The reason why Stevenson & Cross are constantly selling stoves is because they keep the latest patterns and sell at lowest prices.

Professor Tanner, photographer, at the old gallery of Prof. Zook, is now prepared for business. He works promptly, is reasonable in charges, and warrants satisfaction.

Beer and intoxicating liquors are being sold in our city, and given away, with impunity, regardless of the law and the wishes of the majority of the people. In this matter we urge the citizen and the officer to their duty.

The points made by our Nemaha City localizer, in favor of the Nemaha Convention this year being held at Nemaha, we deem well taken. We record the motion and ask due consideration by the central committee.

The Rock Port Journal comes to us this week enlarged and changed into quarto form, six columns to the page. This is an attractive improvement on one of our favorite exchanges, and a benefit to its readers and patrons that deserves substantial appreciation.

The largest stock and handsomest variety of cook stoves and ranges to be found in Nemaha County, with all the latest improvements, consisting of the different patterns of the Early Breakfast, Charter Oak and several other varieties, are now offered at lower prices than any stove dealer dare sell, with a wagon load of trimmings, at Stevenson & Cross.

At solicitation of our citizens, Hon. Josephus Cheaney, of Borden-ton, N. J., now on a western lecture tour, will address the citizens of Brownville, in the Opera House, on the evenings of the 10th and 11th of September, on the great subject of Temperance. Mr. C. has lectured in Europe and is a speaker of great reputation in the East, and everybody here will want to hear him.

Mr. Corkin, of Sidney, Iowa—so recognized by some one here that knew him—was in the city Monday last, selling axe-handles. Mr. Corkin first attracted attention by his diligent inquiry for "something to drink." He was directed to the public well, but that he treated with disdain as "entirely too thin." Mr. Corkin next consulted one of our fellow-citizens who violates law by selling whisky on the sly, and an anecdote in getting drunk. The next thing heard of Mr. Corkin, he had wandered off of Main street and obtruded himself into the residence of Mr. Chatfield. Chat, wasn't in. Had he been the services of a doctor would have been more requisite in Mr. Corkin's case than those of the marshal. Mr. Corkin was "dry" again. This time water would do. After being kindly served with a drink, he refused to leave, and said he would go up stairs and take a nap. Of course this he was not allowed to do, and Mrs. C. sent her little girl for Marshal Love. The next important step of Mr. Corkin, while he sojourned in our city, was in company with Marshal Love. The long arm of the marshal was outstretched, his strong hand having gathered up the slack of Mr. Corkin's wama collar; he walked rapidly down the pavement toward the river. Mr. Corkin just in front of the marshal, also walked rapidly, and took long steps, in order to keep the distance—the length of the marshal's arm—properly adjusted between Mr. Corkin and his escort. At the river Mr. Corkin, at the suggestion of the marshal, at once took boat and shipped himself over into Missouri.

Roek Port Journal: N. S. Van Leuven, of North Star, was in town on Monday with a petition asking the county court to grant him a permit to a shaft between the Missouri shore and Brownville. The petition was numerously signed by our citizens. Mr. V. will no doubt get a permit, as a shaft at that point is greatly needed. . . . The College Springs Courier of this week says the contract for building the Clarinda, College Springs & Southwestern railroad from Clarinda to College Springs will be let next week. The right of way is being taken on the "No Business" route. . . . Miss Fannie Arnold, of Brownville, was invited to sing at the teacher's reunion on Thursday night, but by reason of being busily engaged in rehearsal for her concert, to be given at Brownville, on Sept. 24, was unable to attend.

Persons in Missouri desiring to attend the complimentary concert for the benefit of Miss Fannie Arnold, Sept. 2nd, will have the opportunity of returning home the same evening as the Ferry boat will make one trip after the close of the evening entertainment. If six teams or more cross the river on this evening only one dollar, for round trip, will be charged for each conveyance. Rockport papers please copy.

LOCAL PERSONALS.

Gov. Furnas and daughter arrived home Tuesday evening. David Hawes renews his subscription and has our thanks. P. Kleckner, of Kent, Ill., has our thanks for renewed money received.

Received remittance for renewal of subscription from John Ramsey, Hopedale, Ohio. Casner Barnes, Thomas Bath, J. L. Roy, and R. H. McDowell, take advantage of our campaign terms.

Harry Dolan has added to his choice stock of dry goods a select stock of groceries. Read his ad. and call and see him.

Mr. R. F. Chatfield and Mr. Thomas Wood were initiated into the Temple of Honor and Temperance, Monday night this week.

Miss Fannie Arnold's concert, remember, comes off in the Opera House next Tuesday night, Sept. 2d. It is generally understood that this will be the most delightful musical entertainment that our city was ever favored with; and if you want a good seat procure it early. Reserved seats 50 cents, and for sale at Lett's.

Rev. S. P. Wilson, of the M. E. Church, preached a powerful and very effective temperance sermon, Sunday evening last. We like Mr. Wilson for the bold and earnest stand he takes with the temperance people, irrespective of their religious views. Communities would be the better served and just as many souls saved, were there more preachers as conscientious and brave as Mr. Wilson.

