SPEAK NAE ILL.

Other people have their faults
And so have ye as well,
But all ye chance to see or hear
Ye have no right to tell.
If ye canna speak o' good,
Take care, and see, and feel
Earth has all too much o' woe,
And not enough o' weal.

Be careful that ye make nae strife
Wi' meddling tongue and brain
For ye will find enough to do
If ye but look at hame.
If ye canna speak o'good,
Oh, dinna speak at all,
For their is grief and woe enough
On this terrestrial ball.

If ye should feel like picking flaws,
Ye better go, I ween,
And read the book that tells ye all
About the mote and beam.

Dinna lend a ready ear
To gossip or to strife,
Or, perhaps, 'twill make for ye
Nae funny thing in life.

Oh dinna add to others woe,
Nor mock it with your mirth,
But give ye kindly sympathy
To suffering ones of earth.

THE CONNECTICUT BORGIA.

The Confession of Mrs. Lydia Sherman—She Acknowledges to have Poisoned Three Husbands and Four Children.

The main point of confession made by Mrs. Lydia Sherman, the prisoner who was sentenced to the penitentiary for life at New Haven on Saturday have been published. It is a fearful story of crime. Mrs Sherman was arrested in June, 1871, at New Brunswick, N. J., on the charge of having murdered her husband, Horatio N. Sherman, at Derby, in 1871. She was also charged with murdering two of his children, but was only tried for the first crime. Besides these she was said to have poisoned two other husbands and several of their children. The trial occurred in March, 1872, in New Haven, and was noticeable among prison trials for the very clear testimony of Prof. Barker, of Yale College, who had examined the remains of the first mentioned victim. The trial resulted in a verdict of murder in the second degree—the jury uniting in considering her guilty, but allowing that the circumstantial nature of the evidence permitted of a reasonable doubt. Since she has been imprisoned her mind has been seriously troubled, and recently she has made a full confession of her guilt, and expresses herself as much relieved thereby.

On the 28th of December she began her story to the jailor, Capt. Webster. Mrs. Sherman is a very ignorant woman. She can scarcely write at all. She is unable to remember dates with any degree of accuracy, so that part of her narrative is vague. Mrs. Sherman's story is as follows: She was born in New Brunswick, N. J., in 1825, and was early left an orphan. At the age of seventeen she joined the Methodist church, and at a love feast there she met Edward S. Struck, whom she subsequently married. Mr. Struck in time became a policeman at Yorkville, one of the suburbs of New York city. One night there was a row in a saloon on his beat, and a detective was killed. Struck was off without leave; he was reprimanded and disgraced. It troubled him very much, and weighed so on his mind that he became crazy, and had a softening of the brain. He then was discharged. When he recovered, it was only to be very feeble physically, and unable to get any work, so that he was only a burden to his wife. One day a male friend of hers suggested to her that she could get rid of the man by poison. She took kindly to the idea and gave him some arsenic in his food, and she also, with poison, killed their two youngest children, so that they also should not be burdens to her, and should not have, as she says, to grow up to life's cares. She was not suspected of this murder, and soon after she went to Litchfield to live. Here she met one Dennis Hurlburt, and married him, but she didn't get along satisfactorily to herself with him, and so she poisoned him. Soon after his death she was told by a friend that there was a man in Durby named Horatio N. Sherman, who had plenty of money and had lost his wife, and that by skillful management, if she wanted a third husband, she could probably get him. Accordingly she went there and applied to him for the place of housekeeper in his family, and he engaged her, and subsequently she succeeded in marrying him. He had two children—Ada and Frankie—and these she determined to poison, and did poison; but she did not plan to poison Sherman. She intended to employ the arsenic upon rats in her house as well as to kill the children, and she purchased it in New Haven in Peck's drug store, with the first mentioned object. She took the package home and put it on a shelf beside a similar package of salaratus. Mr. Sherman used to drink a great deal of cider, into which he would put salaratus to make it foam. This was his favorite drink. The salaratus and arsenic on the shelf became mixed in some way. This was not, therefore, such a clear case of murder as the others. In fact, she merely neglected to warn him of his danger. It is curious that the only death for which she could be held accountable, according to her story, should be that for which she has been convicted.

MURDER WILL OUT.

Assassination in Benton County, Indiana, Eight Years Ago—The Assassin in Custody.

[Lafayette Courier, Jan. 29.]

