We notice that Hannaford is constantly receiving large lots of new furniture, and is selling it too. He is doing the best and most satisfactory furniture business ever done in this city; as he always has just what is wanted and at the lowest prices. As we write this item we see three wagons of farmers driving from his door loaded with bureaus, chairs, bedsteads, safes, wardrobes, etc., and so it is from day to day. If you want bargains in furniture come to Brownville. Dress Goods, at Lowman's. Gloves and Mittens, at McGee & Bro's. Our worthy county commissioners have done another good thing. It was this: In settling with the editor of the Granger for printing the delinquent tax-list, they compelled that gentleman to pay $100.00 of old personal tax which he had owed the county for several years, and heretofore refused to pay. The Granger man, in the depth of his little soul, groans over this act of "oppression"—compelling him to pay an honest debt. He didn't want to pay it, but the commissioners had the "drop" on him under a new statutory provision, and when he saw there was "no use talking," he surrendered. HEATING STOVES, the nicest, noblest, cheapest, and best heaters, coming for Stevenson & Cross.

Felt Skirts at Lowman's. Machine Needles, for Stevenson & Cross. Full line of sample piece goods at Hannersford's. See McPherson's big advertisement, and profit thereby. Books, Slates, Inks, Pens, Pencils, and everything you need, at Nickell's drug store. Enquire for McPherson's new store—where Nace's grocery has hitherto been—he is now opening the largest stock of all kinds of goods, and clothing, in the city. See his big advertisement. COOK STOVES, the finest stoves and cheapest prices, by Stevenson & Cross. For your Harness and Saddles, go to Bauer's. Ladies' and Children's Furs, at McGee & Bro's. Brownville has acquired the reputation of selling goods cheaper than any other town in Southern Nebraska, and if you want a practical demonstration of the fact, go to McPherson's new store and price his goods and examine their quality. See his new advertisement. 10,000 Bolts Wall paper just received at Nickell's drug store, a little cheaper than ever. Everything at Lowman's. Ladies, of city and country, whether you wish to purchase any goods or not, you should go and see Dr. McPherson's new stock of every thing delightful in your line. The Dr. and his obliging clerk, Harry Dolan will be pleased to show their goods. Bain Platform and Three-Spring Wagons—none to compare with them in price, style and finish, by Stevenson & Cross. The Boston Transcript, speaking of that dreaded child disease, croup, says: "Croup can be cured in one minute, and the remedy is simply alum and sugar. The way to accomplish the deed is to take a knife or grate, and shave off in small particles about a teaspoonful of slum; then mix it with twice its quantity of sugar, to make it palatable, and administer it as quickly as possible. Almost instantaneous relief will follow." We cordially invite the trade of all. In Richardson county John W. Holt was elected Treasurer over F. W. Miller, and W. H. Hay was elected clerk over L. A. Ryan. G. H. Pearson was elected Sheriff, and Frank Martin, attorney at law, was elected County Judge. S. S. Jones, Superintendent of schools. Richardson county has just elected the best set of county officers she has had for many years. Cigars! Cigars! Cigars! By Stevenson & Cross. Cassimers at Lowman's. Brownville Division, No. 19, Sons of Temperance, was organized in November, 1872. The Division will have an anniversary meeting and supper at their hall, on Friday, Nov. 16th, at which all the members with the members of their families are invited to be present. It will be a basket supper. Side Meat at Huddart's Family Grocery Store. Be careful or you may occasionally have a 20 cent piece shoved on to you for a nickel. That game was played on us the other day but the fellow, we are confident, didn't mean any harm by it, we forgive him. Allen's choice flour, by Stevenson & Cross. An exchange has the following sensible suggestion: "Instead of the withered things commonly found in bins, or on the cellar bottom, bests, carrots, etc., as fresh and crisp as when dug, can be had all through the winter, by putting them down in boxes or barrels in layers of sand or dirt." On Wednesday morning Charley and Howard, two sons of D. H. McLaughlin, respectively aged about fifteen and twelve years, were hunting rats about the stable, the elder armed with a small single barrel pistol. It's the same old story—the weapon in some way was accidentally discharged, the ball penetrating Howard's breast. It struck him in the center of the breast and ranged to the right side, and downward. Of course the wound is serious and may prove fatal. Rubber Boots and Shoes, at McGee & Bro's. GROCERIES; a full line of the best, by Stevenson & Cross. Arrangements are made with the publishers of THE ADVERTISER by which students can enter the Great Mercantile College, Keokuk, Iowa, at about half price. The Great Mercantile College is bringing a practical education within the reach of thousands of young men who can not afford to attend the high priced colleges. Blankets at Lowman's. We have just received from St. Louis a fine bill of paper and card board. If you want letter heads, note heads, bill heads, business or visiting cards, etc., give us a call. We have excellent stock, and can do work promptly on order, and warrant satisfaction. We are prepared to do the best, neatest and cheapest job work on the shortest notice. Cod Fish, at Huddart's.

