YAKOB. It was a saying in the family that "Sue was the poet, Joe the financier, and Charley—had discovered Yakob."

THE MANATEE. The London Telegraph thus describes the curious creature, which is supposed to be the original of the fabled mermaid.

QUICK WORK. Bread From Standing Wheat in Four Minutes and Thirty-Seven Seconds.

A Narrow Escape. A remarkable case of mistaken identity occurred at St. Louis recently.

Satisfied to Lose. There were five of them, says the Sacramento Bee, as they had assembled in a cigar store near Capital Hotel.

Old Uncle Tom. On Thursday your correspondent had the pleasure of half an hour's chat with Rev. Josiah Henson.

What about Eva and Topsy? I suppose they are assumed names? Uncle Tom—Eva, you remember, was St. Clair's child.

Cor.—You must have endured trying hardships, Mr. Henson? Uncle Tom—Yes, sir, I have. I have never been the same man since both my arms were broken by that tyrant (meaning Legree).

Cor.—You stated that you were acquainted with Mrs. Stowe about that time. How did she come to write the book? Uncle Tom—I got our sufferings put into print! and Mrs. Stowe got hold of a copy of it.
