

PRIDE.
BY JOHN G. BAKE.
It is a curious fact as ever was known—That pride, like pigs of a certain brood, Will manage to live and thrive on food As poor as a pauper's pottage!

TEMPERANCE.
Mr. Editor:—Allow me to add a few lines to what has already been said through the columns of your paper.
I tried to call the attention of such as I supposed would stand ready, willing and able to engage in a cause in which the interests of our country are so deeply involved. The curse of intemperance—the sum of all villainies—exists among us. Our young men are exposed; some are already injured—I might say ruined; and the evil influence is spreading and reaching up into high places. I have given you, in a former article, a dozen or more quotations from Holy Writ, to show that neither God nor good men of old approved of selling or drinking wine or strong drink. I now propose giving a few extracts from what the great and good men of later days, both in Europe and America, say in condemnation of the practice: Mr. Wakely, an English Coroner, observed—"I have seen so much of the evils of gin drinking that I think we need a law to prevent the sale of the poison." Sir Mathew Hale, Chief Judge, at the close of twenty years' practice and close observation, says:—"If the murders, manslaughters, burglaries, robberies, riots, tumults, adulteries, for-nications, rapes, and other crimes, all summed up, four-fifths of them would be the result of the use of spirits and ale house meetings." Judge Shaw, of Dublin, declared that forty cases out of fifty that came before him were caused by intemperance. Judge Kane, of Philadelphia, said that eighty cases out of every hundred on which he had to award punishment, more or less, were the offspring of the liquor traffic.
A barrister who had conducted seven hundred civil bill cases, said that almost every case could be traced back to the saloon. Chief Justice Clark, of Glasgow, affirmed that four-fifths of the crime committed in that city, was caused by intemperance. The late Mr. Winters, of Newgate, said that ninety out of every hundred of the crimes committed by the prisoners under his care, were the effects of beer shop meetings. Doctor Doyle, Roman Catholic Bishop of Killdare, Ireland, says rash swearing, profanation of the Lord's day, blasphemies, poverty and nakedness, frauds, thefts, robberies, the seduction of women, the corruption of virtue, the utter ruin of families, may be traced to the liquor system. Out of 1061 cases of criminal prosecution, in the city of New York, 800 were caused by intemperance.

AGRICULTURAL JOKES.—The Ohio
Barren gets off the following:
Large horses are generally most admired by farmers; but farmers are most admired who pony up.
Prosperity is generally based on knowledge and industry; the swine will get most that know most.
Farmers are like fowls—gather will get full crops without industry.
Because a man who attends a flock of sheep is a shepherd, makes it no reason that a man who keeps cows should be a cow-herd.
We like to see a farmer increase the growth of useful plants and shrubs around his home, but do not like to see him use rails, poles and boards to propaga-te with.

Freezing the Brain.
The discovery that the brain of a living animal could be frozen and afterwards could recover, was made by Dr. James Arnott, who solidified the brain of a pigeon by exposing it to a freezing mixture. Here research stopped, because with an ordinary freezing mixture, it was not possible to act on the individual parts of the organ; but the importance of the discovery is not the less on that account.
It was a marvelous revealing. Think what it was! Here was a living organ of mind, a center of power, of all guiding power of the universe to which it was exposed. It took in light and form and color by the eye; it took the sound by the ear; sensation and substance by the touch, odor by the nostril and taste by the mouth. It gave out, in return or response, animal motion, expression—all else that demonstrates a living animal. With it the animal was an animal; without it, the animal was a mere vegetable.
And this organ, the very center and soul of the organism, was, by mere physical experiment, for a time made dead—all its powers ice-bound. And this organ, set free, received its functions back again, and as we know not by further observations, its functions are unimpaired. Surely, this was the discovery of a new world.—American Educational Journal.

THE APPETITE FOR TOBACCO DESTROYED!
Leave off Using that Poisonous Weed, Tobacco.
One box of DeWitt's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for tobacco in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be. If it fails in any case the money will be refunded. Holders have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that DeWitt's Preparation completely destroys the appetite for tobacco and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as before he commenced its use. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and organs after using De-Witt's Preparation, and through these upon the blood, through which the poison of tobacco from the system.
No more smoking, after using DeWitt's Preparation.

RECOMMENDATIONS.
The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession: [From C. A. Rogers, St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 10, 1882.]
I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for tenty years past, and for the last ten years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempt to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to smoke after it until I used DeWitt's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the Preparation.
