DIED.—On the 20th inst., in St. Deroin precinct, Pearly F., daughter of F. H. D. and V. M. Hunt, of pneumonia, aged three months and seven days.

How early stinks the setting sun. Yet twilight lingers still. And beautiful as dream of heaven, it tumbles on the hill.

Earth sleeps with all her glorious things beneath the Holy Spirit's wing. And rendering back the hues above, seems resting in a trance of love.

A butterfly basked on an infant's grave. Where a lily had chance to grow; why art thou here with thy gaudy dye, where she of the bright and sparkling eye must sleep in the churchyard low.

Thank my patrons and the public in general for the liberal share of their patronage. I wish them all a happy and prosperous New Year.

LOCAL PERSONALS.

Miss Anna Marsh, this city, is visiting friends at Glen Rock.

See the card of Giel Bro's, Sheridan, dealers in merchandises and produce.

Stevenson & Cross has the thanks of "ye local" for a nice can of fresh oysters.

J. L. Sanders, of Beat Hill, Ills., is visiting his brother, Mr. H. T. Sanders, this city.

Elder D. B. Coryell will preach in the Christian Church, Thursday evening 2nd inst.

John Casper, Nebraska City, aged 17, accidentally shot and killed himself while hunting, last Saturday.

J. B. Finech, the temperance lecturer, promises to be in this city, to begin a series of lectures, on the 19th inst.

Conductor Tom Ryan, one of the most efficient and gentlemanly conductors connected with the B. & M., has removed to Nemaha City.

Joe Huddart, Phil. Fraker, Berger & Campbell, Joe O'Pelt, and probably others, are putting up ice, and a splendid article it is too—about a foot thick.

The Rural New Yorker is publishing a series of engravings of Nebraska apples. The originals were sent from this county by Gov. Furnas.

Christmas at Fairview.

The citizens of Fairview and vicinity concluded to have an old fashioned Santa Claus Christmas tree on Christmas evening.

Accordingly committees were appointed and they went to work with a will and determination to succeed.

Mr. Geo. Crow furnished the tree from his orchard, a "beautiful apple," which was duly trimmed by the fair young ladies of the vicinity.

The presents were tastefully arranged so as to have the appearance of a raindeer loaded with toys and gifts. A hasty glance through the groaning trees (as it was literally full and many parcels left on the table) showed that considerable money and time had been spent in purchasing and manufacturing the articles thereon.

The exercises commenced by a song, "Thoughts of Childhood," followed by Prayer by Rev. H. Presson, after which, while he was speaking of the occasion, Old Santa came out from his hiding place.

and mounting on his stand, proceeded to hand out the contents of the tree to whoever they belonged to. Among the more valuable we will only mention a few:

Miss Cora McIninch received a fine gold ring and set of ears, Miss Anna Blount set of ears, Miss Maud Minick set of ears, Mrs. Dowell suit of clothes, Mrs. E. Allen set silver flower vases, Mrs. S. Bryant large family bible, Jas. Kite a very handsome gilt edged bible.

Presented by Security Lodge, S. W. Kennedy tobacco set, Mrs. Mollie Culwell large show mitts, Mrs. E. Bryant ball calico, Owen Monthall scarf and mitts, Joel Culwell overcoat, D. W. Pierson roll fence wire, and many other valuable gifts.

After the tree was unloaded and the song "Good Night" sung, the exercises closed. It was fully an hour before the audience left, as all seemed to feel it was good to be there, and many kind remembrances will follow the Christmas Tree at Fairview.

A. J. S. For a handsome veil go to J. L. McGee's. A New lot of men's and boys' overcoats very cheap at McGee & Moore's.

SHERIDAN ITEMS.

E. M. Long's little boy is very sick. Mrs. James Barnard is sick with intermittent fever.

One of our citizens who is very fond of corn in a liquid state, went to Brownville a few days ago, and on his way home took the wrong road.

He traveled a great distance but got no nearer home. He was found at a late hour in a state of unconsciousness.

His hands and feet badly frozen and he doubtless would have perished had assistance not been rendered. We were not one of the happy throng that gathered around the beautiful tree whose fruits were plucked Christmas Eve.

and we report that we have heard time and again from those were present, that the Christmas tree in Sheridan was a grand success. The height of the tree, at a rough estimate, was four and four and twenty cubits and the distance around was equal to three times the diameter thereof.

The committee demonstrated their ability to make the evening a pleasant one to the children especially, and the older people seemed willing to be classed with the children, and seemed to enjoy the presents and the fun as much as though the shade side of life was yet in the dim distance.

A fund was raised for the needy, if any such were found, and one family, every member of which has been sick for weeks, was made the recipient of a large number of useful articles.

The course of lectures, before alluded to, were commenced Saturday night last by T. W. Tipton. Subject—"Tapersoll Answered." To minds pre-occupied, the lecture, well, we will not criticize.

The next lecture will be delivered Tuesday night, Jan. 7th, by Rev. Reed of Peru. This course of lectures were not gotten up for the benefit of the M. E. Church, and is not a mercenary step, as some have stated.

The members of the Lyceum and R. Club decided to have a course of lectures for the intellectual and moral benefit of the community, and as the church was to be the place of meeting, the net proceeds were voted to the trustees of that church.

STOVES, GROCERIES, HARDWARE, FURNITURE, QUEENSWARE, WAGONS, Tinware & Harness. Stevenson & Cross.

Dillon we used to know traveled with gentlemen—this outfit had better hire another manager, or advance agent. We rather guess John is about played out here, anyhow.

A temperance paper, of the fantastic order, published at Lincoln, gives in an abusive way the names of all the parties who petitioned the town trustees of this town to grant the recent license.

Such editing has a tendency to kill, rather than build up the temperance cause. State Journal: The employees of the Insane Hospital presented Superintendent Matthewson and wife with a beautiful silver ice set on Christmas Day.

The present was a complete surprise. Atchison Globe: Articles of incorporation for the Blue Valley & Northwestern Railroad, will be filed with the State Auditor at Lincoln today.

This is an Atchison enterprise, and will leave the line of the A. & N. at Firth, passing through Crete, Seward, David City, and on to Columbus, Chief Engineer, leaves immediately after the holidays to survey the new road. It is reasonable to suppose that the entire work will be completed next year, and thus place Atchison on both the great highways across the continent.

Cass County, too, has had its shooting scrape. Some days ago David McNeil was hunting near the farm of Maurice Fitzgerald, when the latter ordered McNeil to leave. He refused, a fight ensued. McNeil was shot and probably mortally hurt.

The Beatrice Express comes to us this week in an entirely new dress, and of course is handsome and best. We deem the Express one of the papers of our State, and are pleased to know of its prosperity.
