 BROWNVILLE, THURSDAY, NOV. 29, 1886.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.
 In accordance with a custom long recognized, and observed in its observance, by all States and Territories of the Republic, and in accordance with the proclamation of the President of the United States, the 29th day of November, as a day of National Thanksgiving; I do hereby recommend that the people of this Territory shall observe that day (the 29th day of November) as one set apart from all other days of the year for the purpose of devotion to prayer, praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for the innumerable blessings received from His hand. And I do earnestly request all citizens to lay aside their usual avocations on that day and assemble in their accustomed places of worship, and give thanks to the great Father of the Universe for His merciful and bountiful goodness to us as a people. Done at the City of Omaha, Nebraska, this 29th day of November, A. D. 1886.

President's Thanksgiving Proclamation.
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—By the President of the United States—Proclamation: Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, has been pleased to vouchsafe to us as a people, another year of national life, which is an indispensable condition of peace, security and progress. This year moreover, has been crowned with many peculiar blessings. The civil war that was so recently opened, has not been anywhere re-opened. Foreign intervention has ceased to excite alarm or apprehension. Intrinsic pestilence has been benignly mitigated; domestic tranquility has improved; sentiments of conciliation have largely prevailed; and affection of loyalty and patriotism have been widely renewed; our fields have yielded abundantly; our recovering industry has been richly renewed, and we have been allowed to extend our railroad system far into the interior of the country; our commerce has resumed its customary activity in foreign seas. These national blessings demand a national acknowledgement.

Now, therefore, I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby recommend that Thursday, the 29th day of November next, be set apart and be observed everywhere in the several States, by the people thereof, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God, with due remembrance that in His temple doth every one speak of His name. I recommend also that on the same solemn occasion we do humbly and devoutly implore Him to grant to our nation, council, and to our whole people, divine wisdom, which alone can lead any nation into ways of all good.

Public Land Operations.
 The following operations of the different Land Offices named—except our own, which we get from the Land Office here in this city—for the month of October we find in the Washington Star of the 16th:

- Number of acres entered at St. Paul, Minn., 3,698.
- At Detroit, Mich., 8,576 acres.
- At La Crosse, Wis., 4,334 acres.
- At Winnebago City, Minn., 8,210 acres.
- At Greenleaf, Minn., 7,631 acres.
- At Sioux City, Iowa, 9,024 acres.
- At Denver, Col., 4,562 acres.
- At Topeka, Kan., 9,594 acres.

1,500,000 Acres
 Of most desirable land in this District, heretofore set apart for the use and benefit of the Kansas Branch of the Pacific Railroad, has just been restored to the District by reason of a change in the route of that road from the Republican to the Smoky Hill Fork. This restores all the odd sections of land in the District, but the bulk of it lies mainly in the Valley of the Republican and is said to be the finest land anywhere in Nebraska. Its many advantages has made it much desired, and we have heard hundreds, who had prospected over the entire Territory and Kansas, regret exceedingly that it was bound up by this railroad. Of this incobus it is now relieved, and a majority of it is now open for homestead settlement, private entry or private sale. The extreme western portion, not yet having been offered at public sale, is not subject to homestead or sale. This is a sure chance now at one of the best bodies of land in the West, which must in time become very wealthy and populous.

Petitions calling for an impeachment of the President are in circulation in Ohio.

From the Omaha Republican of the 23d, we learn of a terrible combination of crimes committed in that city about 1 o'clock last Friday morning. About that time the store of Wm. R. King & Co., corner of Farham and 13th streets, was discovered on fire. The front door was locked, and the police broke it open to get at the fire. O. P. Baker, the porter, who slept in the store with G. D. Higgins, a clerk, appeared outside near the door. After the fire was extinguished the full crime was discovered. G. D. Higgins was found terribly butchered and dead. He had been killed with a hatchet or ax, and was hacked about the head in a shocking manner. The safe was found open and robbed of about fifteen hundred dollars, books and other papers in it were undisturbed. The loss, irrespective of the robbery, will be near $4,000, covered by insurance.

The porter has been arrested upon suspicion of having committed this triple crime of robbery, arson and murder. His story is that he was first awakened by the cracking of the fire, and immediately sprang out of bed, put on some of his clothes, and was going down the cellar stairs when he ran against somebody who shot him through the arm, he then turned and made his escape out at the back door.

