THURSDAY, JANUARY 22, 1890.

Frank Leslie, the famous publisher, is dead.

California has a fish farm whereon are hatched each year 2,500,000 salmon.

Senator Lamar's physicians say he will recover from his recent paralytic stroke.

A ledge of Good Templars was instituted at Omaha last week by the G. W. C. T.

A recent freshet on the Umpqua river, Oregon, swept away $12,000 worth of logs.

A bill has passed the Senate increasing the pension of totally disabled soldiers from $50 to $75 a month.

Mrs. Stanley March, of Deatur, Ill., recently presented her husband with triplets—two boys and a girl.

Margaret A. Cleaves, M. D., of Davenport, has been appointed superintendent of the insane hospital at Mt. Pleasant Iowa.

Deadwood is scourged with a disease of the throat, something like diphtheria, and attacks old and young with generally fatal result.

The House committee on military affairs has agreed upon a report restoring Gen. Fitz John Porter to the service, with the rank of Colonel, and awarding him $75,000 "back pay."

The female card splinters of Newport, R. I., recently indulged in a strike; and when one of them attempted to resume work she was roughly assaulted by one of the strikers.

It is said that Maj. D. H. Wheeler, Plattsburgh, will probably be appointed Census Supervisor for the northern district of this State. A more competent man could not be appointed.

McEnder's saloon and billiard hall, Central City, Neb., was blown to pieces, on the morning of the 19th, 4 o'clock, by gun powder placed under the building. The perpetrators of the crime are as yet unknown.

There seems to be real starvation in Ireland, and some terrible cases of suffering are reported: A cable dispatch of the 16th says that on the 14th inst., at Killarney, sixty able bodied men with their families were admitted to the workhouse. A woman applied for admission with three children, one of whom was dead in her arms from hunger and exposure.

Senator Padlock has introduced a bill to authorize the appointment of commissioners to ascertain and report the losses sustained by citizens of the United States on account of Indian depredations, and to adjust claims arising therefrom.—Omaha Republican.

And the Senator is said to be the most practicable bill yet prepared for that laudable matter.

State Journal: Ex-Governor Furnas is inaugurating a new feature of exhibit for the coming meeting of the State Historical Society. He will exhibit specimens of wood from fruit trees grown in Nebraska since the settlement of the State. We understand he has 103 different varieties, about one-half of which he will place on exhibition.

The Journal should have said forest trees instead of fruit trees.

The Peru Herald, a sixteen sheet sheet dodger, published in Peru, Iowa, State for the benefit of nursery readers, is assailing Senator Padlock, and Congressman Valentine, telling what they don't know. If some of the foremost promoters' care enough about this miscegenation twaddling to notice it, we are mistaken in the man.—Beatrice Courier.

Of course not—he's the thinnest squint you can imagine; and our representatives will certainly lose no sleep over his ramblings.

The reason the Bloomington Argus likes us so well is because he is the son-in-law of an ardent admirer of Nebraska.

Ironically the orator of the Nebraska is right. THE ADVERTISER will admit him when it begins to admire editors who have the disgusting style of exaggerating, misrepresenting or studiously lying about every subject I speak of. That's what we admire Mr. Williams; and from the tone of the State papers generally we may infer they have about the same opinion of him that we have.

Do the newspapers and politicians who are so industriously attacking General Grant want to provoke a similar onslaught upon their own favorites? If so, do they are pursuing a course well calculated to accomplish their aim.—Inter Ocean.

THE ADVERTISER prefers Blaine as the Presidential candidate. But that is no reason at all why it should abuse Grant; and if it can't abuse Blaine without saying a single word against the great and magnanimous General, it can cheerfully do without Blaine and take Grant. It is a fact to be regretted, however, that there are some, even friends of Grant, who think it necessary to ungenerously attack him to boost the chances of Blaine.

