

THE ADVERTISER.

Harvest of fall sown wheat and rye is going on vigorously this week.

It is rumored about that Stevenson & Cross are doing a big furniture business.

Many acres of land around Bennett's mill, at Nemaha, is covered with water caused by the heavy rains of last week. Some crops will be ruined.

A nice Berkshire pig laid down and died in front of Mr. Wilcox's residence last Saturday. Some one had stuck a two pronged pitchfork into it.

Parties wishing Threshing Machines will do well to call and see the Overblast, at

R. S. Hannaford received this week a large stock of new furniture of every description, which he will sell low down. Call and get his prices.

The Peru Herald insists that there is enough horse capital about that should be banked, and that one should be started at once. We shouldn't wonder.

The fact is that the Herald has more than doubled its circulation and gained an advertising list that is larger than any paper of her size in the state.

Well, is that so? We were not aware of the sex of the Herald before, and shall go up and see her. We thought she was a he all this time.

The Lodge Deputies of each lodge in the county are requested to meet at the editorial rooms of THE ADVERTISER, on Saturday, 20th inst., at 1 P. M. to arrange a programme for the public meeting of the District Lodge.

Bestride Courier: Dory Hacker, of the Brownville Advertiser, has been appointed postmaster at that city. They say that Church Howe and G. B. Moore are mad for a fact.

Two of our warlike citizens had what some people term a fight, at Hankschick's, last Monday afternoon. They contributed about $15 to the general school fund.

Born, on the night of the 23rd ult., to Wils. E. Moore, a son. This is Wils' first boy. He set up the cigars and soda in a handsome manner, and has the hearty congratulations of everybody.

J. D. Calhoun says he has the finest piece of corn he ever saw at this stage of the season.—Bloomington Courier.

Our sporting men—that is the "crack shots" of the city—and others who desire to join them—will take their fun down on the fair ground shooting pigeons and balls. Many who will not leave the city will also be present to witness the exciting sport; and it has been suggested that some will take their baskets of good things, and ice and lemons, and have a quiet picnic. That will be nice if carried out.

The Northern Indian, Warsaw, Ind., has the following complimentary notice for our new P. M.

A GOOD APPRENTICE.—Those who remember Theodore C. Hacker, who resided at this place in earlier years, and who was connected with the Indian when it was first launched on the sea of journalism, will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed postmaster of Brownville, Nebraska, the place where he has resided for the past twenty years, and where himself and G. W. Fairbrother are now publishing the Brownville Advertiser. We were highly gratified to hear of this appointment, and the merited recognition of an old acquaintance of this paper.

Salt, another car, $1.85 per barrel. STEVENSON & CROSS.

Important to School Officers. LINCOLN, June 29, 1878.

From various quarters information is sent to this office that parties are engaged in selling to the school districts a set of mathematical charts, of very doubtful value, and at an exorbitant price. School officers are cautioned against buying articles of this kind without consulting the county superintendent. In no case should warrants or school orders be given for goods till the goods are received. They are also reminded that it is illegal to make individual contracts with agents. All such business should be done at the meetings of the board. County Superintendents are requested to bring this to the attention of School Boards.

H. C. LETT Has filled his store full of Fresh Drugs and Groceries. He can sell you all you need for the best and the Fourth, just a little cheaper than you can buy them of any house in Southern Nebraska. Prove it by giving him a trial.

Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup has never failed to give immediate relief when used in cases of summer complaint. Mothers, when your little darlings are suffering from these or kindred causes do not hesitate to give it a trial; you will surely be pleased with the charming effect. Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup is sold by A. W. Nickell, at 25 cts per bottle. If

A true and consistent man always has the respect of his enemies; but the traitor and the vaunting man "loses his grip" on all.

The man who wavers and falls out of ranks when his services are needed, will not be kept on picket duty. He must take a back seat.

We can think of several politicians who may think the flashes of the foregoing observations are turned directly upon them. Well, of course we have a character in our mind.

A maxim that his nobility is worthless. These are indited with no malicious intent, nor with the hope of learning old dogs new tricks, but the young man just entering the political arena may gather an idea or two that may be of use to him.

SANDWICHES.

Fourth of July. Rained hard Friday night. This is the day we celebrate. Graham Flour, at Huddart's. Bait wagons are in demand. Wils. Majors is happy—a boy. Rained very hard Saturday night. Masquard ball at Peru to-night. Cash paid for butter at Huddart's. Dan. Rice is in Plattsmonth today.

