"Sal," says I, in a voice as musical as the notes of a dying swan, "will you have me?"

Tens of thousands are there in this wide land who, by the "charms" of the temperance pledge, have gone out into the world, singly and alone, to battle with its snares, and temptations, and sin; they have been surrounded at every step by the great tempter, with the allurements of passion and pride; of sensual gratifications and of corrupting association;

Among all the improvements in modern mechanism, says the Chicago Tribune, the art of horseshoeing has met with little advancement.

Of all the freaks of the telegraph, the following is the most laughable which has come under our personal knowledge.

J. A. HEWES, ATTORNEY AT LAW AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.

JACOB MAROHN, MERCHANT TAILOR.

"Now," says I, "let her rip! Dance till your wind gives out." And coddling under the quilts, Morpheus grabbed me.

She turned her eyes heavenward, clasped me by the hand, had an attack of the heaves and blind staggers, with a sight that drew her shoe strings to her palette, said:

"Pray tell me, my dear, what is the cause of those tears?"

"Who has dared to write me a letter unfit to be read by my wife?"

A good farmer will never keep more than ten dogs to every five sheep.

F. STEWART, M. D., PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

WHITNEY'S BLOCK.

"I am," says I, "a man who has been married for some time, and I have a wife and a child."

"Oh, Lord, what a pickle! I think of me in bed, all covered with shawls, muffs, bonnets and cloaks, and twenty girls outside the door waiting to get in!"

"Oh, no, it is couched in the most chaste and beautiful language. But the contents! the contents!"

It requires very Jewishish management to out-general one of our ready-made clothing Israelites; but the way a half-seas over nautical "six navy" sold one of the fraternity the other day, is worth remembering.

Jack came cruising down South Street, about three fathoms ahead of three jolly shipmates, and about four times in going a square he would get laid hold of and brought to with a round turn by some sidewalk lie-in-wait, who would hang to him like a barnacle, and twist upon his coming in and "spying something sheep."

Photographic Artist (Successor to W. M. C. PERKINS).

"I am," says I, "a man who has been married for some time, and I have a wife and a child."

John Nichols writes from Meapville, Crawford county, Mo., that one of his neighbors has invented a moth-trap, which is effectual. It is simply a box, with a movable top, and frames which hold pieces of comb, convenient to remove for examination and destruction of the moth, which enters through holes, and deposits its eggs in the comb.
