[From S. L. Woodford's Speech in Co The history of the Republican party, as I said before, is literally the history of the last twelve years. It has been the Republican party which saved the country. It has been the Republican party that reconstructed the South. It has been the Republismells of mould. They say Red- If they discovered the trick they kept can party that has announced its intention of paying off the debt. But but the devil came for his body and never willingly faced Barbara's laugh- after all, what of this? The Democrats have acknowledged that we are right, for they have given up their principles-have adopted ours, and have nominated the publisher of what was once the greatest Republican paper in the country for their candidate. It is a mistake to suppose that they were ever opposed to us. The fact is that they have been behind us all the time, and out of breath trying to 1850 as a finality, and never to reopen whole thing up in the Kansas and Nebraska bill, and admitted slavery there because it was Federal territory. Let me suggest that if they were so false to their Baltimore platform of 1852, they may be just as false to their Baltimore platform of 1872. Upon had tried and had failed.