Churns and fish, by Stevenson & Cross. Our paper is issued this week on the 4th. The Sherman House is being newly painted.

Everything in the family grocery line at Huddart's. For your fly nets and horse covers, go to Bauer's. Harness, saddles and whips, by Stevenson & Cross.

Lightning rod men are still here. "Look a little out." John Davis is supplying this market with nice cabbage.

Custom work neat, prompt and reliable, at Pat Cline's. Nice stock of clocks, watches and jewelry, at Joseph Schutz'. Kennedy & Gates are running the Union Hotel. See card.

Stevenson & Cross are doing a large furniture business. Dory will move the P. O. into the Joe Schutz building.

Nuts, candy, raisins, oranges and lemons, by Stevenson & Cross. Nice lot of new job and advertising type just received at this office.

Stevenson & Cross are still selling best quality Groceries at lowest prices. The best opening in this country for a flouring mill is at Brownville.

A nice line of wedding presents are now kept by Stevenson & Cross. We understand that Jake and little Chris. will run a foot-race on our streets to-day.

The State Journal says glanders prevails among the horses of that locality to a great extent. Silver weddings are not very expensive yet very enjoyable. Brownville is a good place to live.

Money to loan in sums of $200 to $500, on two and three years' time. Apply to William H. Hoover. Mr. Jas. H. Drayton last week purchased the stock of goods and business house of Kralon Skeen, Nemaha City.

Robert Tearse says he will, notwithstanding the fire, be able to supply all customers with McCormick machines. Kennedy & Gates are offering to the public, at the Union House, first class meals at 25 cents. Farmers, please call.

If you want a good horse made boot or shoe, go to Pat Cline's. He always keeps on hand the best brands of French calf and kip leather. John Bondfield says: "Tell the readers of THE ADVERTISER that I am in the hog business, and will pay fair prices for all that I can get."

Eld. T. L. Cartwright will preach at the Pleasant Valley school house, two and one-half miles southwest of Brownville, Saturday evening, July 6th, 1878.

The Sheridan transfer makes regular trips from Brownville to Sheridan, rain or shine. Beason says, "No postponement on account of weather."

The Dan Rice circus was here last Friday. We thought it about the "thinnest" circus we ever saw. The attendance from the country was unusually small.

Mr. Wm. Stevens spent a few days with his friends and looking after his business in this city last week, and on Saturday returned to his home in Council Bluffs.

The Brownville band has concluded, on account of the recent heavy rains, which have made the road to Harmon's Grove almost impassable, to stay at home and celebrate.

J. R. Hawkins wishes to say that he is prepared to shave, shampoo, cut your hair or dye your whiskers, as cheap as any barber in the west, and guarantee satisfaction.

We understand that G. W. Bratton is going into the grocery business again, at the old stand, on 6th street, and T. L. Jones will move his stock of goods into the room between the postoffice and Huddart's grocery store.

We call the attention of the city fathers, or the marshal, or somebody whose business it is to attend to such things, to the frog-pond, or hog-wallow on the site of the ruins of Ben Rogers' livery stable on first street. It is an unhealthy hole and ought to be filled up.

Stevenson & Cross are selling a few goods, such as hardware, stoves, fire-ware, glassware, queensware, wooden-ware, glassware, silverware, iron, wagon timber, fish, harness, saddles, whips, cigars, pumps, downspouts, furniture, fruit, carpets, seats, paints, oil, glass, flour, traps, threshers, school furniture, shavers, horse shoes, ice, curtains, and several hundred articles too numerous to mention.

There are few offices, if any, in the State with a better or larger assortment of type for all kinds of job printing, cards, bill, or letter heads, etc., than THE ADVERTISER, and as to paper and other material we cannot be excelled, for we keep the very best manufactured anywhere. Our stock of envelopes is also large and varied in size, color and quality. We therefore warrant satisfaction to our patrons in style of work, material and charges.

LOCAL PERSONALS.

Manny Lowman returned from Lincoln Saturday. Mr. — McCreery, father of Mrs. Lett and W. H. McCreery, this city, went to St. Joe Tuesday. Robt. Bennett, one of St. Joe's commercial men, spent Sunday with his friends in Brownville. Pat. Cline will start Saturday for a visit to relatives in Toledo, Ohio. He will be gone a week or ten days. Friend Gaillet, of Benton, was in the city and called on THE ADVERTISER Wednesday of this week. He is duly appointed our agent in that section.