In Memoriam. TO MOLLIE HOLLADAY SMITH. Sweet Day! so cool, so calm, so bright, The bride of the earth and sky, The dew shall weep thy fall to-night— For thou must die. Sweet Rose! whose hue, angry and brave, Bids the rash gazer wipe his eye, Thy riot is ever in thy grave— And thou must die. Sweet Spring! full of sweet days and roses, A box where sweets compacted lie, My must show ye have your close— And all must die. Only a sweet and virtuous soul, Like seasoned timber, never gives, But through the whole world turn to coal It ways lives. DIED. Brownville, Nebraska, November 10th, 1877, of pulmonary consumption, MRS. MOLLIE HOLLADAY SMITH, aged 25 years, wife of DELOSS T. SMITH. The deceased was eldest child of DOCTOR A. S. and LUCRETIA HOLLADAY, two of the oldest citizens of this place. She was born in Oregon, Holt county, Missouri, October 21, 1852, and with her parents came to Brownville November 24, 1855, where she resided continuously until the day of her death. Mollie Holladay and DeLoss Smith were married December 23rd, 1875. The pathway along life's journey to them, was lighted by the noon-day sun, and led "through green pastures and beside still waters," until clouded and darkened by the fell Destroyer. Never so thrillingly sad message passed from mouth to mouth as that on Saturday morning last—"Mollie Smith is dead!" Only a few hours had intervened, when in buoyant life and health, herself, husband and intimate relations, watched the realization of that ideal in marital life—a "first-born." Suddenly the hills fell and a torn from lips, and wife, mother, and father's image, side by side, slept in the cold embrace of Monster Death. The fearful shock was felt by the entire community. The last sad rites and respects of earth are paid. Relatives, friends and neighbors meet and mingle sympathetic tears; floral offerings are presented; to DeLoss uttered; the long procession of mourners move slowly to funeral time of tolling bell, and all that is mortal is laid away in yonder church yard, 'neath the spreading branches of stately oak. "Then, with tranquil and submissive hearts, they turned away and left her with God," indulging the belief that "in the Destroyer's steps there spring up bright creations; that His dark path becomes the way of light." In that lonely spot winter winds sighing through forest limb and leaf, will chant requiems, and summer suns and falling dews warm into being the greenward to carpet the spot where loved ones sleep, unto the resurrection morn. One whose "heart throbs for others' woes," would find indole "In Memoriam." But " * * * * * faltering fingers drop the pen, And wordless thoughts keep lips dumb. What can we write? What can we say? Those better skilled would need to pause For words to make the deed seem All the living was. And praiseful phrases—line on line, Can naught of worth or beauty lend To her for whom we mourn As wife, daughter, sister, friend." While young in years, the departed was one of the oldest residents of city, county and state. "Mollie Holladay" was a name as familiar with our people as household words. She grew up among us from infancy to womanhood—twenty-two years. "Was known in our schools, churches, social gatherings and homes." "None knew but to love—none named but to praise" her. "Not because she was of rich family, or high lineage; but for her own sake." Because she was lovely, kind, gentle, radiant and of good repute. Her form and face will be seen no more; her voice heard no more. But her memory will be precious and cherished. In that better land—"over yonder"—she will wait and watch for those she loved here—"Father, I will that they whom thou has given me here, be with me where I am." "She hath seen her happy day— She hath had her blissful bloom. Now she parteth and shrinks away, Earth, unto thy gentle bosom. She hath done her bidding here." FRIENDS.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Furnished by Special Correspondents for The Advertiser. London. The snow is all gone. Mr. C. Thorp is pronounced better.