In 1865, a worthy young man from Wisconsin, named Morgan, respectably connected in Grant county in this State, where his parents now reside, started overland with a pair of horses and an ordinary covered wagon, on a visit to Indiana. His father, in Grant county, was advised of the time of his departure from Wisconsin, and day after day awaited his arrival. A month went by and no tidings. Fearing the worst, the anxious father instituted an investigation. He found that his son had left Wisconsin at the appointed time, in company with two men from Tippecanoe county, living near Stockwell. The father came to Lafayette and hunted up the two men. They told a straight story. They had left Wisconsin in company with young Morgan, and came with him as far as Eastern Illinois, where they left him and came on by rail. They stated that they left him in company with a man named McCollough, from Henry county, Indiana, who had intended to go with him the rest of the journey. The father went to Henry county, and found the man McCullough in possession of the horses and wagon! He gave such contradictory statements as to the possession that he was arrested and taken to Illinois, where he had a trial on the charge of grand larceny and was sent to the State prison. The father never doubted that this man McCullough was implicated in the death of his son, but was content to have him in the State prison for a term of years until evidence could be obtained. Meanwhile he wrote to the Coroners in all the counties west to the Indiana State line and beyond, making inquiry if the remains of a murdered man had been discovered. The Benton county authorities, among the rest, received such a letter. It was filed away and well nigh forgotten, when one day, some years since, a surveying party on the west side of the county, north of Hickory Grove, came across the skeleton of a human being in a dry slough. The skull bore marks of violence, having been split with an ax. It was also perforated with a bullet-hole. Some shreds of clothing, an ax, some wagon-bows, bits of wagon-cover, and a pair of boots were found with the body. An inquest was held at the time, but nothing divulged. The skeleton, however, was carefully preserved, and with the other articles found, is now in the possession of the Benton county authorities. The letter of inquiry from Mr. Morgan was called to mind and he was made acquainted with the facts, but was awaiting the expiration of McCullough's term of service in the State prison before bringing him to trial on the charge of murder. Recently it came to his knowledge that the suspected murderer, probably in anticipation of his arrest and trial for his life, had obtained a pardon and was out of prison. An indictment was at once returned and officers placed upon his track. It seems that after leaving Joliet, he went direct to Henry county again. The sheriff of that county, provided with a warrant for his arrest, took him into custody and brought him to Lafayette yesterday, thence to Oxford where he is in jail awaiting his trial. There is great excitement in Benton county over the affair. The discovery of the skeleton some years since created a profound sensation. All the circumstances and surroundings—the cleft skull, the ax, the wagon-bows, the wagon-cover—clearly indicate an assassin; and if it be shown that McCullough, who was last seen in company of the murdered man, had possession of the team and the wagon (which he sought to disguise by the removal of the bows and the cover), it will make a pretty strong case of circumstantial evidence against him.

Sam Patch's Last Leap.

Eli Perkins writes: While in Rochester I met Mr. Hibbard, an old resident of Genesee county, who saw Sam Patch make his famous jump off Genesee Falls, 30 or 40 years ago. He says that jump day was a great day in Rochester. The people gathered for miles around to see this intermittent American jumper, as he performed his last feat. I shouldn't say intermittent jumper, but chronic jumper, for Sam was all the time as crazy to jump down a water-fall as George Francis, our chronic candidate for the Presidency, is crazy to run for the White House.

Sam Patch had previously jumped over Niagra Falls. Then, saying, "Some things can be done as well as others." He slashed around, like Sergeant Bates, through the western part of the State to back up his proverb. Before his last jump he bought a big black bear of a circus man, and led it over the turnpike to Rochester.

Sam was a queer philosopher. He had a theory that each new generation had more knowledge, and could do greater deeds than its predecessor. He often said his father knew more than his grandfather, and that he knew more than his father.

"Why, thunderation! Sam, by your arguefying, your grandfather must have been a darned fool," interposed a by-stander; but he only turned around and commenced talking about something else.

Sam was a great talker. His tongue was always "on the run," and his body "on the jump," and all for notoriety.

Sam himself said he once came home tight, washed the face of the clock, wound up the baby and set it forward 15 minutes.

But about the great jump.

The morning of the day came. Sam had arrived in town with the black bear, and the crowd rushed into Rochester from miles around. Twelve o'clock was the hour to jump—to jump a hundred feet down—down the terrible fall into the boiling caldron below. A staging had been built over the water, and Sam appeared on it dressed in a sailor's fancy jacket. His friends now took up a collection on shore while Sam swung his hat, saying that after jumping he would return and throw the bear over. Then, amid a death-like stillness, he ran a few steps and gave one leap into the air and fell, cutting the mist like a lead sinker, 200 feet into the seething whirlpool. As he left the staging his body assumed an oblique position, his head foremost, but above his feet. As he struck the water there was a dreadful silence, while the populace awaited, with choking breath, his reappearance. One minute—two minutes—three minutes—and no signs of the daring jumper. Then the people sent up a loud wail—a long murmur of sorrow.

This was the end of Sam Patch.

They say he had been drinking during the morning, and failed to keep his feet together and his body perpendicular, as on previous occasions. So, when he struck the water, the breath left his body, and he was knocked senseless. A month or so afterward they found his body away down below Rochester, drifted upon the rocks. He never returned to throw the bar in, or claim the money collected.

I believe in the doctrine of transmigration of souls, but on looking at the almanac nobody was born during the whole of that fatal day but George Francis Train.

A London reporter has recently died who for thirty years devoted himself to the single department of writing up fires. It is to be hoped he went be called upon to follow out the Spiritualistic theory of indefinite progression in his business in the other world.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE — FREE FROM ALCOHOL

PURELY — CALIFORNIA

D. WALKER'S

EUREKA

VINEGAR BITTERS

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whisky, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and a Life-giving Principle, a Perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition, enriching it, refreshing and invigorating both mind and body. They are easy of administration, prompt in their action, certain in their results, safe and reliable in all forms of disease.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist: "There is scarcely an individual on the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Painting and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Typesetters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS twice a week.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In these as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters act on all these cases in a similar manner. By purifying the Blood they remove the cause, and by resolving away the effects of the inflammation (the tubercular deposits) the affected parts receive health, and a permanent cure is effected.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

The Aperient and mild Laxative properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are the best safe-guard in cases of eruptions and malignant fevers. Their balsamic, healing, and soothing properties protect the humors of the fauces. Their sedative properties allay pain in the nervous system, stomach, and bowels, from inflammation, wind, colic, cramps, etc.

Their Counter-Irritant influence extends throughout the system. Their Anti-Bilious properties stimulate the liver, in the secretion of bile, and its discharge through the biliary ducts, and are superior to all remedial agents, for the cure of Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, etc.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Directions.—Take of the Bitters on going to bed at night from a half to one and one-half wineglassful. Eat good nourishing food, such as beefsteak, mutton chop, venison, roast beef, and vegetables, and take out-door exercise. They are composed of purely vegetable ingredients, and contain no spirit.
