vouchsafed to the operations of the United States fleet and army in the harbor of Mobile, and the reduction of Fort Powell, Fort Gaines and Fort Morgan, and the glorious achievement of the army under General Sherman in the State of Georgia, in resulting in the capture of the city of Atlanta, call for direct acknowledgments to the Supreme Being in whose hands are the destinies of the country. It is therefore requested that on next Sunday, in all the places of worship in the United States, thanksgiving be offered to Him for His mercy in preserving our national existence against the insurgent rebels who have been waging a cruel war against the Government of the United States for its overthrow; and also, that prayer be made for Divine protection to our brave soldiers and their leaders in the field, who have so often and so gallantly perilled their lives in battling with the enemy, and for blessing and comfort, from the Father of mercies, to the sick, wounded and prisoners, and to the orphans and widows of those who have fallen in the service of their country; and that He will continue to uphold the Government of the United States against all the efforts of public enemies and secret foes.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE.

The following interesting correspondence is an exhibitions of the exertion that are being made by some of Fremonts friends, to withdraw a candidate so deservedly unpopular. It also, serves to show that gentleman's manner of preventing such a contingency, and is another one of his attempts to wed abolitionism and copperheadism. But if the mongel offspring of these two elements is to be such character as John C. Fremont, may the gods save us from them:

Boston, August 20, 1864.

Gen. Fremont:

Sir: You must be aware of the wide and growing dissatisfaction, in the Republican ranks, with the Presidential nomination at Baltimore; and you may have seen notices of a movement, just commenced, to unite the thorough and earnest friends of a vigorous prosecution of the war in a new convention which shall represent the patriotism of all parties.

To facilitate that movement, is it emphatically advised that the candidates nominated at Cleveland and Baltimore should withdraw and leav the field entirely free for such a united offer.—Permit us sir, to ask whether, in case Mr. Lincoln will withdraw, you will do so, and join your fellow-citizens in this attempt to place the Adminstration on a basis broad as the patriotism of the country, and as its needs.

(Signed) George L. Starns.
S. R. Urbion:
James M. Stone,
Elizur Wright,
Edward Habich,
Sam'l G. Howe.

Nahant, August 25, 1864.

Gentlemen: I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 20th addressed to me in New York.

If your letter were in effect an appeal only to my own sentiments in favor of a reunion of parties, I should not hesitate to renounce any personal views, and would be entirely ready to defer to the public opinion which your names represent.

But the conditions are no longer the same as when I expressed my readiness to retire in the event of a contingency which might have occurred at Baltimore. Having now definitly accepted the Cleveland nomination, I have not the right to act independently of the truly patriotic and earnest party who conferred that honor upon me. In any event, it would be necessary first to consult with them. It might besides, have only the effect still further to unsettle the public mind and defeat the object you have in view, if we should disorganize before first proceeding to organize something better.

To this end I suggest that a direct effort be made to obtain an immediate understanding between the supporters of the Baltimore and Cleveland nominations in order that the friends of both may coalesce and unite upon an early day for holding such a Convention as you propose I am satisfied that I do not assume too much in saying that my friends will unite heartily in such a movement.

A really popular Convention, upon a board and liberal basis so that it could be regarded as a convention in mass of the people, and not the work of politicians, would command public confidence. Such a Convention, acting in the large and liberal spirit in which it was called, without considerations of persons or political clebues, and without reference to bygone, issue rising to the level of the occasion and taking the conditions of the country as they present themselves today, could safely be trusted to propose such a policy and name such a man as should, and undoubtedly would, receive the cordial and united support of the patriotic masses of the people. To the great body of these, so far as my information allows me to form any opinion, I think that the following propositions would be acceptable:

1. Respect for the practical liberty and the constitutional rights and dignity of the citizen.

2. The maintenance of the dignity of the United States in their relations to foreign powers.

3. The re-estab lishment of the Union by peace if it is possible; by war if the employment of peaceful measures cannot be made to succeed.

Much has been said about peace, and you will therefore excuse me if I say here what I understand by it. For me, peace signifies the integral re-establishment of the Union, without slavery is the source of all our political dissensions, and because the institution itself is condemned by the enlightened and liberal spirit of the age. These are to me the essential conditions of peace. If it is practicable to attain this result, it would not be paying too dearly for it—taking also into consideration on the material strength which the South has been permitted to acquire by the conduct of the war—to make concessions upon some points of secondarp importance; such as that of paying an idemnity for their slaves to those who have remained in a sort of normal condition during the unhappy war which has convulsed the country. To terminate this we are now expending life and money; it would certainly be a gain to reduce it simply to a question of money.

If in spite of all these efforts to spare the South humiliation or losses of capital likely to be too severely felt, the political chiefs who direct the South persist in war then the policy of the Convention should be to pronounce in that case for war with all the force and energy of the nation. For peace, upon any terms, and merely because it is peace—a peace recognizing a North and a South—would not bring about a stable equilibrium. It would only prepare the way for new struggles, and for a condition of disastrous anarchy.

The paramount question is the Union. By peace if it can be had on honorable and right terms—by war, if the political leaders who are directing the South insist upon war.

The situation of our country is unquestionably critical. It demands the devotion and the patriotism of all men who really love their country, and it is one of those moments when all personal aspirations should vanish in the face of the great questions of principle and national existance which are at stake.

Thanking you gentlemen, for the evidence which your letter gives me of your confidence in my disposition to do everything in my power for the interests of the country.

I am, very truly yours,
J. C. FREMONT.
