CALL ME PET NAMES. BY MRS. FRANCES SARGENT OSGOOD. Call me pet names, dearest! Call me a bird, That flies to thy breast at one cherishing word.

COMING TO WOO. "You'll make a smart, capable woman, if you get the right kind of a husband," said Uncle Jotham Kingsley, chuckling me under the chin.

"My dear niece Susan—I take my pen in hand to inform you that I am well in A" chop these few lines will find you enjoyin' the same great blessing.

"To Miss Susan Spencer." Dear me! I never laughed in all my life before as I did over that letter, with its awful spelling, and its capitals scattered in promiscuously.

make itself apparent. "Here we are, left to keep house while mother is visiting. Next week Mr. Finch is coming."

"I'll tell you what I'll do," said Bell, after an absence of a minute or two. "He doesn't know how you look, and if I were to pass myself off for you, he'd never know the mistake."

"I went to the door," said Susan Spencer? "Is this Miss Susan?" asked Mr. Finch, as he entered.

"I don't hear what you say," said Susan, turning her ear toward me. "Speak a little louder if you please."

man, half tired out, casting furtive glances at the clock. At last he got up and beckoned me to come out into the hall.

"I think I'll be a going back," he said, with a sigh that indicated how great his disappointment was.

"I never heard notin' about your bein' deaf," he wrote. "Seems to me it come on sudden. It's a pity, because Mr. Finch is a nice man."

MORAL COURAGE. Have the courage to speak to a friend in a "seedy" coat, even though you are in company with a rich one and richly attired.

Surgeon, writing of prayer, says: "Let us not employ prayer with a view to our own work alone, for narrow-minded supplications cannot be acceptable with God."

SOLOMON RAY. A hard close man was Solomon Ray; Nothing of value he gave away;

This was the life of Solomon Ray, The years went by and his hair grew gray;

IS IT A SIN TO BE SICK? So limited is the power of the minds of men to take in a complete chain of facts, that they often form wrong conclusions.

AN IMPORTANT SUIT. The State of Nebraska vs. Mayor of Lincoln, and Father for $100,000.

PLEASANT HILL SCHOOL. Our school, which has no cause to be ashamed of its standing, closed a four-month term last Saturday with exercises long to be remembered.

ARMY FOR NEBRASKA. Senator Hitchcock recently introduced the following bill in the U. S. Senate:

is the healing of the sick by the forgiveness of sins, through the agency of prayer and faith.

Perhaps this case can be made still plainer, by noticing what sin is. Sin, says the Scientist, is a violation of the law, and must produce evil consequences.

After all the valuable time wasted, and after the vast amount of capital and labor thrown away to clothe and decorate the body, how very little, comparatively is thought of the real worth of it.

Very frequently there is no pretence of separating families by thin partition walls. Men find themselves unable to pay the rent of a whole room, and so two or more families are huddled into a single room.

And while 500,000 people thus herd together like cattle, living on the refuse of the markets, and thankful if they get even that, it is a sharp commentary on our boasted civilization.

Much was omitted for want of time. The scholars acquitted themselves admirably.

Patrons of the school and many others were present. A general good feeling prevailed. Thanks were voted to the musicians and to the ladies.

An old lady selling eggs in Savannah, asked, as usual, "What's the news?"

Jordan Overstreet, of Little Rock, Ark., is a sensibleascal. He was adjudged by a jury to one year in the penitentiary, and his lawyer made a motion for a new trial.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

Over-crowding—How People Live, or Rather How They Exist—Diagrams—The Actors, Father and Son—The Last Swindle—Political—The Weather.

One half of the million of people who make up this great Babel live in what are called tenement houses.

The extent to which the overcrowding of tenement houses is carried in New York, exceeds that of any other Christian city in the world.

POPULATION TO THE SQUARE ACRE. Among our poor people, shows that in the Eleventh Ward it is 325; in the Thirteenth Ward, 311; in the Fourteenth Ward, 275, and in the Seventh Ward, 280—these being the four most densely thronged districts in New York.

Very frequently there is no pretence of separating families by thin partition walls. Men find themselves unable to pay the rent of a whole room, and so two or more families are huddled into a single room.

There is one way to stop this swindling. The laws which govern the administration of the Post office prohibit the delivery of letters to fictitious addresses where fraud is intended.

costs, at wholesale prices, three and one-half cents for each man. Breakfast is about the same, varied occasionally with beef, fish, pork and beans, or something of the kind.

Intemperance is by no means confined to the men of New York. Indeed the vice is wide-spread, and is not limited by sex.

The population of the Strand numbers 307 to the square acre, and the next most crowded area is East London, with 266.

head against Tammany—everybody seeks to conciliate it. My friend will get his place. The moment he gets control of fifty votes, he is certain of it, for that fifty, by skillful repeating, means two hundred and fifty on election day.

PIETRO. In the St. Joseph Herald of the 3rd inst., we find the following very good notice of our city and some of its business men, from the pencil of 'Apex,' who spent a day or two here last week:

"From Donphan I proceeded to Brownville, Neb., by way of the K. C., St. Jo. & C. B. R. R., where I found my old acquaintances prospering and firm believers in the future of their town.

Every branch of business is well represented by live men whose reputation for enterprise and business capacity is envied by many merchants in larger towns.

I renewed my acquaintance with W. H. Hoover, Esq., of banking fame through this section, and am obliged to him for favors extended me.

The Nebraska Advertiser, whose late editor took a delight in bringing the shortcomings of your correspondent before his readers in a flattering way some months since, has been bought by Messrs. Fairbrother & Hacker, who are now running one of the spiciest sheets in this section.

W. S. Hagar, from Illinois, has lately settled here and bought out a saloon on Main street, in which he is giving general satisfaction, by keeping a quiet and orderly house.
