

THE ADVERTISER. THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 1873. Publishers' Notices. EXTRA COPIES OF THE ADVERTISER FOR SALE BY G. B. MOORE, Bookkeeper, Stationer and News Dealer, at No. 35 Main Street, next door to the Postoffice.

Arrival and Departure of Mails. Northern Daily, by Railroad—Arrives 11 a. m. Departs 12 p. m. Southern Daily, by Railroad—Arrives 2 p. m. Departs 3 p. m.

City and County. Lost.—A pair of gentleman's fur gloves. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving them at the drug store of Lett & Creigh.

Dr. Rich, brother of Prof. Sam, and Lou, who hail from Republican City, is now in the city, visiting his relatives.

Our departed chief acknowledges, elsewhere the receipt of a keg of beer on New Year's day.

The guests at the Bar Banquet at Lincoln, on New Year's eve survived the responses to 25 regular toasts, and then wound up with a dance.

As will be seen by our advertising columns, Dan Colhapp has bought Andy Clausen's interest in the cigar store of Claussen & Bergmann.

What Treasurer Bratton knows about farming is in the flower and fruit line. He called in yesterday and showed us a fine Camellia shrub, with one flower in full bloom, and twelve perfect buds on it.

Our people were startled on Monday evening by a serenade of cow bells, so violent as to cause visions of a chariot to arise in the minds of all newly married persons.

The drawing in the Omaha Lottery which was to have taken place Dec. 20th, has been postponed to March 31, 1873.

The Lincoln papers, including the Statesman, call Tipton "the wood man."

A fellow who is always searching out hidden things, says that the word "pannier," the name of an article at present in good repute with the ladies, is the latin for "bread basket."

Jacob Marohn has just received a full stock of piece goods, and is as defiant of competition as ever.

Large assortment of overcoats, low down for cash, at F. E. Johnson & Co's.

Mr. Geo. B. Moore is now receiving subscriptions for Secretary Seward's Book of Travels.

Mr. W. F. Eastman has assumed a one-half interest in the Sterling, (Ill.) Gazette.

Tisdell & Richards, hardware merchants, are moving their stock to the Brittenyer building.

Lard, butter, eggs and all kinds of food for both man and beast, at Brown & French's.

Major Caffrey and R. V. Hughes, Esq., left this city for Lincoln on Saturday, to attend during the early part of this session of the Legislature.

Richard Maloney returned on Saturday from a trip to St. Louis. While there he attended the "Red Bantline" and "Buffalo Bill" Theatre.

Notwithstanding the severity of the weather and the prevailing horse distemper, the house was crowded to its utmost capacity.

The first thing on the programme was singing by the school, then prayer by Elder Burlingame, Methodist minister of this place.

The exercises consisted of singing, declamations, essays and select reading. The singing was accompanied by the organ, with Miss Ellen Bagley the organist.

If any praise is due, it should be given to the smaller portion of the school for the manner in which they performed their parts.

After the exercises were over, Mr. Burlingame was called on, who made a few very appropriate remarks.

Mr. J. B. Campbell then gave his method of teaching mental arithmetic, by forming the teachers into a class, all agreeing that the plan was a good one, and also, that an exercise in mental arithmetic should be practiced in every school.

Mr. J. B. Campbell then gave his method of teaching reading by a class drill. In the main teachers agreed with him; however, some discussion ensued.

Mr. M. E. Townsend then took up the subject of orthography, and discussed the sounds and powers of letters. It elicited a lively discussion.

The afternoon exercises concluded with an "Experience Meeting," in which each teacher present had the privilege of stating his failings and asking for advice.

Stieghing. Since the snow-fall on Saturday sleighing has been excellent, and our young folks have endeavored to improve it. On Monday evening a party of young ladies and gentlemen procured a large sleigh, cuddled themselves away among a wealth of robes and drove out to Mrs. Waite's, west of the city.

We too, must acknowledge an agreeable respite from the irksome task of manufacturing locals on Monday afternoon, and a drive in Hetzel's nobby sleigh, through the kindness of that accomplished equestrienne, Miss Ella Reeves.

