

PUBLISHERS' NOTICES. A COURSE OF THE ADVERTISER FOR SALE BY G. B. BROWN...

Authorized Agents. BROWN & CO., 27 Main Street, next door to the Postoffice.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Another most lovely shower of rain fell last Sunday afternoon.

A little boy, two years old, of W. Clark, of Nemaha City, is dangerously sick.

Mr. J. C. Ford, dealer in fuel at Nemaha, gave a call on Wednesday.

Harry Delem, having an eye to the convenience of farmers, has caused the bank on the east side of McPherson block, a good and substantial structure.

When the transfer business of the P. & B. M. railroads is resumed, we are assured will be within a short time, it will assist some degree to remove the "blue" from the latter city.

We have had a number of persons ask us if it was really the case that the Granger put in a false bill for clearance from the county.

Prof. Huffman, who sometime removed from Nemaha City, has returned with the intention of making that place his permanent home.

It is hoped that every member of the Republican County Central Committee will be present at the meeting of the committee in Sheridan on next Saturday.

We learn that while Perry & Berry, of this city, were at work building a bridge in Nodaway county, Mo., the side of an old bridge, they had occasion to go upon the old bridge.

"Peru Points" were not received until Friday—two days and a half after our paper was printed.

Uncle George Culp, who has for a number of years resided on the Dr. C. M. farm west of Aspinwall a few miles, died on last Thursday night and was buried in the Nemaha City cemetery on Saturday.

There is not the least difference of understanding between "our prudent and courteous county clerk" and THE ADVERTISER, as the dilapidated institution across the street would have its readers believe.

The Granger two weeks ago said his false $15 bill was allowed by the commissioners. We are informed by one of the commissioners, Mr. Shook, that he is confident the bill was not allowed; that he knew he had not voted on the question, which he certainly would have done had the question of allowance or disallowance come before the board.

And we had another copious rain on Tuesday morning.

A little son, fourteen months old, of Charles Foy, living near Bennett's mill, died on the morning of the 27th inst. The disease was flux.

The Nemaha baseballists, we understand, will be up to Brownville next Saturday to play a game with our "Clippers. It will only be a friendly practice game.

Excelsior Lodge K. P. of this city received a full set of officers jewels on Monday evening.

We begin to hear some whisperings on the corners in reference to probable candidates for state officers.

Master Emanuel Lowman returned home last Friday, after an absence of several months attending commercial school in Chicago.

We are requested to again call the attention of our city council to the absolute necessity of draining the pond of stagnant water in the rear of McPherson block.

Give Nemaha county but a half chance, and she will prove herself entitled to the name of the garden spot of Nebraska.

Last Wednesday Mr. Frank Jones, who lives a few miles southwest of this city, while in the act of mounting to the top of an old crane, threw one of his hands onto a rattle-snake which had preceded him to the top of the crib.

The total indebtedness of Richardson county is $179,700.—Globe-Journal.

The Granger makes desperate efforts to divert the attention of its readers from the main question at issue.

We have often thought that were it possible to have everything a person might want to purchase under one roof, and at the lowest price, what an amount of shoe leather and walking it would save, and what an amount of vexation.

We were slightly startled last Saturday morning on hearing the rush of waters down the branch in the rear of our office, while the sky overhead was clear and serene; which on inquiry we learned was caused by the loosening of the dam up the hollow west of town, which the boys had put in to stop the water and make a swimming hole.

We intend to close out my stock of goods by next fall, and if you need any dry goods or notions of any kind, boy's and men's clothing, hats, boots and shoes to suit it, and if any body give me a call and I will sell you goods at reduced prices and give you a bargain every time, and thereby you can save some money.

Pietro's letter failed to reach us this week.

Give Freddie a trial, and realize how happy a good barber can make you feel. First door west of Sherman House saloon.

Another heavy rain occurred on Tuesday evening, and it rained nearly all of Tuesday night and on Wednesday. Too much wet weather for crops on flat bottom lands, and for harvesting and saving the wheat crop.

On Sunday night Dr. Hollady slipped out to Reub. Berger's, and left in the arms of Mrs. Berger a nice little girl baby, and Reub is happy.

We this week saw an ear of corn sufficiently matured as a roasting ear, which was 12 inches in length and was pulled from the stalk exactly eight weeks after planting.

R. V. Hughes died on the 27th inst., after a lingering illness of several months, in the 48th year of his age.

While walking along the river bank the other day, looking at the large piles of drift-wood which had been hauled out upon the bank, we were informed by a drift-catcher that not less than 600 cords of wood had been caught this season, and near 90,000 saw logs; altogether worth near $2,000.

