ADVERTISE

Awful Calamity.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 6.—There is great excitement here in consequence of the burning of a coal beaker at Avondale mine, Plymouth, about twenty miles south of this city. There are 201 men and boys in the mine, and the shaft, which is the only means of escape, is choked by forty feet of burning coal and rubbish. The ventillation is totally stopped, and there are great fears that some, if not all, will be suffocated.

SCRANTON, PA., September 6, 10 P. M.—The latest information from the Avondale mine states that the shaft was cleared and two men went down and penetrated sixty or seventy yards to a closed gangway door, which they could not force open. They found three dead mules outside the door, and sulphurous flames were pouring out through the door. No signs of life were discovered, and it is believed that they are all dead.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 6—10 P. M.—After the rubbish from the bottom of the shaft had been cleared away two men descended in a bucket and sent word up to send down a pick and shovel to clear the doors with. The bucket was brought up and two men started down with the tools. As they started the men at the bottom requested them to hurry, and on their reaching the bottom both were found dead. No hopes are entertained for the men in the shaft. All are supposed to have perished. The black damp is very bad here.

Dispatches just received from Avondale say that Thomas W. Williams, of Plymouth, and David Jones, of Grand Tunnel, who went down to make further investigations, were suffocated to death on a second attempt. Williams' dead body was brought out by David H. Davis and Benjamin Jones. Thomas Williams went down and dragged David Jones some distance to the foot of the shaft, when he was compelled to come up. John W. and Isaac Thomas then went down and brought up the body. All who attempted to go down are now out alive, except Williams and Jones. No further attempt will be made to go down until a small engine is rigged.

The loss by the burning of the Avondale mines is from $80,000 to $100,000, not counting the loss by the stoppage of mining. This mine had been involved in a strike for over three months, but had resumed work on last Tuesday and was producing 450 tons of coal per day. The works were built in 1867, and it will take from four to six months to rebuild them.

It will take until 5 A. M. to-morrow to get a small engine to work to drive a fan at the mouth of the shaft and force air through a canvas hose. All who have been down say it is very hot, and loud calls have failed to elicit an answer. The only hope for 202 men in the mine, is that they may have shut themselves in a remote part of the works, entirely away from the draft.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 8—At 5:15 o'clock A. M. four men were lowered to the shaft and were gone 35 minutes, and discovered dinner cans and cups. At 7-30 A. M. four more went down and were gone 30 minutes, and discovered the whole company of miners dead, in the east side of the plane. Preparations are being made to send six gangs of men each, and the bodies will be brought out as rapidly as possible. The foul air does not interfere to any great extent.

At 7:30 P. M., one of the gangs reported that they had been up the Plane, just beyond which a barrication was met, consisting of a car packed around with coal and clothing. This was cleared away, and proceeding a little further another bank was met nearly completed and constructed as the first. One man was found upon the outside, where he had been at work laying up the wall. All was completed save a small aparture sufficient to admit the passage of a human body, and it is inferred that he had just finished his tesk and was preparing to join his comrades on the opposite side by crawling back. This was removed, when the whole force of miners were found congregated and piled one upon another dead.

The first body exhumed was Wm. P. Ewell, of Plymouth. eyes both open and head turned aside. He had a son in the mine. Dan Jones, who lost his life in an effort to rescue his companions on Monday night, and Thomas Williams, who also sacrificed his life for the same object, are to be buried this afternoon.

Active preparations are making for the immediate removal of the bodies, which work will consume the greater part of the day, owing to the lack of facilities for hoisting. The condition of the mine is improving.

At 8:15 the Coroner of Plymouth, who is on the ground, has impanelled a jury of inquest, who will view the bodies as they are brought out.

Confession in the Camp.

Gen. Rosecrans has shown little regard to the Democratic party, for in addition to a declination of the nomination for the Governorship of Ohio, we find him uttering the following decidedly anti-Democratic sentiments.

No local declaration inviting a popular pre-judgement of any legal question about the terms of payment of the national bouds should impair the priceless fabric of the public credit at a time when it is important to create the speediest means of ridding the country of these enormous oppressions but every Democrat platform should tend to rise higher and higher the public credit, and to satisfy the people of Europe that the Democratic is the last party in the United States that proposes to whine or act reluctlently about paying the public debt, even though present holders should have brought it below its fair value.

C. B. & Q. RBILROAD.

A New $25,000 to be Erected Immediately.

We understand from the Quincy Whig that the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, whose freight house was burned last week, have promptly decided to build a new freight depot at once, and the work will be commenced in a few days with a view to its completion the present season. The site of the building has not yet been determined upon, but it will pretty certainly be on Front street, at the foot of Spring near the old one. It will be a large and substantial structure of brick, with slate roof, and is intended to be entirely fire proof. The dimensions will be 50 feet in width, by at least 300 (and perhaps 400) in length, and the cost is estimated at $25,000. Plans and specifications have been under consideration, but the details have not been finally agreed upon.

