At Junction City, Ks., 6 927 acres. At St. Peters, Minn., 8,913 acres. At Humboldt, Ks., 5,549 acres. Falls of St. Croix, 1,042 acres. Ft. Des Moines, Iowa, 4,525 acres. Sioux City, Iowa, 4,666 acres. Detroit, Mich., 11,087 acres. Brownville, Nebraska, 11,089. The above figures speak for them selves, plainly showing were emigration is coming. The party was composed of near three hundred distinguished Senators, our own among the number, Congressmen, civilians and "ladies of high degree," and as the sun at high Meridian is the beauty and glory of the day, so were these ladies to this Meridian excursion. The party, the first night out, stopped at Columbus, where the Company had already erected sumptuous hotel accommodation in the shape of warm, roomy pa villions, with everything in the surround. ings to give comfort and pleasure to the party. The tables were filled with the choicest viands, and the guests, no doubt, were soon in the same enviable predicament. Here the party were gratified by a sight of the "noble red man" in all his native majesty, who there, under the management of Gen. Taylor-their 2nd "Great Father," dating from Andy J ... as first-gave an exhibition of their terpsichorean performances to the great delight of the party. Rockets and other fire works were then touched off for the gratification of the eforesaid "noblemen," and "everything was lovely and the" excursionists retired for the night. And the morning and evening of that day was