Harvey McGee, of the popular firm of McGee & Moore, went to Chicago this week for his fall stock of goods; and we are authorized to say he will purchase the largest, best, most varied and complete stock of dry goods, clothing, ladies' goods, etc., ever placed on the market in Brownville. The people will save money and regrets by awaiting the exhibition of this immense stock.

Charley Ervin, of Plum Creek, and his cousin, Mr. Jeff. Cummings, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., came down to Nemaha City Monday, this week, to see friends and relatives. Mr. Cummings called on us Wednesday morning, a few moments, and then took the train for St. Joseph and the East. We were much pleased to see Cousin Jeff, whom we had not seen since he was a little boy over twenty-two years ago. He came near falling in love with lovely Nebraska.

Messrs Hawley & Douglas, who for several years have been leading grain dealers in Brownville, we understand have purchased the best grain elevator at Sutton, this State, intending to carry on the business extensively at that place as well as this. They usually deal heavily in barley, as well as other grains, and last year out of 77 cars of barley shipped from this point H. & D. had 67 of them. They are a reliable firm, deserving the confidence and patronage of the people, and we hope to hear of their prosperity.

Celluloid Trusses at A. W. Nickell's.

Thanks.

Some time ago our building and all our valuable machinery being destroyed by fire, we set to work getting our small means together, collecting debts, etc., in order to re-establish ourselves in business. In doing this we contracted a debt of gratitude toward those of our fellow-citizens who so generously responded in aid of our enterprise by paying up old debts and donations unsolicited but gratefully appreciated. All these friends will please accept our thanks. We are again established in business at the old place, in a commodious, convenient building, and fully prepared to do all kinds of blacksmith work, and wood work on wagons plows, &c. And our mill, under the same roof, is in full blast grinding feed for stock, and we solicit custom work in this line. Hoping all our old customers, and the public generally, will call and see us, we are with respect

ABBOTT, EMERY & HUDDART.

Brownville Lodge No. 69, I. O. G. T., installed the following officers, for the present term:

G. W. Fairbrother, Sr. W. C. T. Albert Gilmore, and Ed. Abbott, R. S. and L. S.

Luella Johnson, W. V. T. Wm. Willing, W. F. Secy. S. W. Abbott, W. F. Secy. J. C. Odel, W. T.

Ivan Bratton, W. M. Alice Hinton, W. I. G. Aaron Palmer, W. O. G. Mr. George Sanders has recently been appointed L. D.

We are pleased to announce that the lodge is not going to surrender, but has entered upon the new quarter with brighter hopes and prospects. It is desirable that every member shall be present at the next meeting.

Did you ever hear of "Natural Soap"?—a product dug out of the ground like coal or stone? They have a quarry of it up in Grundy county, Iowa, and it is said to have no equal as a cleanser—it will instantly remove grease, pitch, tar, oil, kerosene or paint; is a perfect polisher of metals, and has no equal for cleaning silks, satins, etc. It is very inexpensive of course and J. L. McGee has it for sale. Try it.

The B. & M. Railroad Co., will cheerfully grant round trip tickets for one and one-half fare to all attendants at the Nemaha County S. S. convention at Peru, Sept. 23. Persons attending the convention will pay full fare to Peru and will be permitted to return for one-fifth fare.

Sheridan Post seems to imagine that the editor of the Granger is a woman. If it will give Dave Mercer a slight investigation, we think the Post will discover that he's not a woman to any alarming extent.

One of our grocers received a curious package billed as queensware, Tuesday. While unloading it the package was leaking, and the exuding fluid smelled like whisky.

Lumber has advanced in Chicago two dollars per thousand, but the Chicago Lumber Co., at Brownville are selling at their usual low figures. Now is the time to build, however.

Attorney General Dilworth publishes his opinion in the State Journal that the intent of the law is that counties shall elect full boards of county commissioners this fall.

Forest Tree Seedlings—Osage Hedge Plants—Grape Vines—Nursery Stock.

I have the sale of a large stock of Forest Tree Seedlings, Osage Hedge Plants, Grape Vines, and General Nursery Stock. Most of the stock I have given personal attention to raising. The balance—Hedge Plants and Forest Tree Seedlings—were raised near, in an adjoining State. One and two year old apple trees can be had direct from Nursery rows. Evergreens the same.

ROBT. W. FURNAS, Brownville, Nebraska.

Large stock of Chicago custom made boots and shoes at Robison's.