Geo. P. Berkley returned one day last week. George says his meanderings up and down the country are over, and he will now make this his abiding city, to go no more out forever.

We were pleased to make the acquaintance of Mr. M. M. Stover, of Washington precinct, on Monday, during a brief call at our office.

We acknowledged gratefully, a call from Mr. Julius Johnson, on New Year's day, with a renewal of his subscription for the ADVERTISER.

We improved a call from Donnie Muir on Monday to ascertain the truth of the remark, that he has grown disconsolate and will not be comforted.

We notice the presence of the Hon. Samuel Maxwell, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, in our city on Tuesday of this week.

Stevenson & Cross buy old copper, iron and rags.

School Superintendent's Notice. I would like to meet all the teachers of Bedford, Nemaha City and Aspinwall precincts at the school house in District No. 71, known as Kimsey's district, on Friday evening and Saturday morning, January 17th and 18th.

7 o'clock—Opening exercises. Short talk by County Superintendent. Discussion, topic: "Should whispering be abolished in the school room?"

SATURDAY MORNING. The exercises will commence at 8 o'clock. The programme for Saturday will be read on Friday evening.

What the law firm of Thomas & Broady has been dissolved, and each member will continue in the practice independently.

There are some who buy themselves in saying "the B. Ft. K. & P. R. R. will never be built."

Mr. W. F. Eastman has assumed a one-half interest in the Sterling, (Ill.) Gazette.

Tisdell & Richards, hardware merchants, are moving their stock to the Brittenyer building.

Lard, butter, eggs and all kinds of food for both man and beast, at Brown & French's.

Major Caffrey and R. V. Hughes, Esq., left this city for Lincoln on Saturday, to attend during the early part of this session of the Legislature.

Richard Maloney returned on Saturday from a trip to St. Louis. While there he attended the "Red Bantline" and "Buffalo Bill" Theatre.

Notwithstanding the severity of the weather and the prevailing horse distemper, the house was crowded to its utmost capacity.

The first thing on the programme was singing by the school, then prayer by Elder Burlingame, Methodist minister of this place.

The exercises consisted of singing, declamations, essays and select reading. The singing was accompanied by the organ, with Miss Ellen Bagley the organist.

If any praise is due, it should be given to the smaller portion of the school for the manner in which they performed their parts.

After the exercises were over, Mr. Burlingame was called on, who made a few very appropriate remarks.

Mr. J. B. Campbell then gave his method of teaching mental arithmetic, by forming the teachers into a class, all agreeing that the plan was a good one, and also, that an exercise in mental arithmetic should be practiced in every school.

Mr. J. B. Campbell then gave his method of teaching reading by a class drill. In the main teachers agreed with him; however, some discussion ensued.

Mr. M. E. Townsend then took up the subject of orthography, and discussed the sounds and powers of letters. It elicited a lively discussion.

The afternoon exercises concluded with an "Experience Meeting," in which each teacher present had the privilege of stating his failings and asking for advice.

The institute for the held in the school house in District No. 68, Lafayette precinct, January 24th and 25th, 1873.

FRIDAY EVENING. 7 o'clock—Music; prayer. 7:30—Exercise in square root, by E. B. Hubbard.

8—Discussion on same. 8:30—Discussion on natural language. 9:30—Adjournment.

Programme of Exercises. For the institute to be held in the school house in District No. 68, Lafayette precinct, January 24th and 25th, 1873.

FRIDAY EVENING. 7 o'clock—Music; prayer. 7:30—Exercise in square root, by E. B. Hubbard.

8—Discussion on same. 8:30—Discussion on natural language. 9:30—Adjournment.

SATURDAY MORNING. 8:30—Opening exercises. 9—Reading by Miss M. J. Hubbard.

9:30—Discussion on same. 10—Syntax by G. B. Leak. 10:30—Discussion on same.

11—Forms and motions of the earth by M. E. Townsend. 11:30—Discussion on same.

12—Recess. 12:30—General exercise. 1—Cube root by J. L. Spaulding.

