J. L. Colhapp, Editor. THURSDAY, JANUARY 2J, 1870.

To Our Patrons in Job Work. We would say, parenthetically, that we tion of our city, which is now nave received a considerable addition to our from wagon communication. ob Office in the way of New Type, Inks, lards, Papers, etc., which warrant us in in-riting an increase of the liberal patronage ine Job Work as can be had anywhere, and lieve, as low.

A retrespective glance at the progress made by Brownville during the year just past, cannot fail of being encouraging to its citizens. Such a glance will show many val-uable business and residence houses erected, and building improvements made. Among the foremost business houses which 1869 saw erected, is that now occupied by Hannaford & McFall's wholesale and retail-Furniture stablishment; and foremost among the res-dences we may mention—in hopes in neither case to give offence by particularizing—that of H. C. Lett, on the corner of Nebraska and Second-sts. Besides this, thousands of yards of dirt have been moved on the north of Main-st, where undoubtedly many large business houses will be erected during the en encouraging. 1809 has made of our peomany seemingly prosperous towns, and would ours had it not been put aside for united city determination to have railroad comnication North, South, East and West, and to these ends have, or will have by the 30th, $275,000 donated for that purpose, with enough private subscriptions to make this sum $350,000. With this in hand, here is little doubt but work will be commenced from here in the commenced from here in the spring cast, west and sout Work is already, or will be so soon as the weather permits, begun on the Quincy, Missouri River and Pacific Road from the Quiney Bridge. Work will be begun in the spring from opposite this place to Phelps City. Work will be begun in the spring west from this place. Thus commencing work in three different places on the Q., M. & P. B. R., which is our road. The Trunk road is not dead because it makes no particular noise, but is at this time making negotiations which will eventuate in energetic work next We have also during 1800, made some valuable street improvements, and but that is, that Main-st, is not made out to the city limits. Our Council have done all they ild to this end, save and except shoulder ink the shovel and pick and going to work. We hope that next spring will see this much needed work done. Again we say, it must be a very faint heart that is not of good cheer for the future of Brownville, for it is good; and the shadow of a population of 50,000 in en years is cast before if we forecast her future by her past growth.

Dr. Tracr has been for the past week Lecuring in this city upon Phrenology, Physi-logy and their kindred sciences.