Miss Fannie Arnold recently assisted in the musical services of the dedication of St. Paul Church at Phelps, Mo. The Rock Port Journal has the following notice of Brownville's talents vocalist:

During the afternoon winterwinded Brownville's "sweetest singer," Miss Fannie Arnold, and with the characteristic impudence of an interloper got her to talk of herself and musical matters generally. Miss Arnold is the possessor of a magnificent voice which will by and by rival that of the glorious Kellogg. She already surpasses the Kellogg in this—Miss Arnold's entire soul seems to find expression in her music, and the warm, impulsive notes thrill one's nerves to the very centre. Many professional singers leave the impression that they are cold, indifferent and heartless. To hear Miss Arnold is to love her. Her rendering of the Ave Maria though not calculated to exhibit her wonderful artistic power was nevertheless exceedingly beautiful. She passed the years of 1878 and 1879 in Boston under the instruction of Madame Rudersdorf. Here with the "closed mouth" system her voice acquired strength, volume and compass. Miss Arnold will return to Boston this fall to continue her studies. The ambition of her life should be to appear in the operatic field. Should she live two or three years longer we predict for her a sweeping and brilliant success, and another name will be added to America's list of glorious women.

New Groceries! New Groceries!

Farmers, DOLEN has added to his dry goods stock a full line of staple and fancy groceries which he will exchange for produce.

J. L. McGee is putting in more shelving to make room for the largest stock ever brought to the city and will go east for goods about the first of September.

Nemaha county will soon be in the midst of a county-seat fight. Church Howe heads the Sheridan party. The Brownville faction will carry the day.—Neb. City Sun.

Mr. Howe requests us to say that the Sun is mistaken in locating him at the head of the Sheridan party, that he is not in the fight anywhere, taking no part on either side at present.

Whatever feeling Mr. Howe has regarding removing the county-seat at this time, are in opposition, so we are warranted in saying by what we have heard him say on the subject.

I will sell you boots and shoes cheaper than any house in the county.

LONDON ITEMS.

"Even while I prayed in the temple I was in a trance." "London" has been suffering, as usual, the mervailing effect of the warm weather. In reviewing a little will make an effort for some items.

Quite a number from here attended the two basket meetings, last Sunday, one by the Methodists and one by the Christians.

Has the county seat removal question become chronic; and will nothing but a forty thousand dollar tax cure the fearful disease. It would be well enough for them to swallow the pill if it were not for the effect of the epidemic on innocent people.

"I feel that the destiny of the nation is safer with the party that preserved its life. I prefer to still march with those with whom I fought." Well said, brother Howe. March on, and keep step with the dear old party, and mind you don't fall out of the ranks, and all will be well.

"It is, as would seem to be, easy for a christian to believe that visitants from the unseen world are about him attending his mind, and endeavoring to make themselves known. That is precisely what they used to do in the olden times, why should they not do it now as well as they did then?"—True Scriber.

Why every one who accepts the bible as truth does not believe this? Ah! know it would be mysterious to him, had I not learned long ago that human beings are strangely contradictory even in their religion.

The bible from beginning to end, speaks of deep sleep, dreams, trances and visions, as the means of coming into communication with the unseen world, and prophets and apostles, speak as familiarly of spiritual beings from the unseen world, as concerned in the affairs of this world as they do of persons in the flesh. So I read the book of inspiration, and I have made it a life study, and I love the dear book, and much of the consolation and blessedness I receive from its sacred pages, is from this precious doctrine of the "ministry of angels."

The Bloomington Argus, is the name of a new paper at Bloomington, Nebraska, by J. D. Calhoun and Ben. F. Sanders. It is exceedingly good-looking in make up, and, of course, Calhoun being editor, is Democratic of the Calhoun stripe. The editor says:

The question has been frequently asked whether the democratic politics of the Argus will be of the Confederate Brigadier sort, to which we have answered: "No. There is no such politics. It has never been in existence except as created by the fertile imaginations of republican editors. Gone to meet the bloody shirt."

The Argus, means to be understood that the "sort" of the confederate Brigadier is not peculiar to that gentleman, but is standard Democracy. "There is no such politics," as the Brigadier sort. It's all sound Democracy. The disintegration of the army; the right of states to secede at will; the superiority of a State flag over the National Stars and Stripes, and of State government over the National government; the crippling of the Judiciary for the protection of crime; the removal of all guards against election frauds; the payment of rebel claims; and the pensioning of rebel soldiers; the removal of all protection to the citizen in his right to cast a free ballot, all of which some unsophisticated people might call the "Confederate Brigadier sort" of Democracy, thus leaving the inference that there was another "sort," a better sort. But Calhoun says "No"—Democracy is all of the same sort—"North and South, the same. Cal is an honest Democrat, of the confederate Brigadier sort, but his "sort" will scarcely meet the approval of many young Democrats of the progressive West.

On last Thursday evening, sometime between the hours of eight and eleven o'clock, some one robbed Mrs. Dick Hatchett of $78 in gold, silver and paper. The house is a two-story, on the front, but built up against the hill, so that in the rear the upper story is entered from the ground. It is supposed that the thief entered from the rear, while Mrs. Hatchett was in the lower story attending her restaurant, and took the money, which was in a pocket book between some folds of the same sort. She had been in the habit of keeping her money in a trunk, or chest, and other parties about the premises knew where it was usually kept. During the day, Thursday, she had occasion to go to her pocket book, and in her hurry did not put it back in its accustomed place in the trunk, but ran the book between the quil