Yet our city, probably forgetting the death of one of her citizens a few weeks ago, who was buried to an untimely end through the same influence, we are again called upon to chronicle another similar murder. Mr. John Jeffrey, living about 16 miles north of this place, came to town last Thursday with some produce, and unfortunately he entered one of our "business promoters" (as some of our business men term them) and was filled with the pure (?) stuff in due form. The proprietor after getting all his money, took him to his wagon over dark, jumped him into it, pulled a pair of rusty nails and started him home. Of course the mules got home as fast as they could, throwing poor, drunken Jeffrey out of the wagon, and the consequences were the burial of the man last Sabbath. Still we hear it said that saloons benefit a community. If I give my brother arsenic and he dies I am guilty of murder. But if the dramseller gives him poisoned drugs and he dies—well, is that murder, or is it one of the "tricks of trade"? We do not blame the saloon keeper because the law says he is licensed to murder his fellow man.

The above case is chronicled in the Humboldt Sentinel of the 18th inst. The more we look the more we see that these murder mills promote only the coffee business, the whisky business, the jail business and the poor house business. That's about all.

The Maine Matter.

On the 15th, it will be remembered, the fusion Governor, Smith, issued an order to relieve Gen. Chamberlain of the command of the State troops. On the 19th Gen. Chamberlain, by the following note, indicated to the bogus Governor that he could not recognize his authority:

HEADQUARTERS FIRST DIVISION MILITIA OF MAINE, AUGUSTA, Jan. 16.—Hon. Joseph L. Smith—Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a notice served on me this evening by Messrs. Black and Blood, representing themselves as on your personal staff, which notice purports to be general order No. 2, an adjutant general's office, relieving me from command of the militia of Maine and revoking special order No. 45, which changed the whole date of protesting public property and institutions of the state until a governor should be duly qualified. When matters now in issue involve the very question whether the superior order cited it must be manifest to you that I should fall in my duty were I to surrender my trust, except on undoubted evidence of your authority to command. If you are the lawful governor you can easily relieve all embarrassment by affording me authoritative decision of the court, to which I am ready to submit. I cannot but add that the courtesy and custom of the service, to say nothing of the grave complication of the present situation, require of me to expect that you will furnish proper evidence of your authority.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant, (Signed) JOSHUA L. CHAMBERLAIN, Major General.

Every militia company in the State, excepting one, notified Gen. Chamberlain that they would adhere to him and obey his orders.

The fusionist legislature on the 19th did a great deal of talking on the subject, and showed unmistakable signs of weakening. A strong element favored going to the Supreme court on questions of their own asking. The fusionists after indulging in the farce of appointing some committees adjourned to Monday.

On Saturday 17th, the Republican legislature convened in the State house at 2:20 p. m. The House was called to order by Speaker Weeks, and the Senate by President Locke.

The House was literally jammed full of people enthusiastic over the indications that law was prevailing over fraud and violence, and just as the body was about proceeding to business, Senator Blaine came upon the floor, followed by Lot M. Morrill and Eugene Hale, when the vast multitude arose and made the old State House tremble with their cheering.

The question of the election of a Governor was then introduced. The committee on gubernatorial votes reported as follows: Whole number of votes, 138,856; necessary to a choice, 69,428; Daniel F. Davis, 68,967; Joseph I. Smith, 47,673; Alonzo Garcelon, 21,851; Blon Bradbury, 264; the remainder scattering for several candidates. No choice.

The House and Senate then proceeded to a ballot, which resulted in the election of Daniel F. Davis, Republican, for Governor.

Gov. Davis being notified of his election and his presence asked before the joint convention, he promptly responded. The dispatch says: "As he entered the hall, attended by the council and several distinguished gentlemen, the crowd arose as one man and the air was rent with deafening applause, steadily increasing in volume until the capitol building fairly rocked. Men jumped upon the seats and upon each others' shoulders, pounded with fists, and manifested their joy in every conceivable way. Davis stood at the right of the president and faced towards the people the applause broke out again and three cheers followed for Davis, for Blaine, for Boutelle, Chamberlain, Nast and Sprout.