REGISTRAR'S NOTICE.

NOTIE is hereby given to all persons interested, to appear before the undersigned, Registrar of Voters in Brownville Precinct, in Nemaha County, Nebraska, at his office in Brownvile, between the haurs of 9 o'clock A. M. and 5 oclock P. M., on Monday the 4th and Tuesday the 5th days of October next, to correct any omission or other errors in the following list of Voters of said precinct, at which time the said list will be corrected and finally closed.

The consolidation of the Burlington & South-western and Nemaha Valley Railroads, is a sure harbinger of immediate prosperity for the citizens of Southern Nebraska.

President Tracy, of the Burlington Road, authorizes us to state that the consolidation has been effected, and his company will share the franchises of the Nemaha Nalley Road and push both through without delay.

The Burlington Road will be constructed on a straight line from Burlington to Rulo, where it will form a junction with the Trunk Road, and then in all probability will proceed to Pawnee City, or very near it.

Immediate action on the part of our railroad men will secure the State franchise and county donations, and there is no doubt but what the requisite work will be done prior to the 14th of February, 1870, to claim the State and county aid.—Omaha Republican.

The County Court in Nodaway county has ordered a special election for the adoption or rejection of a proposition to subscribe $200,000 to the Quincy, Missouri and Pacific Railroad Company. The election will be held on the 2d of October, and the order of the Court provides that in case two-thirds of the qualified voters of the county assent to the subscription, then the bonds shall be issued in case the other counties, towns, townships, and private individuals in the State of Missouri, along the proposed route named in the articles of association of said company, shall in good faith subscribe to the capital stock of the road the sum of fourteen hundred thousand dollars within twelve months from October 2d.—St. Joe Herald.

The Sacramento Record, of Sept. 1st, in speaking of Senator Thayer's speech in that city, says:

The Republican meeting last evening, in front of the Capitol Hotel, was a very large and enthusiastic one—much larger than the Democratic meeting on Second street. Able and convincing speeches were made by Senators Nye, of Nevada, and Thayer, of Nebraska. This was the latter gentleman's first address before a California audience, and he interested them in a speech which was remarkable for its power, and noble sentiments of justice and human freedom. He told his listeners many new truths, and gave a fitting close to the great contest of oratory in this campaign on the Republican side.

Our dispatches furnish further particulars of the terrible accident which occurred at the coal mines of Scranton, Pa. Death of Senator Fessenden.

The Hon. William Pitt Fessenden, United States Senator from the State of Maine, died at Portland yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, after an illness of six or seven days.

Senator Fessenden was one of the ablest men in the Senate of the United States, and has long been connected with public affairs, having occupied many positions of trust and honor in the State of his adoption, as well as in the councils of the nation and in the Cabinet.

He was the son of Hon. Samuel Fessenden, and was born in Boscawen, New Hampshire, October 18, 1806. He was, therefore, nearly sixty-three years of age at the time of his decease. He graduated at Bowdoin College in 1823; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1827. He removed to Bridgeton, Cumberland county, Maine, on his admission to the bar, and, in 1828, took up his residence in Portland, where he continued to reside up to the time of his death. In 1831, he was elected to the State Legislature, and again in 1839. In 1840 he was elected to Congress, in the memoriable Harrison campaign. He served but one term in the House, declining the nomination for re-election in 1842. In 1854 he was elected to the U. S. Senate, and has served as a member of that body, (with the exception of a brief period during which he ocbupied the position of Secretary of the Treasury in Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet) from that time until the present.

Mr. Fessenden seperated himself from the great body of the Republican party on the question of the Impeachment and conviction of Andrew Johnson, for which he has been severely criticised both at home and abroad. His action in the matter created such a prejudice against him in his own State that it is questionable whether he could have been re-elected to the Senate, notwithstand his acknowledged ability. The term for which he was last chosen would have expired March 4, 1870, and an exciting contest was already in progress as to his successor. But death, the great arbiter of mortal events, has suddenly terminated that contest, so far as his name was connected with it.

It is reported that Hon. James W. Grimes, of Iowa, now in Europe, has written a letter resigning his seat in the U. S. Senate, and that the state of his health will not permit him to return to this country until next year.

OUR CHICAGO LETTER.

From our Special Correspondent.

CHICAGO, September 26, 1869.

Nearly every large city has a difficult problem to solve in the supply of water and fuel. The former was specially difficult for Chicago, but it was generally supposed the tunnel under the lake had solved it. The tunnel has a capacity of fifty million gallons per day, and the quantity used has increased since its construction from eight million gallons to twenty-four million gallons per day. In five years more the tunnel will probably be used to its full capacity.