1:30—Discussion on same. 2—Methods of teaching primary classes by Plin Ford.

2:30—Discussion on same. 3—Analysis by E. Leak. 3:30—Discussion on same.

4—Recess. 7—Ciphering match. 8—Discussion on school government, opened by J. W. Campbell and F. W. Wright.

Let us go prepared for the work; ready for every duty that may develop upon us. We want the friends to feel perfectly at home, criticize anything that may seem wrong or amiss.

We hope the teachers will be prompt on time. They have our heartfelt gratitude for their hearty co-operation, as well as the other friends that assisted in making the last institute a success.

Mr. J. B. Campbell then gave his method of teaching reading by a class drill. In the main teachers agreed with him; however, some discussion ensued.

The idea generally prevailing that short lessons should be given, and that they should be thoroughly understood by the teacher and pupil; that the child in order to understand the author properly must know the import of every word in his lesson before attempting to read it in class.

Mr. M. E. Townsend then took up the subject of orthography, and discussed the sounds and powers of letters. It elicited a lively discussion.

The class drill was made one of interest; all agreeing that pupils should be thoroughly trained and drilled on phonetics.

Some difference of opinion with respect to the sounds of letters, owing to the study of different authors.

S. W. McGrew then illustrated his method of teaching grammar to advanced students. Quite an interest was manifested in the discussion on natural language.

Mr. Ewan taking exception to the idea as taught in grammar, and defended his position ably, advancing sound argument. Of course the teachers defended their position, as every teacher that follows Clark must teach the idea of natural language; all expressing a willingness, however, that if it could be established that there is no such thing as natural language, they would concede the point and abandon the error.

The afternoon exercises concluded with an "Experience Meeting," in which each teacher present had the privilege of stating his failings and asking for advice.

The institute took a recess until 7 o'clock p. m. It would be well to say that a deep interest prevailed that recess for dinner was overlooked entirely.

Saturday evening, 7 o'clock. Exercises opened with singing. Prayer by Chas. Blodgett, after which another "Ciphering Match" ensued, with M. E. Townsend and E. Leak as captians.

Nearly all present participated and enjoyed the exercise, but the richest part of it was to see the old men exercising their thinking faculties.

Mr. Townsend proposed the following question for discussion: "Should whispering be abolished in the school room?"

Hon. Chas. Blodgett opened the discussion, followed by M. E. Townsend, G. B. Leak, S. W. McGrew, E. Leak, Plin Ford, Mr. Ewan and others.

The discussion was one of interest; the question an important one; one well worth contemplating; one which every teacher should ponder well and decide by practice.

Upon consultation it was decided to hold another session at this place, commencing on Friday evening, January 24th, 1873, and to hold over Saturday.

It was further decided that the County Superintendent, S. W. McGrew, should make out and publish a programme of exercises for that occasion.

Adjourned. We hope to meet every teacher interested, in this and adjacent precincts, at this institute. We want to have another good time; another season of enjoyment. We want all the friends to come that possibly can. We say come, come all, and let us consult upon the subject of education, and the best methods of advancing the cause.

Teachers' Institute. LAFAYETTE PRECINCT, Dec. 27. Institute met at 7 o'clock p. m. On motion Mr. J. C. Eberhart was called to the chair and E. B. Hubbard elected secretary.

All present then united in singing "Old Columbia," after which Mr. Calvin led in prayer.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the attendance was small; the mail had also failed to reach Grant, for two weeks, hence the programme did not reach its destination until it was too late, and, of course, a goodly number kept away on that account, not knowing anything about it.

We trust the mail went to the Epizootic any more. We are willing to forgive it this time.

A ciphering match was then proposed. Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Spaulding were selected as Captains. Nearly every one present participated in the exercise, and thought it a treat, and surely it was.

The question as to whether a text book should be prepared with question and answer, was discussed in a lively manner by Messrs. Spaulding, Hubbard, McGrew, Calvin and others.

The general impression was that they should not be prepared in that way as it had a tendency to lead to memorizing too much and not the best way to awaken thought.