This terrible crime has cast a gloom over that community. Prussia and Russia have entered into an alliance offensive and defensive. England, France and Austria are very uneasy over this and may form a combination. The Eastern question—which the Crimean war left only half settled—is being revived. There is a war cloud hovering over Europe.

War is freely discussed in Washington. The Administration will insist on England's paying the Alabama claims; and England orders the border defenses of Canada strengthened because of its present dubious relations with this country. Gen. Sherman and our Minister to the Liberals have gone to Mexico. Maximilian attempted to leave Mexico, but is reported to have been arrested by the French General Bazaine and compelled to publicly abdicate in his favor. It is apprehended that France will demand of the United States security for the debt for which the war was ostensibly waged, which will not be given. France must retire from this continent bootless and hatless. Troops are concentrating on the Rio Grand. A foreign war it is hoped at Washington will burn the smell of brimstone from off the Administration.

Washington dispatches say the President will make concessions to Congress, that is, make no more removals for opinions sake! This is rich when we consider that those removals now made amount to nothing unless confirmed by the Senate! The sincerity of the old hypocrite is plainly shown in the fact that during the four days previous to the 22d over one hundred and thirty postmasters were removed, all of that class which do not require confirmation by the Senate!

Says Andy to Congress: "My dear fellows, just let me do as I please always and you can do as you please afterwards."

From the Omaha Republican, of the 23d, we learn that the Western Stage Company have put on the west side of the river route between this city and St. Joseph, a line of four horse post coaches in opposition to the Kansas and Nebraska Stage Company Line. "This is a good thing. The old line, though recently established, has already assumed the arrogance of a monopoly. We have heard several complaints from below and here, and are satisfied that the new line will meet with a hearty welcome from the traveling public."

The Railroad Packet Line from St. Joseph to Omaha has laid up for the season.

Many prominent Democratic journals are endorsing the Chicago Times position on negro suffrage. The fact is the Democratic ship having so long sailed "around the circle" of ignorance and prejudice, called conservatism, is now a useless vessel against the iron-clad universal freedom ship Radical, and the crew are deserting in a terrible panic. Even the rats in this section are swimming to the solid ground of "universal suffrage."

Negotiations are now pending between the Pope and the Patriarch of Constantinople for the union of the Greek and Catholic churches.

On Saturday night last the store of A. Heffy, in Nebraska City, was broken into and robbed of fifteen hundred dollars.

There are already ten Congressional contests on this Fall's elections. This number would be less did not Congress pay mileage and expenses to the loser.

Castor Beans will do well in almost any soil that will produce good wheat or corn, but a dry sandy loam is preferable. Prepare the ground the same as for corn. A good fall plowing, then spring cross plowing and harrowing pays best. If the land is inclined to be wet, the ground should be left with a dead furrow to every twenty feet for drainage.

The ground should be laid off in rows five feet each way, leaving to every sixth row one wide enough to admit of a team passing through to gather the beans as they ripen. The seed should be soaked in hot water—not boiling—twenty-four hours previous to planting, the hot water to be only once applied and allowed to cool. This assists them to germinate early. As the cut-worm sometimes destroys many of the young plants, many farmers plant a proportion of dry seed, so that in case the first crop is destroyed by the worm the dry seed coming later will be germinating, and save the necessity of re-planting. The seed should be planted as soon as all danger of frost is passed, as they are as tender to frost as the common bean. In this section it would not be safe to plant until after the first of May. A half bushel will plant eight or ten acres, giving from eight to ten seeds to the hill, which is about the number which should be planted.

Its culture consists mainly in keeping down the weeds and keeping the soil dry and loose. To do this it should be several times plowed over with a cultivator or small plow both ways. It is also well to use the hoe upon weeds which cannot be reached with the plow. Thorough culture is necessary to a good crop. After the plants are a foot high they should be thinned out to not more than two in a hill, and many farmers leave but one. When the plant is two feet high it may be safely left to itself, as it grows very fast and thrifty.

The beans begin to ripen in August, and ripen gradually from that time until frost. The pods must be gathered from time to time as soon as they begin to turn brown, or else the beans pop out on the ground. This can be done by driving in the wide rows with a wagon and cutting off those which are beginning to turn, repeating this every third or fourth day as they seem to ripen.

