St. Joseph's School.
This school closed its spring term on the third of July, under the supervision of S. W. McGraw, its excellent teacher. The Doctor knows how to teach a school. He has an unusual degree of "familiarity" in his nature, which "Occasional" has well said is indispensable to success in any occupation, or in any position. A man may be firmly set in his own faith and opinions, and yet have respect for the opinions of others, and treat with courtesy and kindness those who differ with him.