Adjourned until Saturday morning. Saturday morning, 9 a. m.—Music. Prayer was offered by Mr. Campbell. After which Mr. Hubbard gave his method of teaching fractions, which was practical, and approved by all present.

S. W. McGrew then gave his method of teaching mental arithmetic, by forming the teachers into a class, all agreeing that the plan was a good one, and also, that an exercise in mental arithmetic should be practiced in every school.

Mr. J. B. Campbell then gave his method of teaching reading by a class drill. In the main teachers agreed with him; however, some discussion ensued.

The idea generally prevailing that short lessons should be given, and that they should be thoroughly understood by the teacher and pupil; that the child in order to understand the author properly must know the import of every word in his lesson before attempting to read it in class.

Mr. M. E. Townsend then took up the subject of orthography, and discussed the sounds and powers of letters. It elicited a lively discussion.

The class drill was made one of interest; all agreeing that pupils should be thoroughly trained and drilled on phonetics.

Some difference of opinion with respect to the sounds of letters, owing to the study of different authors.

S. W. McGrew then illustrated his method of teaching grammar to advanced students. Quite an interest was manifested in the discussion on natural language.

Mr. Ewan taking exception to the idea as taught in grammar, and defended his position ably, advancing sound argument. Of course the teachers defended their position, as every teacher that follows Clark must teach the idea of natural language; all expressing a willingness, however, that if it could be established that there is no such thing as natural language, they would concede the point and abandon the error.

The afternoon exercises concluded with an "Experience Meeting," in which each teacher present had the privilege of stating his failings and asking for advice.

The institute took a recess until 7 o'clock p. m. It would be well to say that a deep interest prevailed that recess for dinner was overlooked entirely.

Saturday evening, 7 o'clock. Exercises opened with singing. Prayer by Chas. Blodgett, after which another "Ciphering Match" ensued, with M. E. Townsend and E. Leak as captians.

Nearly all present participated and enjoyed the exercise, but the richest part of it was to see the old men exercising their thinking faculties.

Mr. Townsend proposed the following question for discussion: "Should whispering be abolished in the school room?"

Hon. Chas. Blodgett opened the discussion, followed by M. E. Townsend, G. B. Leak, S. W. McGrew, E. Leak, Plin Ford, Mr. Ewan and others.

The discussion was one of interest; the question an important one; one well worth contemplating; one which every teacher should ponder well and decide by practice.

Upon consultation it was decided to hold another session at this place, commencing on Friday evening, January 24th, 1873, and to hold over Saturday.

It was further decided that the County Superintendent, S. W. McGrew, should make out and publish a programme of exercises for that occasion.

Adjourned. We hope to meet every teacher interested, in this and adjacent precincts, at this institute. We want to have another good time; another season of enjoyment. We want all the friends to come that possibly can. We say come, come all, and let us consult upon the subject of education, and the best methods of advancing the cause.

The institute for the held in the school house in District No. 68, Lafayette precinct, January 24th and 25th, 1873.

FRIDAY EVENING. 7 o'clock—Music; prayer. 7:30—Exercise in square root, by E. B. Hubbard.

8—Discussion on same. 8:30—Discussion on natural language. 9:30—Adjournment.

Programme of Exercises. For the institute to be held in the school house in District No. 68, Lafayette precinct, January 24th and 25th, 1873.

FRIDAY EVENING. 7 o'clock—Music; prayer. 7:30—Exercise in square root, by E. B. Hubbard.

8—Discussion on same. 8:30—Discussion on natural language. 9:30—Adjournment.

SATURDAY MORNING. 8:30—Opening exercises. 9—Reading by Miss M. J. Hubbard.

9:30—Discussion on same. 10—Syntax by G. B. Leak. 10:30—Discussion on same.

11—Forms and motions of the earth by M. E. Townsend. 11:30—Discussion on same.

12—Recess. 12:30—General exercise. 1—Cube root by J. L. Spaulding.

1:30—Discussion on same. 2—Methods of teaching primary classes by Plin Ford.

2:30—Discussion on same. 3—Analysis by E. Leak. 3:30—Discussion on same.

