the school system; such other statements as he may deem expedient to communicate relating to his office and popular education.

9th. He shall cause his report to be printed by the State printer and shall deliver at the commencement of each regular session of the legislature 200 copies thereof to the Senate and 780 copies to the House of Representatives, and transmit one copy to each district director in the State.

10th. He shall annually upon the 1st Monday in October, with the Auditor and Treasurer, make and apportionment of the funds which were in the Treasury upon that day or the 1st day of October next preceding and which are applicable to the support of schools, which apportionment shall be based upon the enumeration of youth reported to the State Superintendent by the county superintendents.

11th. He shall have power to require of county superintendents, and district officers and teachers, copies of all reports by them required to be made, and to demand from all subordinate school officers such information as may be necessary to the conduct of his department.

Sec. 5. The superintendent of Public Instruction shall receive for his services the sum of eighteen hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly upon the warrant of the Auditor, from the general fund of the State, and he shall be allowed compensation for all necessary expenses for clerk hire and traveling, such expenses not however, to exceed seven hundred and fifty dollars in any one year.

Sec. 6. The office of Commissioner of Common Schools, as now held by law by the Auditor, is hereby abolished from the date of the filing of the official bond of the Superintent of Public Instruction appointed under this act; and the present Auditor is hereby required and directed to turn over to the Superintendent herein provided for within ten days after his appointment all books, records, blanks and papers appertaining to the office of Commissioner of Common schools.

Sec. 7. For the purpose of defraying the expenses of the State Convention of county superintendents provided for in the first numbered paragraph of section four herein, the State Superintendent shall draw upon the general fund through the State Auditor for a sum sufficient to pay the mileage at 10 cents per mile going and returning, and per diem for each Superintendent in actual attendance not exceeding three dollars per day for no longer session than four days, and, Provided, That the whole sum thus required shall not exceed nine hundred dollars in any one year.

Sec. 8. This act shall be in force and take effect from and after its passage.

Nemaha County Agricultural Fair

The Board of Directors of the Nemaha County Agricultural Society are hereby notified to meet at the County Clerk's Office in Brownville, on Tuesday, June 25th, at 2 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of making all the necessary arrangements for holding a County Fair this fall.

R. W. FURNAS,
Chairman.

The M. & M. A. L. R. R. Survey.

Petitions are now in circulation in this county requesting the Commissioners to appropriate $1,000 to continue the preliminary survey of the above named road from Brownville through Ft. Kearney to a Pacific connection.

We simply call attention to this matter to urge the necessity for promptness, not presuming that a matter of such importance to this county needs argument to induce a general acquiesence in the payment by the county of the expenses of the preliminary survey.

The surveyors will be to the Missouri River by the Middle of July and will then be ready to start West, by that time the means must be ready.

From our Quincy exchanges we learn that preparations are now being made to commence work on this road, and that sufficient backing has already been secured to make this road sure.

It now depends mainly upon Nemaha county and the counties west whether this road shall be pushed on to a Pacific connection, or whether it shall come to the Missouri river and wait years before it is run west.

Fate is in your grasp now, prompt action now will secure success. Sign the petition immediately!

That Capitol.

We republish, to-day, the bill for the removal of the Capitol, as amended and passed, the amendments being in italic.

There is nothing remarkable in the bill if we except its great confidence in human nature. As we see it, but 620 acres of the people's land can be squandered, and, considering the spite which this body had at Omaha for last winter's embraglio—which was led on by Nebraska City Harvey—and considering the glorious chance for revenge, it may be considered cheap. It is also startling because it was thought we had the dispassionate wisdom of the State assembled, yet the rottenness of passion exhibited in this body is more than the salt of Lancaster county can ever save. They have thrown to speculators all the benefits that might have accrued from first locating as State lands the vacant lands in the counties named and then removing the Capitol, and have placed beyond their reach the ability to benefit the State lands by the location of the buildings connected therewith.

We were and are in favor of a removal, yet the time, the manner and the place chosen are sufficient to convince any man, not blinded by passion or local prejudice, that this movement can result in no benefit to the State. We had a capitol as centrally as the site now selected, which is nine townships from our southern boundary and twenty-three from the northern, and seven townships from our eastern boundary and twenty-two from our western; that is, at the Salt Bason, and the limits prescribed cannot miss this far. The manner of building the buildings simply makes Nebraska—through its chief officers—a town speculating company backed by a "little brief authority" and not by the people. Otoe—with its two-third copperhead majority—and Cass counties will certainly sustain the movement, yet the former will be the first to make political capital by condemning the Radical paws that raked out their nicely roasted peanuts; to Nemaha and Richardson it can be no earthly benefit it being so near the river, to Pawnee and Johnson it is a positive detriment by drawing emigration north of them, and to our western frontier it will be a drawback as it will build up an eastern opposition to their progress.

