Notices of the Press.

No more delightful travels are printed in the English language, than appear perpetually in Harper's Magazine. They are read with equal interest and satisfaction by boys of every grade, from eighteen to eighty. Its scientific papers, while sufficently profound to demand the attention of the learned, are yet admirably adapted to the popular understanding, and designed as much to diffuse correct information concerning current scientific discovery as it could be if it was the organ of the "Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge." The great design of 'Harper's' if to give correct information and rational amusement to the great masses of the people. There are few intelligent American families in which "Harper's Magazine" would not be an appreciated and highly welcome guest. There is no monthly magazine an intelligent reading family can less afford to be without. Many magazines are accumulated. Harper is edited. There is not a magazine that is printed which shows more intelligent pains expended on its articles and mechanical execution. There is not a cheaper magazine published. There is not, confessedly, a more popular magazine in the world.—New England Homesteed.