After quiet was restored Governor Davis, in an impressive manner, took the oath of office and delivered an address. Cheering followed the address which did not subside until the gubernatorial party took their departure. The Governor took possession of the executive chamber without any interference. The only obstacle placed in the way by fusionists during the day was the refusal of the deputy secretary of state to give up the gubernatorial returns, but certified copies of clerk's returns were substituted.

At 7:45 both branches of the legislature adjourned until Monday at 11 a. m."

Gov. Davis issued an order continuing Gen. Chamberlain in command, as follows:

To Maj. Gen. Chamberlain—Sir: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day duly elected to the office of governor and have been duly qualified to perform the duties of that office. In common with all citizens of this State I have watched with great anxiety the events of the past few days and rejoice with them in the good results of wise and efficient measures adopted by you for the preservation of peace and protection of property and institutions of the state, and more especially that those results have been accomplished without resorting to military force or permitting violence to be used. Fully recognizing the propriety of the demand made by you upon others who have claimed the right to exercise the office of governor that they should furnish you with authoritative decision of the court, and believing you will require the same of me, I have your herewith a copy of the opinion of the Justices of the supreme judicial court addressed to Joseph A. Locke, president of the senate, and G. E. Weeks, speaker of the house, sustaining legality of the legislature by which I have been elected and qualified in the office I have named, (Signed) DANIEL F. DAVIS, Governor.

HEADQUARTERS FIRST DIVISION MILITIA OF MAINE, AUGUSTA, Jan. 17, 1890.—Hon. DANIEL F. DAVIS—Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication informing me you have been legally elected and duly qualified as governor of Maine together with a certified copy of the opinion of the supreme court upon the questions affecting the legality of the organization of the legislature of 1890. As it is manifest that this opinion sustains the legality of your election and that you are the duly elected governor, I have the honor to report to you that I consider my trust and special order No. 45 as at an end.

JOSHUA L. CHAMBERLAIN, Major General.

On Monday 19th, the Republican legislature took possession of the State house, and proceeded with business. The doors and passage ways to the house and senate being strongly guarded by armed policemen.

After the Republican adjourned at 4 p. m., the fusionists, headed by Smith, their bogus Governor, marched to the State house door, but were not permitted to enter. They then, without violent demonstrations, but many threats, withdrew, and held a meeting on the sidewalk. That miserable crowd of asses are about played out.

Our news up to the 20th is that the Republicans are still masters of the situation, and that the fusionists calling themselves a legislature get together occasionally in convenient places and howl about fraud.

They indicate that they will submit their case to the court and abide its decision. They seem to want a pretext for fighting the silly farce they have been playing.

Jack Mueller, a saloon keeper of Chicago, was shot dead by some men whom he refused to trust for the drinks.

At Irvington, Ill., 15th, while Wm. Norton, a farmer, was eating his breakfast, A. Forbes shot through the window, instantly killing Norton.

Recently the Canada Central railway was condemned to pay $100,000 to a lumber company at Toronto for the destruction of the lumber yard caused by a cluder from a locomotive.

Calvin Thompson, a lunatic at Armstrong, Kas., shot Jas. Morrill his step-father, and was fined.

The friends of Frank Eldridge, aged 8 years, recently of 103 Christopher St., N. Y. city, offer $200 to learn of his whereabouts.

At Huntsville, Texas, ex-sheriff Elkins was shot dead by Peter Greer, in settlement of an old feud.

In a saloon fight at Indianapolis, 15th, Louis Rutoval stabbed Robert Keifer, killing him instantly.

Burglars recently entered the office of the treasurer of Lincoln county, D. T., unlocked the safe and took therefrom $5,000 to $8,000. If the safe was unlocked, some one connected with the office committed the robbery.

Saturday of last week Geo. Montgomery a young man, and Wm. McEilly, a married man, residing near Ellipton, Andrew county, Mo., became involved in a quarrel, during which Montgomery struck his neighbor on the head with a pole, crushing his skull and killing him instantly.