We said one year ago that with the munificent donations received State organization would be a benefit, yet, we fear—from present appearances—that we shall have to move to another Territory to make a fair experiment. This movement, and the tardyness in taking advantage, for the State, of the public lands, is certainly no reflex of the wishes of the Republican party, though that party has the majority in the Legislature, yet, all must admit that much good legislation has eminated from that body.

The Geological Survey—An Explanation Needed.

We call the attention of our readers to the circular of Prof. Hayden, Director of Geological Survey of Nebraska, and reiterate the necessity of collecting all specimens that may cast light on the work he has in hand. All such may be left at the Banking House of J. L. Carson, in this city, with the assurance that they will be shown to the Professor on his arrival here.

An explanation is needed with regard to the amount Prof. Hayden says is appropriated for the Survey—$5,000. Mr. Hitchcock, by letter from Washington dated March 3d, informed us that Congress had on the 2d, appropriated the unexpended balance of $32,600 due the Territory of Nebraska for a Geological Survey of Nebraska. This, at that time, seemed sufficient for the purpose, yet now, from some cause or other, it has dwindled down to $5,000. There is no question but that Prof. Hayden is correct according to instructions. "There's something rotten in Denmark." Where are the other $27,600? By whose authority is it withheld? We ask the attention of our Congressional Delegation to this matter; its importance demands immediate attention, as this Survey had better not be made at all than imperfectly or partially.

Judge O. P. Mason.

The Governor, on the 15th, sent to the Senate a message stating "that he had approved an act to declare the cases in which offices shall be deemed vacant, and to provide for filling the vacancies therein, and that he had filled the vacancy in the Chief Justiceship of the State caused by the death of the Hon. W. A. Little, by the appointment of the Hon. O. P. Mason to the vacancy."

This appointment is for the unexpired term, which was for six years from the admission of Nebraska.

As a lawyer he is conceeded to have no superior, and as Chief Justice will lose none of the laurels gained at the bar.—His appointment was chiefly at the instance of the profession and gives great satisfaction in this region. He is assigned to this Judicial District, and will hold Courts as follows, having opened Court in Nebraska City last Monday:

In Richardson county, on the first Monday in March and September.

In Nemaha, second Monday in March and September.

In Otoe, third Monday in March, June, September and December.

In Johnson, on the first Monday in May.

In Pawnee, second Monday in May.

In Gage, first Monday in October.

Senator Tipton left his home in this city last Tuesday for Washington, to attend the July Session of Congress if it is held. We learn that Mrs. Tipton also goes to pay a visit to her relatives in Indiana. May comfort and freedom from accident characterize their journey.

To the People of Nebraska.

Having been appointed by the Commissioners of the General Land Office to take charge of the geological survey of Nebraska, in accordance with a law passed by Congress, dated March 2d, 1867, I take this opportunity to ask the sympathy and hearty co-operation of the citizens of the State. The appropriation is very limited—only $5,000—and the time restricted to one year. It is my wish, however, to secure as much information as possible in that length of time, with the hope that further appropriations will be made in the coming year for full completion of the survey.

To show the importance which the Commissioner attaches to results of the survey, and the range of topics which he wishes to have investigated, I have quoted the following paragraphs from his letter of instructions to me. It will be seen by a glance how broad and comprehensive are his plans, and all that is needed is a sufficient sum of money to carry them out.

"It will be your duty to proceed, as soon as necessary arrangements can be made, to the sphere of your operations in the geological survey of Nebraska, with the view to ascertain the order of succession, arrangement, relative position, depth and comparative thickness of the several strata, and geological formations in the State; to search for and examine all the beds, veins and other deposits of ores, coals, clays, marls, peats, and such other mineral substances as well as the fossil remains of the various formations: and to obtain chemical analyses of such of these substances and of the different varieties of soil, as it may deemed desirable to ascertain the elementary constituents thereof. You will also determine, by careful barometric observation, the relative elevations and depressions of the different parts of the State of Nebraska.

It shall likewise be your duty to procure and prepare in the field of your explorations, ample collections in Geology, Mineralogy and Paleousology, to illustrate the notes taken in the field, and transmit them to this office to be embodied in its next annual report of Surveying Operations.

In order to enable this office to present to Congress the results of the Geological Survey, you are required to make a preliminary report of the progress of your labors, accompanied by such maps, sections and drawings as you may consider requisite to illustrate the said report, so that it may reach here on or before the first of October next. Your final report, which you will render under the appropriation, shall embody the results of the entire survey and shall be accompanied by a Geological map of Nebraska, with carefully prepared sections, diagrams, &c., showing, by different colors and other marks and characters, the principal locations and geological range of the various geological formations, to the extent explored, and by drawings and descriptions of the characteristic fossil remains of the different groups of strata.

