On Thursday last week we were favored with calls by Dr. McGlumphy, assistant Superintendent, and Clay Shurts, Steward, of the State Insane Hospital. They report the institution in good condition since the new Superintendent, Dr. Matthewson, has been installed. They desire to meet all their friends—give a huge "Soiree," as it were—and welcome in the New Year with music and mirth. During the evening Geo. D. Prentice's beautiful poem, "The Closing Year" will be read by one of the members of the Band. At the hour of 11 o'clock the concert will conclude, and those who wish to trip "the light fantastic toe, in the mazes of the dance" for an hour or two, will have an opportunity to do so. The above hour has been named in order that those who do not desire to participate in this kind of amusement, will have a full evening's enjoyment in advance, and if so disposed can retire before dancing commences. Further particulars in regard to price of admission to hall, supper, etc., will be given in due time. Marshal Lannan wishes us to inform the citizens of Brownville that he will enforce the ordinance restraining cattle from running at large. Be wise and heed this notice. More new Clothing, at McGee & Bro's. Beat salt, $2, by Stevenson & Cross. Mr. Ross Witherly has returned to Brownville, and his many old friends and customers are glad to see him back on his old "stamping ground." Another new lot of Boots, Shoes, Arctics and Wool Lined Goods, just received, at A. Robinson's. I have now in my employ a first class baker, and will be pleased to furnish my customers with all varieties of fancy cakes. Large cakes made to order. B. STROBLE. The Nellie Boyd Dramatic Company will open in McPherson Hall Monday, December 17, and continue through the week. Nellie Boyd, the people's favorite, and J. W. Toohy, the popular comedian, are supported by the best company traveling. Reserved seats at H. H. Dolen's, without extra charge. On Thursday last week we were favored with calls by Dr. McGlumphy, assistant Superintendent, and Clay Shurts, Steward, of the State Insane Hospital. They report the institution in good condition since the new Superintendent, Dr. Matthewson, has been installed. They desire to meet all their friends—give a huge "Soiree," as it were—and welcome in the New Year with music and mirth. During the evening Geo. D. Prentice's beautiful poem, "The Closing Year" will be read by one of the members of the Band. At the hour of 11 o'clock the concert will conclude, and those who wish to trip "the light fantastic toe, in the mazes of the dance" for an hour or two, will have an opportunity to do so. The above hour has been named in order that those who do not desire to participate in this kind of amusement, will have a full evening's enjoyment in advance, and if so disposed can retire before dancing commences. Further particulars in regard to price of admission to hall, supper, etc., will be given in due time. Marshal Lannan wishes us to inform the citizens of Brownville that he will enforce the ordinance restraining cattle from running at large. Be wise and heed this notice. More new Clothing, at McGee & Bro's. Beat salt, $2, by Stevenson & Cross. Mr. Ross Witherly has returned to Brownville, and his many old friends and customers are glad to see him back on his old "stamping ground." Having returned to stay, he has gone into the tinsorial business in partnership with Mr. Hawkins—first door West of Carson's Bank. The new firm have repaired and renovated their shop and otherwise improved its appearance, and are ready to attend to customers in the latest and most approved styles of the art tinsorial. Hawkins & Witherly are both good barbers and will secure a due share of the public patronage. COOK STOVES: the finest stoves and cheapest prices, by Stevenson & Cross. For your Harness and Saddles, go to Bauers'. Ladies' and Children's Furs, at McGee & Bro's. Beat salt, $2, by Stevenson & Cross. Cod Fish, at Huddart's. Nemaha County Bible Society.