"Railroad meeting!" This afternoon, at 2 o'clock at the court house. Everybody turn out!

We find the foregoing emphatic demand for a railroad meeting in the Falls City Globe-Journal of last Saturday—the same day that occurred the call for elections in the Salem route precincts on the M. P. bond propositions.

We find the following item in the Seward Reporter of last week: We are informed that the Hon. H. C. Lett, of Brownville, contemplates opening a drug store in Seward at an early day, and has engaged Mr. Compton's building for that purpose.

The press of the eastern part of the state has very recently discovered that the new constitution is an unjust document, and are combining their efforts to squelch it; all because it gives the western portion of the state its just dues.

"Adversities have its uses," is an axiom as true as it is old, and seldom better illustrated than in the new business which has been established in our midst by A. Finkeltine, that of buying old iron, brass, copper, rags, paper, and even bones—articles, were it not for the pinch in money matters, which would have lain around worse than worthless, and not worth the room they occupied.

Always to be found at the house of M. B. Barnes, merchant tailor, the finest assortment of gentlemen's dress goods—neckties, scarves, collars, gloves, underwear, and the best cloth in the market for fashionable suits, which will make up at reasonable prices, and guarantee satisfaction.

Take Notice. I intend to close out my stock of goods by next fall, and if you need any dry goods or notions of any kind, boy's and men's clothing, hats, boots and shoes to suit it, and if any body give me a call and I will sell you goods at reduced prices and give you a bargain every time, and thereby you can save some money.

FROM GRANT.

A Little Girl is Instantly Killed by Lightning.

Editor Nebraska Advertiser. I will offer no apology in behalf of this hastily written article, giving an account of the terrible calamity which has befallen one of our neighbors.

During the thunder storm last Saturday, three little girls, (daughters of Mr. Towne, a farmer living little more than a mile from Grant P. O.) were playing up stairs, when the house was struck by lightning, instantly killing Emma, who was nine years of age, and seriously injuring the one next younger, while the little one escaped unhurt.

She was buried Sunday afternoon, and the number of people gathered at the grave, must have assured the afflicted family that the whole community sympathized with them in their sorrow.

It was only one, and there are others left, but which of us can give them up more readily, because that one is not our all. If it was only one wrench and the agony all past, as it is for the one who has gone, it would be easier to bear, but the dreary days and the slow moving weeks, lengthen into years before the ever present pain dies away and leaves us sadder, and yet no better prepared for the sick, which we have so lately been taught may at any time come among us.

The little girl will be much missed, for she was one of the scholars of Grant school, and a quiet attentive learner in her class at Sabbath school, where she will be missed and long remembered by her teacher, who has for the summer had charge of the class of bright eyed little girls.

May her little class-mates cherish her memory, and when ever, through their lives, they may be tempted to do wrong, let them think,

"Our dead are looking Downward with a sad surprise, All our strife of words rebuking; With their mild and loving eyes; Shall we grieve the holy angels; Shall we cloud their blessed skies?"

We are under obligations to Mrs. Whittemore for a couple of copies of the St. Albins (Vt.) Messenger. We clip the following from a notice in one of the papers, of a dramatic and musical entertainment. It will be duly appreciated by our Brownville readers:

The orchestra will be under the direction of the world renowned musician, Prof. George P. Berkeley, late of Melikov's Theatre, Chicago. Bullly for George.

On last Friday the commissioners of Richardson county made an order submitting a proposition to the precincts of that county through which the M. P. railroad would pass on the Salem route, to vote $70,000 to aid in building said road, to be done in accordance with the proposition.

Dr. Converse in "black and white," that the road should be constructed on the Salem route if that amount of bonds was voted. Salem now feels certain of getting the road, and she will undoubtedly if Dr. Converse has not reached an agreement in writing and adheres to it, for there is not much doubt that the precincts will vote the bonds. When work will be resumed on this end of the road we cannot learn.

The election will be on the 24th day of August.

DEROIN DOINGS.

With fine growing weather late crops of all kinds have a rapid upland tendency, which fills the breasts of farmers with emotions of gratitude to our all-wise yet merciful and powerful Creator for such prospects of abundance.

Dr. Fitzgerald started this week for the west with a view to settling on a homestead. The Doctor has a herd of cattle, and stock raising, perhaps, on the brain.

Deroin is now without a dispenser of medicine, and will not advertise for one until we are able to pay for practicing. If we don't sin we will not sicken, is the doctrine of the day, so we will not sin if we can help it.

Mr. E. A. Welty, of Mound City, Mo., is visiting friends in Deroin. Industry and patience will be rewarded, even in teachers. Enoch has been appointed principal of a graded school in Mound City. May success attend you, Noah.