It is desirable that the portion of Nebraska south of the Platte be examined first, owing to the fact of its being occupied by the limestones of the true coal measures. You will institute a careful search for the localities, depth and extent of that most valuable mineral.

It will also be important to extend the explorations and examinations along the Missouri river to Sioux City, as there is reported to be a bed of coal out-cropping from rocks of the chalk formation near the Omaha Reserve now being surveyed into legal sub-divisions for the accomodation of the Omaha and Winnebago Indians.

As the more settled portions of the State are upon the surveyed lands, it is desirable that your explorations be directed to such regions of the country, looking to the determination and location, as well as the extent of natural resources in coal, metallic ores, hydraulic and common limestones, fire clays, free stone, flagstone, marbles, &c., that properly belong to the various formations, and which may be of immediate use to the people of Nebraska.

The State of Nebraska being chiefly a farming country, your attention is invited to the examination of its soils and subsoils, and description of their adaptability to particular crops, and the best methods of preserving and increasing their fertility, should engage your consideration; and as so large a portion of Nebraska is deficient in timber, the introduction of suitable forest trees should be the subject of your examination; and such suggestions as from the nature of the native soil will be found best calculated to promote the growth of timber."

In order, therefore, that as much information of practical value may be obtained as possible, I earnestly solicit the correspondence of the citizens of the State on the various subjects embraced in the instructions of the Commissioner, or upon any topics which have for their object the development of the resources of the country.

I would also ask that such letters of inquiry as I may publish from time to time may be copied in all the newspapers of the State.

F. V. HAYDEN.
Director of Geo. Sur. of Neb.
Omaha City, June 8th, 1867.

A BILL

For an act to provide for the location of the Seat of Government of the State of Nebraska and for the erection of Public Buildings thereat.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska, That the Governor, the Secretary of State and the Auditor be and they are hereby appointed Commissioners for the purpose of locating the Seat of Government and the Public Buildings of Nebraska.

Sec. 2. Said Commissioners shall before entering upon the discharge of their duties enter into bonds in the sum of sixty thousand dollars each, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, payable to the State of Nebraska, and conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties under this Act, to fully account for all monies that may come into their hands as such Commissioners, and they shall also take and subscribe an oath to fully, faithfully and impartially carry out the provisions of this act, which said oath shall be endorsed on their bond and the same shall be filed in the office of the State Treasurer. If any of the Commissioners herein appointed fail to qualify as provided in this section, within ten days after the passage of this Act, the remaining two shall fill the vacancy by appointment, and the person so appointed shall qualify in the manner provided in this Act.

Sec. 3. On or before the 15th day of July, a. d., 1867, the Commissioners, or a majority of them, shall upon actual view select from the lands belonging to the State within the following limits, to-wit: The county of Seward, the South half of the Counties of Butler and Saunders, and that portion of the County of Lancaster, lying North of the South line of Township Nine, a suitable site of not less than 630 acres lying in one body for a town, due regard being had to its accessibility from all portions of the State and its general fitness for a Capitol, they shall then appoint a suitable person as surveyor and such other assistants as may be necessary, who shall take an subscribe an oath similar to the one taken by the Commissioners, they shall immediately survey, lay off and stake out the said tract of land into lots, blocks, streets and alley and public squares or reservations for public buildings which said town when so layed out and surveyed shall be named and known as "Lincoln City," and the same is hereby declared to be the permanent seat of Government of the State of Nebraska at which the public offices of the State shall be kept and at which all of the sessions of the Legislature shall hereafter be held.

Sec. 4. After said land shall have been properly surveyed, staked off and laid out three accurate plats of the same shall be made showing the blocks, lots, streets, alleys, parks, squares and reservations for public buildings, one of which shall be recorded in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which such site is situated and by him entered in the proper deed book, one of said plats shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, and the third shall be retained by the Commissioners.

The said Commissioners shall fix a minimum price upon the lots on each alternate block not reserved for the erection of the State, County and Municipal buildings, or for public uses, which said price shall be marked upon each lot on said plats.