The supply of coal has afforded an opportunity for a large monoply. Dealers have combined to place the price of anthracite coal at an extravagant price. A combination of buyers has been made by which it is hoped a supply can be brought here and furnished much cheaper than the prices now demanded. It is proposed to send an agent to New York and make the requisite purchase. The attempt will be made, but it is feared that little good will come of it, as coal is now very dear in New York.

Our local elections are attracting an unusual degree of attention. Questions of reform, and almost every other subject on which a difference of opinion is possible, will be brought into the contest. The questions of prohibition and Sunday laws are the principal ones, as they command the largest number of supporters.

The National Temperance Convention was held here last week, and a Prohibition Party was formed. One great drawback to the success of this prohibition movement is the opinion held by many temperance men, that it cannot be carried out. Taken altogether our local elections will be somewhat mixed.

Men having charge of any public work, wishing to obtain a contract or advertise a suburband villa, have a peculiar way of attracting public attention, and having the report favorable. I will give you a sample of their manner of proceeding. Last week the contractors who are deepening the Illinois and Michigan Canal, invited about three hundred prominent men to go and see the work. A canal boat was covered over and fitted up in a complete manner and placed in tow of a tug. The best of eatables and drinkables were provided, to which justice was done. The result was a favorable report as to the work in hand, and the ultimate thorough cleansing of the Chicago river.

One of those famous shrubs known as Century Plants is on exhibition here for the benefit of the Young Mens Christian Association. This one was brought from Rochester, New York, and but very slight injury inflicted upon the flowers. The plant is a great curiosity, and many throng the Hall to look at it.

As the various departments of business evince renewed life, the educational institutions are not forgotten. Students are arriving and preparations are being made for the Winter course. The West has immense commercial interests, and every effort should be made to prepare the rising generation for comprehending and managing them. There is no better medium for bringing about this result than Bryant's Business Training School, an institution that thoroughly prepares its students for managing business for themselves as well as for making valuable assistants. This is quite a different affair from the so-called commercial colleges. Mr. H. B. Bryant. the founder of the chain of colleges, having disposed of his interest in all other institutions, has undertaken the task of building up in Chicago, a higher class of institutions, carrying commercial science to a higher point. Mr. Bryant is the publisher of the Chicago Courier, a commercial paper of great ability, and holding a prominent position in the scientific and literary world.

The detectives made quite a haul on some notorious theives last week, securing the perpetrators of a heavy jewelry robbery in St. Louis. Two men walked into one of the banks a few days ago, and while one drew the clerks attention, the other seized a lot of revenue stamps, but he was caught almost immediately.

THE RAILROAD QUESTION.

Adjourned Meeting at Reddick's Hall Last Night—Report of the Committee, Etc.

An adjourned meeting upon the railroad question was held last evening at Reddick's Hall, to hear the report of the committee appointed on Monday.

The committee having entered the room, the Mayor took the chair and reported as follows:

GENTLEMEN: I am directed by the committee oppointed yesterday to report as follows:

Resolved, That this committee recommend the construction of two lines of railroad, one northwest and one southwest, on separate and independent routes, and that the County Commissioners be requested to submit to the voters of this county a proposition to grant to each road the sum of ten thousand dollars per mile for each mile built within the limits of the county.

Resolved, That it is expedient to organize the Omaha and Elkhorn Railroad Companies forthwith.

Several substitutes were offered. The following by Judge Wakely being adopted after several eloquent speeches had been made upon the question.

To strike out all after the word route, and insert,—"and that it is the sense of this meeting that Douglas county aid in the construction of these two roads to the extent of three hundred thousand dollars."

The resolution as amended was then unanimously adopted.

On motion of Judge Wakely, the meeting then adjourned to meet at the call of the President.

WASHINGTON, September 7.—The Liquor Dealers' Association of this city has addressed a circular to liquor dealers throughout the country, proposing to hold a national convention in December, and that delegates be sent. The circular says the Temperance Convention just closed in Chicago has among its objects the adoption of a prohibitory law in this district, as an experiment, which, if successful, will affect trade throughout the United States. The purpose of the proposed convention is to influence Congress to defeat any such measures.

JACKSON, Miss., September 8.—The National Union Republican Convention assembled to-day at noon; 300 delegates are present, 75 of whom are colored. Nearly all the counties in the State are represented. Judy E. Speed, of Vicksburg, was chosen for President; Judge Lewis Dent was unanimously selected for Governor; Judge Jeffards for Leutenant Governor; J. L. Woodford for Congress in the First District; Judge Wm. Kellogg in the Third District. Resolutions were unanimously adopted reaffirming the principals in the Convention of June 23d; favoring a liberal free school system; cordially inviting immigration of all classes, and pledging such legislation as will best foster industrial pursuits and develop all the rescources of the State,
