of these clubs. We make these as business proposi tions, expecting to advance our own interests by them, and believing the ADVERTISER to be well worth the money we ask for it. On this point we court investigation. If, when fairly judged, it is not up to the requirements of the times, as a weekly newspaper, in selections, news, local interests, and Republican politics, we ask no man to take it. While we would be glad, indeed, to have three or four thousand subscribers for the ADVERTISER, we are not begging for them. That circulation would be very pleasant and profitable to us, but we must be allowed to insist that it would be no less pleasant and profitable to our readers. We shall receive these club subscriptions very thankfully, and we shall also endeavour to deserve them.