Sec. 5. The said Commissioners shall then advertise in six newspapers published within the State, that they will, upon a day to be therein named and not less ten days nor more than thirty days after date of the notice, offer, or cause to be offered for sale to the highest and best bidder, at public sale, each lot in the alternate blocks not reserved as aforesaid within said "Lincoln City." Said sale shall be held first at said Lincoln City, and shall be opened from day to day at 10 o'clock a. m., and kept open at least for five successive days after the expiration of five days or more. If announced for one day previous to the close of the sale it shall be adjourned to be opened five days thereafter at the Court House in Nebraska City, and shall be held there upon five consecutive days, and the said sale shall then be adjourned to be opened for five days thereafter at the city of Omaha. If deemed expedient by the commissioners, or a majority of them, they may, after the adjournment of the sale at Omaha, open such public sale in the cities of Plattsmouth and Brownville, or such other place or places within or without the State as they may see proper after giving due public notice thereof. And at said sales no lots shall be sold for any sum less than the minimum price marked upon the plat above provided for, nor upon any other terms than for cash in hand.

Sec. 6. Every purchaser of lots shall deposit the purchase money therefor with the commissioners, who shall give a receipt for said money, which receipt shall specify the amount of money and the number of the lot and block for which the money was paid, and which receipt, upon its presentation to the Secretary of State, shall entitle the person named therein to a title in fee simple absolute from the State of Nebraska to the real estate named in the receipt; which conveyance shall be executed by the Governor and attested by the Secretary of State, who shall file and keep all receipts thus presented.

Sec. 7. All monies received by the commissioners for the sale of lots shall be deposited by them in the State Treasury, and said monies shall be held by the Treasurer as a "State Building Fund," and be kept by him separate from other funds and be separately accounted for.

Sec. 8. All expenses incurred by the commissioners for a surveyor, at not exceeding five dollars per day, and four assistants, at not exceeding two dollars and fifty cents per day, each, with necessary bills for forage and team hire, advertising, stationery and other necessary expenses, shall be paid by the Auditor by his warrant upon the State Building Fund, upon the certificate of the said commissioners; and the commissioners shall be paid for their services the sum of five dollars for each and every day actually employed, by the warrant of the Auditor upon the State Building Fund, and they shall be allowed for contingent expenses, further sums not exceeding five hundred dollars in any one year.

Sec. 9. Immediately after the sale of lots above provided for, the commissioners shall issue a notice to architects asking for plans and specifications for a building, the foundation of which shall be of stone and the superstructure of stone or brick, which shall be suitable for the executive officers and the assembly of the two Houses of the Legislature, which said building may be designed as a portion of a larger edifice and shall not exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars.

Sec. 10. The commissioners shall from the plans presented adopt the one best adapted to the wants of the State, and shall appoint the architect of the design accepted the "Superintendent" of its construction, who shall be paid not exceeding five per cent on the contract price for his services. The Superintendent shall thereupon advertise in at least four newspapers published in the State for three months, for sealed proposals for the erection of said building according to the plan and specifications to be furnished by him and approved by the commissioners.

The contract shall be let to the lowest and best bidder, and the contractor enter into sufficient bond, at not less than double the contract price, with sureties to be approved by the Commissioner, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract. The Commissioners shall reserve the right to reject any and all bids if in their judgement they are too high, and may again proceed to advertise for proposals in the manner provided in this act. The Commissioners shall, from time to time, upon the requisitions of the Superintendent, draw through the Auditor of State warrants upon the State Treasurer for the amounts necessary to carry on the construction of the Capitol, which said warrants shall be paid out of the State Building Fund. The Capitol shall be located as near as possible in the centre of the reservation selected by the Commissioners in the town of Lincoln City, and shall be completed as soon as practicable, A. D., 1868.

Sec. 11. The State University and the State Agricultural College shall be united as one educational institution, and shall be located upon a reservation selected by said Commissioners in said Lincoln City, and the necessary buildings shall be erected thereon as soon as funds can be secured by the sale of lands donated to the State for that purpose or from other sources.

Sec. 12. The Penitentiary of the State shall be located upon a reservation selected by the said Commissioners in the said Lincoln City, or upon lands belonging to the State, and adjacent to said town of Lincoln City, and the necessary buildings shall be erected so soon as funds can be secured.

Sec. 13. As soon as the capitol building provided for in this act is erected and completed, it shall be the duty of the Governor to issue his proclamation announcing said fact and thereupon it shall be the duty of all State officers whose offices are properly kept at the Capital, to remove in three months their several offices, together with the public property, archives, records, books and papers to said "Lincoln City," and all sessions of the Legislature shall thereafter be convened at the same place.

Sec. 14. The said Commissioners shall make a full and complete report to the next Legislature of all their doings; specifying in whom, for what service, or material, and the amount paid to each person; the number of lots sold, to whom for what amount; to whom and for what amount the contract or contracts were let; together with a copy of all such contracts. And said Commissioners and their sureties shall be held responsible for all their acts until the Legislature shall order the said bonds to be delivered up to the said Commissioners.

Sec. 15. All acts and parts of acts in any manner inconsistent herewith or repugnant thereto are hereby repealed.

Sec. 16. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.