Rev. Mr. Taylor, who resides here but travels the Grant circuit, has been home on furlough for about a month, but will start for work the coming week.

No, sister L., we cannot see as you do, yet, and notwithstanding your "vials of wrath," our lens seems to be different. But let me shake up that vial, there might be a little druggery at the bottom. You say, let no one think that law can be transgressed without punishment. I admit it, but cannot admit that there can be punishment from Deity where law is not transgressed; no, madam, not by a long shot. You quote from the bible that the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness of men. Yes; but revealed, shown, or made known through his book, or even threatened, is not an execution, don't you see? You admit that the plague is the result of natural law. The difference between us, then, is in a nutshell. I believe that the peculiar seasons produce pests of various kinds, such as moquito, chinch and potato bug, army worm, caterpillar, flies and grasshoppers, while you seem to believe that the hoppers would not have made their appearance without a special creation of them by providence, and sending them upon us as punishment of transgressed law.

PERU POINTS. Late garden "saw" is coming into market. Plenty of rain, and some of the farmers up on the bottom above town find it difficult to harvest their small grain.

Prof. Nichols has gone to Chicago, and will go from there to Minnesota to visit his mother.

Quite a number of our citizens have gone over into Iowa to work during harvest.

Dr. H. F. Howell will be in Peru on Monday the 26th, and will remain with us a few days. Can be found at the City Hotel.

Uncle Dave Randall has had his forces out working on the streets, and has made considerable change for the better.

P. C. Richards has gone on a visit to his brothers in Iowa, and talks some of moving his family, and going into business there.

We were out to Table Rock and Pawnee City last week. We found the corn crop excellent and the farmers feeling good over their prospects. Down at Cincinnati, on the south fork, the fields were almost bare, everything taken by the grasshopper.

Quite a number of our People think of going to the State Camp-meeting, which will be held at Table Rock, commencing August 10th.

John W. Swan is home from Fairmont, where he has been teaching. Johnny came home single.

Peru is very quiet since school closed, and we miss the students very much.

Prof. McKenzie and family will move back to Peru the last of August or the first of September.

I suppose these items will get down in time if we don't have another slide on our railroad track. We need dry weather for awhile for the good of our railroad and transportation.

All kinds of repairing done at Roy's furniture store.

CAN VASSERS wanted for two superb works of French art, "Little Runaway and her Pets," and the pretty pair, "The Doctor and the Dog." These pictures are worthy of a place in every home, and inexpensive enough for the simplest. Selling rapidly, and TAKE ON SHORT. We guarantee ready sales, good profits, and quick returns. Any active person who will take hold our make a handsome income. Send for our best terms at once.

The Wrong Side of the Meridian. On the down hill side of life, which an old medical writer quaintly terms "the wrong side of the meridian," when the functions decay and the frame gradually bends under the weight of years, the system requires to be sustained under the burden imposed upon it. Innumerable physical ailments and infirmities then press upon it to which it had been in earlier life a stranger. The sweet and pleasant support and solace of declining years is found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, long recognized as the most wholesome and agreeable of diffusible stimulants, the most potent of tonic alternatives. The aged and infirm may place implicit confidence in this invigorating mixture, which not only relieves those maladies to which old age is peculiarly subject, but in a measure retards the encroachment of time upon the constitution.

Of course the Roman Catholics have as much right to their faith as others of different faith, and without doubt they are as correct in their doctrine as other sects. Pity they cannot "enjoy religion" without interfering with other people. Religious intolerance is the most unreasonable and outrageous of all human tyrannies. Oh! religion! bright and beautiful; what horrid acts are committed in thy name. The American people will not let any sectarian body, Catholic or Protestant, have any unlawful interference with their political or religious right. It will not do.

"Coming home again." Welcome back to the dear old Republican party. Its foundations are broad and sure; let the people stand on them and the nation is safe. Forsake them, and build on other foundations, and our cherished republic is fated—lost. But they are coming back. Let the fatted calf be killed; bring out the best robe; let us have music and dancing, and be merry, for the dead are alive, the lost are found.

Mr. Frank Jones, who is living on Dr. Crane's place, was bitten by a rattlesnake last Friday. His life was threatened, but is now doing well.

Mr. Sykes of Brownville gave us a call. He is a very agreeable gentleman. His beautiful gift of song makes a call from him very pleasant; besides sweet tones flowed from the organ as his skillful fingers touched the keys. Children of song contribute much to the joy of earth. Glad to have Mr. Sykes call again.

Mr. E. A. Welty, of Mound City, Mo., is visiting friends in Deroin. Industry and patience will be rewarded, even in teachers. Enoch has been appointed principal of a graded school in Mound City. May success attend you, Noah.