Mr. Ed. Benedict, an old attaché of the Granger, left the city a few mornings ago—left for Colorado, we understand—leave with his numerous creditors were out of bed. We hope Ed. didn't leave with the intention of permanently wronging anybody, and that he will yet pay up all his debts. Jim Stevenson now wears a new white plug hat, and when mounted on his bob-lab Robin, gently receding from his close inspection, one is reminded of a preacher of the "iron slides" species. This is simply another warning to never estimate a person's true inwardness by outside appearances, for Jim is still the boss grocer of Southern Nebraska.

Our paper is issued this week on the 4th. The Sherman House is being newly painted. Everything in the family grocery line at Huddart's.

CITY COUNCIL.

The City Council held its regular meeting for July on Monday evening, 1st inst.

Present, Mayor Rogers, Councilmen Robinson, Body, Judkins, Meerer, Hill and Neidhart, and J. B. Docker, clerk.

The ordinance for licensing auctioneers was amended so as to grant license for $50 a year, or for any period less than a year at not less than $10 a month.

An ordinance regulating peddlers was adopted, providing that it shall be unlawful for any street peddler, hawk or itinerant retailer of goods, wares, or merchandise of any description, patented or otherwise, to solicit orders, or to retail or offer for sale in wagons or carriages, the same within the corporate limits of the city, without first obtaining a license to so peddle. The price of such license being fixed at $10.

Mrs. Drury applied for remission of tax. Referred to finance committee. Accounts allowed amounting to $37.15.

Petition of J. Henschel, to retail beer, presented, and laid over under the rule.

The following was agreed upon as the levy for taxes for 1878: General fund.....$100,000.00 Improvement bonds.....50,000.00 Road fund.....10,000.00 Total.....$160,000.00

A motion was made by Mr. Hill, and carried, that no tax be levied for payment of interest on railroad indebtedness.

Fly nets, Horse covers, and lap dusters, low down for cash, at Sander's.

Editor Nebraska Advertiser. SNOWVILLE, Mo., June 29, 1878.

I wish to engage in breeding and raising hogs, and would like your views on the advantages of Brownville for this business. If you think it will be agreeable to your citizens, and a profitable enterprise, I will bring into the city one hundred sows with an average of five pigs apiece. I understand but little feeding will be required, as an abundance of vegetables and grass can be obtained in your gardens and bluegrass yards. This will be quite a saving, and it really looks like it ought to pay, yet I will be influenced by what you think about it.

Joe Smith. Ah, that's business, Mr. Joe Smith. You have struck the right town. Bring up your old sows and pigs. There are about ten thousand hogs now running promiscuously over the city, and doing well. There's room for a few more, and plenty of truck left.

The regular July meeting of the Board of County Commissioners was held this week. The full minutes could not be obtained for this issue but will be published next week. One of the most important matters transacted was the refusal to levy a tax to pay interest on R. R. bonds in Brownville, Lincoln, Nemaha City and Assiniboia precincts. This action was backed by large petitions from some of the precincts. The following annual levy was made:

For Sale Tax.....$100,000.00 County general fund.....$50,000.00 support of Poor Farm.....$10,000.00 Bridge fund.....$5,000.00 County B. Bonds.....$10,000.00 Per cent. profit, for interest on B. Bonds.....$10,000.00 Total.....$185,000.00

The contracts for building from bridge at Fisher's and Howard—both on the Nemaha—were let to C. W. Wheeler. Contract for building small bridges and culverts was let to Chas. Dundas.

Sheriff Black informs us that there was no warrant issued for preacher Bryant, as we stated last week. We are informed that another mistake was the statement that Mrs. Conoras' injured husband of Bryant's lady proposition to be immediately on his return home, the truth being that Bryant remained at Conoras' several weeks after, and that the matter came to the ears of Elder Conoran by accident, or through another source. However, this may be we do not pretend to say, but we do know that it raises a serious question of veracity among some of the Elders.

What causes all this excitement on the Streets? Why, L. Lowman is selling off 500 hats at astonishing prices, while he almost gives away the finest of furnishing goods. To be convinced of this fact, crowd into his store and see for yourself.