4—Recess. 7—Ciphering match. 8—Discussion on school government, opened by J. W. Campbell and F. W. Wright.

Let us go prepared for the work; ready for every duty that may develop upon us. We want the friends to feel perfectly at home, criticize anything that may seem wrong or amiss.

We hope the teachers will be prompt on time. They have our heartfelt gratitude for their hearty co-operation, as well as the other friends that assisted in making the last institute a success.

Mr. J. B. Campbell then gave his method of teaching reading by a class drill. In the main teachers agreed with him; however, some discussion ensued.

The idea generally prevailing that short lessons should be given, and that they should be thoroughly understood by the teacher and pupil; that the child in order to understand the author properly must know the import of every word in his lesson before attempting to read it in class.

Mr. M. E. Townsend then took up the subject of orthography, and discussed the sounds and powers of letters. It elicited a lively discussion.

The class drill was made one of interest; all agreeing that pupils should be thoroughly trained and drilled on phonetics.

Some difference of opinion with respect to the sounds of letters, owing to the study of different authors.

S. W. McGrew then illustrated his method of teaching grammar to advanced students. Quite an interest was manifested in the discussion on natural language.

Mr. Ewan taking exception to the idea as taught in grammar, and defended his position ably, advancing sound argument. Of course the teachers defended their position, as every teacher that follows Clark must teach the idea of natural language; all expressing a willingness, however, that if it could be established that there is no such thing as natural language, they would concede the point and abandon the error.

The afternoon exercises concluded with an "Experience Meeting," in which each teacher present had the privilege of stating his failings and asking for advice.

The institute took a recess until 7 o'clock p. m. It would be well to say that a deep interest prevailed that recess for dinner was overlooked entirely.

Saturday evening, 7 o'clock. Exercises opened with singing. Prayer by Chas. Blodgett, after which another "Ciphering Match" ensued, with M. E. Townsend and E. Leak as captians.

Nearly all present participated and enjoyed the exercise, but the richest part of it was to see the old men exercising their thinking faculties.

Mr. Townsend proposed the following question for discussion: "Should whispering be abolished in the school room?"

Hon. Chas. Blodgett opened the discussion, followed by M. E. Townsend, G. B. Leak, S. W. McGrew, E. Leak, Plin Ford, Mr. Ewan and others.

The discussion was one of interest; the question an important one; one well worth contemplating; one which every teacher should ponder well and decide by practice.

Upon consultation it was decided to hold another session at this place, commencing on Friday evening, January 24th, 1873, and to hold over Saturday.

It was further decided that the County Superintendent, S. W. McGrew, should make out and publish a programme of exercises for that occasion.

Adjourned. We hope to meet every teacher interested, in this and adjacent precincts, at this institute. We want to have another good time; another season of enjoyment. We want all the friends to come that possibly can. We say come, come all, and let us consult upon the subject of education, and the best methods of advancing the cause.

Teachers' Institute. LAFAYETTE PRECINCT, Dec. 27. Institute met at 7 o'clock p. m. On motion Mr. J. C. Eberhart was called to the chair and E. B. Hubbard elected secretary.

All present then united in singing "Old Columbia," after which Mr. Calvin led in prayer.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the attendance was small; the mail had also failed to reach Grant, for two weeks, hence the programme did not reach its destination until it was too late, and, of course, a goodly number kept away on that account, not knowing anything about it.

We trust the mail went to the Epizootic any more. We are willing to forgive it this time.

A ciphering match was then proposed. Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Spaulding were selected as Captains. Nearly every one present participated in the exercise, and thought it a treat, and surely it was.

The question as to whether a text book should be prepared with question and answer, was discussed in a lively manner by Messrs. Spaulding, Hubbard, McGrew, Calvin and others.

The general impression was that they should not be prepared in that way as it had a tendency to lead to memorizing too much and not the best way to awaken thought.

Adjourned until Saturday morning. Saturday morning, 9 a. m.—Music. Prayer was offered by Mr. Campbell. After which Mr. Hubbard gave his method of teaching fractions, which was practical, and approved by all present.

