The First Snow of the season, in these parts, fell last Thursday afternoon, Nov. 28th, and kept drizzling until night, yet hardly succeeded in whitening the ground. It was nearly a failure.

The Weather, as noticed last week, was very pleasant and continued so until Thursday night, when it was just about as cold as most winter nights. Friday and Saturday were cold, on Saturday the wind changed to the south, moderating considerably towards night. Sunday was a very pleasant day. Monday and Tuesday cloudy, with a fair prospect for rain. The prospect didn't "pan." Wednesday was a clear, pleasant day, and today it is blowing dust into everybody's eyes.

A Brilliant Meteor.—About 9 o'clock, p. m., on the 27th, we saw the most brilliant Meteor we have ever witnessed. It appeared first about half way up the zenith northeast of here and descended nearly to the horizon in a northerly direction and burst into seemingly a thousand fragments. It was in view for at least ten seconds, making it light enough to see clearly very small objects.

A rather queer character, name unknown to us, having from New York, has recently stopped in this city. He does nothing but pick up old shoes, buttons, pins and old vittals. He wears rings in his ears and sometimes a large brass ring in his nose. He has just finished a residence cave in the bluffs along the river. Altogether he is a queer, dirty, lazy character, half-witted and harmless.

Births.—We have just learned of a pleasant little "episode" in the affairs of one of the wealthiest farmers on the bottom opposite this city. Although married for thirty years he was never blessed with a mail "responsibility." This happened last week, after a nine years cessation of hostilities, and in the general jubilation that ensued the old ladies present burned his old hat, which caused him to visit one of our stores early next morning, when the clerk, by way of ascertaining his wants, remarked: "Well, what is it, George?" "Oh, it's a boy, it's a boy," exclaimed George in great glee, and with evident satisfaction received the congratulations on the event.

Pay Up.—All persons indebted to the late firm of Atkinson & Co., either by note or account, will save costs by paying up at once. We will take Corn, Wheat, Oats, Rye, Barley, Potatoes, or the money, and will allow the highest market price for the produce. ATKINSON & CO.

UNITED STATES BRASS AND CLOCK COMPANY, AUSTIN, ILLINOIS.

WESTERN MANUFACTURERS.

As an instance of Western energy in a new direction, we would call attention to the above Company. Within the last year they have erected, on the then unbroken prairie, four miles west of Chicago, a flourishing and tasteful New England village of fifty houses, a magnificent factory, employing 150 hands, turning out 1000 clocks per week. The Company, like General Grant, one of its stockholders, have thought it best to fight out the success of Western manufacturers against Eastern wealth and monopoly "on this line."

The great Northwest cannot always send her rich products a thousand miles and pay tribute to the East on her manufactured goods. Hitherto the Eastern States have grown rich in receiving our products at low rates and sending us high priced fabrics therefor. Every man, woman and child of Connecticut has earned $1.50 to $5.00 cents of this same population of Illinois, and so it must be till the West manufactures her own goods, and enterprises like this which takes our raw material (much cheaper here than east) and produces a line of goods which find their principal market in the west should receive our hearty support. The money paid them enriches and builds up the west.

This new Company makes from Western materials immense quantities of German silver and sheet brass (the only goods of the kind manufactured west of Connecticut,) and fifty designs of clocks, beautifully finished, many of them new, and especially suited to the Western market. Their regulators, as well as common clocks, are pronounced by jewelers and railroad men to be more reliable time-keepers than any in the market. There is no reason why they should be otherwise, as all their machinery is new and of the most approved designs. It don't do clocks any good to be tumbled about a thousand miles up the Hudson river, over the Erie canal and around the lakes, as most of the clocks brought to Chicago are—and we would recommend any house-keeper wishing a cheap and reliable and pretty clock to call for one of the United States Clock Company's of Chicago; and every Jeweler who would consult the interest of his patrons, and has the welfare of the West at heart, to send to their General Wholesale Agents, Giles Bro & Co., the well known jeweler of Chicago, for a catalogue.

Personal.—Rev. J. R. Hoag and Mr. Franklin Blackman called during the past week. They had just returned from a trip west locating Government land in Gage county and investing in Lincoln. Mr. Blackman, a tourist, having traveled over Europe and the East, and was most favorably impressed with the richness of our soil and our pleasant climate. They started East on Tuesday. Dr. McCasland, of Pawnee City, called last Tuesday. We are pleased to learn from him of the rapid growth of Pawnee City, which has nearly doubled its population this season, and of the County, which is being rapidly settled up. The Dr. resumes the practice of medicine.

Dr. L. Rice and Daniel Fraker, from the staunch Republican town of St. Deroin called on Tuesday. Good crops and business brisk is the word down there.

Boots and Shoes.—Now that cold weather is approaching it behooves every one to see that their feet are provided with good, substantial Boots and Shoes. To provide for this want Messrs. Teare & Co., have laid in a very large and well selected stock, comprising all grades of Chicago Custom Made Men and Boys Boots and Shoes, which are now considered the best article manufactured. Also a large and complete assortment of Ladies', Misses and Children's Shoes from the best manufacturers in the United States. The plan of business with Teare & Co., is to sell a good article at reasonable rates, and thus build up a trade on merit and fair dealing. This, we are pleased to see they are accomplishing making new friends and customers every day.

European Connection for the Merchants Union Express.—In pursuance of an Agreement between the Merchants Union Express Company and The Morris European Express Company all packages received by the Agents of the former for Europe, the East or West Indies, Mexico and the Brazils, will be transferred for forwarding to destination to Morris European Express—while all packages received by Morris European Express for the Interior of the United States will be handed over to the Merchants Union Express Company.