A space of ground is then cleared on a south hill side, just slanting enough to get the full heat of the sun; this should be rolled down hard as possible and wide boards placed on their edge around the plot cleared to prevent the beans popping outside the clearing. Here the pods are placed, the heat of the sun drying the pods the beans pop out, are then gathered, sacked and are ready for market. The pods should be turned occasionally, the beans should be guarded against rain as it blackens and to some extent damages them.

The yield averages from fifteen to twenty bushels to the acre. We are not advised as to the present price, but the scarcity can be estimated from the fact that last Spring we wrote for a friend to Plant & Bro., St. Louis, to obtain seed and the reply was there none in that market, that the last sale they had made was at $6.50 per bushel and at that they could not fill our bill before planting time.

For the past three years they have ranged from $2.00 to $6.00 per bushel.

It is one of the most fertilizing crops that can be planted, eastern farmers estimate this benefit at several dollars per acre. Another great advantage in Nebraska would be—and this fact has been demonstrated in Illinois and other prairie countries—the driving away of that greatest of pests, to the prairie farmer, the Gopher. This in itself would seem to us a great inducement to plant a small patch in or around an orchard wherein Gophers delight to work. The crop we believe will pay in many respects.

A Response to the Donatist Party who visited the writer on the 22d of November, A. D. 1886:

My Dear Friends—In writing this response, I not only do myself a real pleasure but discharge, in some measure, at least, by this acknowledgment, a debt of gratitude I owe. Your presents and the manner in which they were bestowed will never be forgotten while memory serves me. I regret that it is not in my power to employ language that would express fully how much I appreciate your kindness. Were I to write until my pen fell from my hand, it would be to no purpose.

"O, how shall I with equal warmth, The gratitude declare, That glows within my ravished heart."

Let none say in the future that the citizens of Brownville and vicinity are not sociable, kind and benevolent! But what shall I now render to you all for these benefits? I have, I confess, scarcely anything within my gift. If I could transmit to you the garment of salvation I should indeed be half so fully as you received it from the Author of Salvation. This is a gift which is enhanced by the dignity of the giver, and He has therefore reserved it to himself to bestow. This gift, however, will be yours in the same way that your gifts became mine, for He requires that you should ask in order to receive it and, has only promised His Holy Spirit to him that asketh.

But, my dear friends, this garment, I have no doubt, a goodly number of you have, and it shall be my constant prayer to God that the rest may obtain it. I thank God, and surely I ought to bless His name that He does not require me to be willing to be lost myself, or that this should be the end of any whom He has put under my care.

Under the Lord, whom I serve, reward you all with a reward multiplied as much beyond the recompense promise to a cup of cold water as your substantial gifts exceeds that in value. May the hearer of prayer realize to you my heart's desire, and fill you all with all the fullness of His holy love.

N. B.—I will preach a discourse at McPherson's Hall on the 2d Sabbath in December, at 7 o'clock, P. M. Theme: "Love one another." You will all remember a card that accompanied certain articles bearing this inscription.

M. F. WILLIAMS.
 Nasby gets off some pretty sharp things, often dressing up a subject in the most ludicrous and most truthful style. He says:

"I attribute the decline of Democracy to the bleaching" out of the African, and that's why I oppose amalgamation. You can't have a mulattoer only half as bad as you kin a full-blood, and it will be observed that the intensity of Democracy has decreased precisely in proportion to the scarcity of pure blacks. Thus Democracy is committing suicide—it has bin the means of its own destruction."

The report that Gov. Wells intends to reconvene the Louisiana Convention of 1864 is not improbable, as its members are desirous that its legality should be tested, not by a Rebel mob but by the Courts. If the Convention should assemble we shall wait with anxiety Mr. Johnson's course, and it is to be earnestly hoped that he will not again permit the massacre of its members and friends.

—N. Y. Tribune.

Of our admission as a State the Chicago Republican says:

"It is now pretty thoroughly understood among leading Republicans that the opposition heretofore made to the admission of Nebraska, as a State, on account of the right of suffrage being restricted by its Constitution, and of its alleged deficiency in population, will be withdrawn on the re-assembling of Congress, and that the new State will be promptly admitted. The rapidity with which the Union Pacific railroad and its connections are being completed, and the vast tide of immigration now pouring into Nebraska, render the entire region of too great importance to remain longer in a Territorial condition."