S. W. McGrew then gave his method of teaching mental arithmetic, by forming the teachers into a class, all agreeing that the plan was a good one, and also, that an exercise in mental arithmetic should be practiced in every school.

Mr. J. B. Campbell then gave his method of teaching reading by a class drill. In the main teachers agreed with him; however, some discussion ensued.

The idea generally prevailing that short lessons should be given, and that they should be thoroughly understood by the teacher and pupil; that the child in order to understand the author properly must know the import of every word in his lesson before attempting to read it in class.

Mr. M. E. Townsend then took up the subject of orthography, and discussed the sounds and powers of letters. It elicited a lively discussion.

The class drill was made one of interest; all agreeing that pupils should be thoroughly trained and drilled on phonetics.

Some difference of opinion with respect to the sounds of letters, owing to the study of different authors.

S. W. McGrew then illustrated his method of teaching grammar to advanced students. Quite an interest was manifested in the discussion on natural language.

Mr. Ewan taking exception to the idea as taught in grammar, and defended his position ably, advancing sound argument. Of course the teachers defended their position, as every teacher that follows Clark must teach the idea of natural language; all expressing a willingness, however, that if it could be established that there is no such thing as natural language, they would concede the point and abandon the error.

The afternoon exercises concluded with an "Experience Meeting," in which each teacher present had the privilege of stating his failings and asking for advice.

The institute took a recess until 7 o'clock p. m. It would be well to say that a deep interest prevailed that recess for dinner was overlooked entirely.

Saturday evening, 7 o'clock. Exercises opened with singing. Prayer by Chas. Blodgett, after which another "Ciphering Match" ensued, with M. E. Townsend and E. Leak as captians.

Nearly all present participated and enjoyed the exercise, but the richest part of it was to see the old men exercising their thinking faculties.

Mr. Townsend proposed the following question for discussion: "Should whispering be abolished in the school room?"

Hon. Chas. Blodgett opened the discussion, followed by M. E. Townsend, G. B. Leak, S. W. McGrew, E. Leak, Plin Ford, Mr. Ewan and others.

The discussion was one of interest; the question an important one; one well worth contemplating; one which every teacher should ponder well and decide by practice.

Upon consultation it was decided to hold another session at this place, commencing on Friday evening, January 24th, 1873, and to hold over Saturday.

It was further decided that the County Superintendent, S. W. McGrew, should make out and publish a programme of exercises for that occasion.

Adjourned. We hope to meet every teacher interested, in this and adjacent precincts, at this institute. We want to have another good time; another season of enjoyment. We want all the friends to come that possibly can. We say come, come all, and let us consult upon the subject of education, and the best methods of advancing the cause.

The institute for the held in the school house in District No. 68, Lafayette precinct, January 24th and 25th, 1873.

FRIDAY EVENING. 7 o'clock—Music; prayer. 7:30—Exercise in square root, by E. B. Hubbard.

8—Discussion on same. 8:30—Discussion on natural language. 9:30—Adjournment.

RED STORE. NEW STOCK. A. H. GILMORE, DEALER IN Staple and Fancy Groceries and Provisions, Queensware and Glassware. 49 MAIN STREET, BROWNVILLE. GOODS DELIVERED FREE. GIVE ME A CALL.

Stevenson & Cross Sells. Old Government Java Coffee, 35c per lb. Best Rio, 40c per lb. Second best, 35c per lb. Good Tea, 70c per can. Best Soda, 10c per can. Best Spring Wheat Flour, $3.00 per barrel. Best Mackerel, four for 25c. Best Canned Apples, 10c per quart. Best Canned Peaches, 10c per quart. Best G. D. Caps, 5c per box. Toys from 1 to 10c each. Molasses, 35c per gallon. Best Coal Oil, 30c per can. Buffalo Robes, Oranges, Feud and Wool. S. cheaper than any other.

Let us go prepared for the work; ready for every duty that may develop upon us. We want the friends to feel perfectly at home, criticize anything that may seem wrong or amiss. We do not profess perfection, and are always ready to learn. We want to learn all we can and do all the good we