Miss Priscilla Perry has been spending a few days in London. The guest of Julia Harding. Republicans you have done well in electing your ticket. And you, Democrats, who voted that ticket, have done well too. We want no such acts on the political body as that "Independent" party. Such excesses must be removed. It is a stench in the nostrils of those who are politically sound and wise. Now you, who the people have chosen to serve them, look well to the interests of the people whom you serve, and that will be for the best interest of you too. Be faithful to the trust committed to you. Remember where there is respectability there is accountability. There are some fearful reckonings to be settled yet in the government of the republic. Be wise so you may hand in your accounts with "joy and not grief." And you who have failed in the office you so much coveted, consider it the best thing that could have happened to you, not to succeed on such a ticket. Look out, and not be led by blind guides into political swamps. Be content to move in the sphere for which you are fitted, and if there is any ability in you for anything higher, the people will find it out, and when you are wanted they will call for you.

One of the largest gatherings of people in this place, was last Sunday, at the Christian church, to hear Elder Cartwright, and then to witness the baptisms. Five were immersed, seven in all since the meeting commenced—all young persons—two quite young. May these young persons, who have started to live the heavenly life, remember that however important and essential the military steps may be, they will not make their lives beautiful, and prepare them for that higher life "beyond" if they do not follow the Master, whom they have vowed to follow, and become more like the Christ. May the Lord bless them.

Renovation, not Prostration. Did any enfeebled human being ever become strong under the operation of powerful cathartics or salivators? It is sometimes necessary to regulate the bowels, but that cannot be done by active purgation, which exhausts the vital forces and serves no good purpose whatever. The only true way to invigorate, discipline and purify the system is at the same time. The extraordinary efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in cases of debility or irregularity of the organs of digestion, assimilation, secretion and discharge, is universally admitted. Appetite, good digestion, a regular habit of body, active circulation of the blood, and purity of all the animal fluids are induced by this superior tonic and corrective. It has no equals, moreover, as a preventive of cholera and fever, and other types of malarial diseases. To emigrants and travelers it is particularly serviceable as a medicinal safeguard.

A CARD. To all who are suffering from the errors and indirections of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you. FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. Joseph T. Inman, Station D, Bible House, New York City. 1971

Mineral Potions. When Mellett told the Doctor to "throw physic to the dogs," and added that he would take none of it, he was doubtless addressing one of those empiric who prescribe Mercury, Calomel, Bismuth, Quinine and Arsenic for every disease they have occasion to treat in the course of their practice. Mineral poison when once taken into the system is excreting in its effects, and can never be eradicated, but is a source of perpetual trouble, causing pains and aches to affect the surface of the body, and rendering the system incapable of doing any good work. The only safety lies in purely vegetable remedies, such as Dr. Radcliff's Seven Seas or Golden Wonder, which is a sovereign remedy in a great variety of the most common and malignant diseases.

DEATHS. PASCOE—In this city, November 8, 1877, Joseph John Pascoe, aged 32 years. Mr. Pascoe was born in Cornwall, England, came to the United States in the year 1856, and to Brownville in 1859. He was a most excellent citizen, an exemplary member of the M. E. Church, and a devoted father of two little children—a boy and a girl—he mourns the loss of an affectionate husband and father.

HUNT—In St. Joseph, Missouri, on the 6th of November, 1877, William H. Hunt, aged 70 years, died. He was a native of Virginia, and had resided in Missouri for many years. He was a most excellent citizen, and a devoted father of two little children—a boy and a girl—he mourns the loss of an affectionate husband and father.

Adieu, thou household darling, Thou hast part from life away, Thy dear angelic form has gone To mingle with the clay.

Mr. Levi Johnson, of Nemaha City, went up to Omaha Wednesday morning.

W. H. McCREERY Has Fresh Drugs, Wall Paper, School and Blank Books, Bird Cages, Paints, Glass Oils, etc., at lower prices than any house in Brownville.