I wish to sell the furniture and good will of the Marsh House. Will trade for a good farm. This is a good chance for some man that wants to go into the hotel business. I mean business. Call and see me soon. JOSEPH O'PELT.

If these are such good goods, how can you sell them so cheap? Because we bought them at bankrupt sale and hence can undersell any other man. L. LOWMAN.

The growing corn these times just gets right down to it and grows—and so do the weeds. Lucky is the farmer who had his field free of weeds before the late heavy rains.

It seems that the report of serious damage to spring wheat by rust, was a false alarm. The spring wheat is all right and promises unusually heavy yield.

The London items and a notice of a Fourth of July celebration at Howard, were received last week on Thursday, while our paper, adjusted, was printed Wednesday afternoon.

LONDON ITEMS. [These items were written for our last week's issue.—EDITOR.]

Now is the time for the "Barley Harvest," and we catch some of the sweet inspirations like unto those which made beautiful the soul of Burns.

The picnic last Saturday was a very pleasant gathering. The children did honor to themselves and credit to their teacher. After dinner some of the citizens gave brief practical addresses.

Eld. Row preached in the Christian Church last Thursday evening. He is an earnest, eloquent man. He says he has not time to waste in pulling down creeds. It would be well if many others could learn something of the value of time. If a person cannot find enough of the sublimity of truth, and beauty of sentiment, and glory of inspiration in the gospel of Christ to let the people, without a mad attack at creeds, he had better quit preaching.

The storm of the rust panic has swept over the wheat fields and left the wheat sound and healthy—a good prospect for plenty of bread, and bread bread too. Nebraska! how soon will it be before it is beyond "hog meat?"

Yes, it is a "rich scandal!" but if there are no stones cast except by those "without sin," there will not be much harm done the "sister." For people without sin do not throw stones. "The preacher!" Well, have ye not heard that where "little is given little is required." A fearful mania has seized the people to "preach," and every one at the "Receipt of Customs," and every "fisherman" has meant leaving their nets thinking it meant them. But, goodness! every "net maker" is not intended to be "Paul."

How the inspirations if individuals are woven together, making one thick network of human thought. Years ago in an academy in New York, often in our reading lessons we would have a beautiful poetic inspiration, and at its close would read Bryant. At a time when I was striving with wild adoration at the shining of the lofty genius of Byron, whose daring flights would reach where "angels dare not tread," and where the turbulent waves from the boisterous ocean of his thought would stir the depths of my soul—then would come those sweet and serene inspirations of Bryant like a breath from heaven. It seems but as yesterday when a beloved teacher would say, "you may analyze

The groves were God's first temples— Before man learned to hew the shaft or lay the architect's plan.

And I remember well the influence of those words; and I weep over the new made grave of William Callen Bryant. But the angels of Callen Bryant's says of the ascended poet and brother, "He is not there, he is risen."

"To the Rockies and Beyond." The above is the title of a pleasing and instructive work fresh from the Western press. It is an admirably condensed account of a summer's travel in the Rocky Mountain States and Territories, by that well-known correspondent, Robert E. Strahorn, and is crowded with useful information as well as with versions of delightful mountaineering experiences. Fond of sight-seeing in new lands, the author pleasantly introduces us to the grandest and most beautiful scenic attractions in the Western mountains; a devoted "disciple of the gun and rod," he leads us through the wildest Rocky Mountain hunting grounds and by the side of the finest trout streams and lakes; keeping eyes and ears open for the "main chance," he is enabled to make valuable observations on the vast areas of unsettled farming lands, the wonderful stock ranges where cattle and horses take care of themselves the year round, and on the gold and silver mining regions, where fortunes are sometimes lost but more often won. The writer has spent considerable time as a correspondent in the Black Hills, Big Horn and San Juan regions, and furnishes special articles on all of these sections. To fill a vast amount of useful information concerning routes, distances, expense of travel and living in the many different localities described, all obtained recently from personal observation. A large and entirely new map of the region covered by the book is one of its most valuable features. The work contains 141 large pages and is profusely illustrated with gems of Rocky Mountain scenery. The really extraordinary part of it, however, is that any one can obtain a sample copy free of charge by applying to Thos. L. Kimball, Omaha, Nebraska.

Why suffer with such a dreadful cough and cold? For 25 cents you can purchase of your druggist a bottle of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup, and your cure is certain. Sold by Nickell.