At Beloit, Kas., 18th inst., Michael McCauley, a stone mason, while intoxicated went to sleep upon the railroad track, and several trains passing over him he was cut to pieces; his head, legs and arms being cut off and scattered along the track. A fearful sequence of saloon toleration.

The qualifications for the United States senatorship in the southern states vary with the different localities, all agreeing, however, in the position that loyalty to the "lost cause" is the first requisite. If brigades and blusters, and a ready use of the shotgun in settling political disagreements, are added, the southern chivalry makes no further question of the candidate's fitness for the lofty position. Mississippi has set a fine example by her reconstructed citizens in the nomination of Barksdale, the butcher of Yazoo, who has lost his right hand, and about five hundred votes in the legislature caucus, and who will in all probability succeed Senator Bruce to the United States Senate. Such an arrogant defiance of public opinion as the candidacy of this red handed assassin was never before perpetrated in our country. "All a man needs in Mississippi," says the Democratic Gazette, "to make him popular, is the reputation of having killed a republican or two in cold blood."—Omaha Bee.

Needs that fit men for the penitentiary and the walls of the Northern Republican sentiment, qualify men for the U. S. Senate and Congress, under the sentiment of Southern Democracy.

Kansas Pilot: When "Blus Jean" Williams was elected Governor of Indiana, a Republican officer constituted the canvassing board. The law of that State requires duplicate returns from the counties, one to be sent to the Secretary of State, and the other to the Speaker of the house of Representatives, and provides that the Speaker shall open the returns, appoint tellers, and upon these returns shall declare who is elected. John Overmeyer, R-republican, was Speaker.

When he examined the returns he found that those from six of the strongest Democratic counties in the State had not been sent in. He could upon purely legal grounds have counted in Ben. Harrison. He went to the Secretary of State's office, got copies of the necessary returns, and counted them. He was not a Garcelon.

But if somebody had suggested whiskey it would have been all right.

The Negro Exodus.

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 15.—The exodus of negroes to the North from Mississippi has been over 1,000 during the past three weeks.

PETERSBURG, Va., Jan. 15.—One hundred colored emigrants, passengers by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, arrived this morning from Goldsboro, N. C., en route to Indiana. The emigrants consisted of men, women and children of all ages and conditions. Several hundred more will shortly follow.

No More Hard Times.

If you will stop spending so much on fine clothes, fine food and style, buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of employing expensive, quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicines that do you only harm, but pay your trust in that simple, pure, reliable, Hop Bitters; that will see you through and have good health.—Chronicle.

Sugar From Corn.

LEAVENWORTH, January 13.—Parties have arrived here from Buffalo, N. Y., and a stock company has been formed by them and other capitalists, representing $25,000 in capital, which will at once commence fitting up a building for the manufacture of sugar and syrup from corn. The machinery is now on the way. One hundred and fifty hands will be employed and 1,000 bushels of corn consumed daily.

Comparison.

A careful comparison of Dr. Price's Special Emulsion with all other emulsions in the market, will convince any person that for strength and delicacy of flavor, Dr. Price's is far superior. While the other favoring have a turpentine taste and odor, Dr. Price's is as natural as the fruits from which they are made.

Doughnuts.

If you desire doughnuts that are the delect and richest you ever ate, make them from Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, according to the directions on the can. Such doughnuts with a cup of coffee, and a little Cream Baking Powder, would cause a delightful surprise to the uninitiated.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." Such a friend is Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup for coughs, colds, etc. It costs 25 cents, 50 cents and $1 a bottle, and may be had of any doctor or Dr. W. Nickell.

I deem it my duty to acquaint suffering humanity with the fact that Dr. Jacob Olin is the most beneficial remedy I have ever introduced; this is a practically tested fact. The past six or seven years I have suffered with Rheumatism, and so severely that I was often robbed of my night's rest. A change of the weather would have a painful effect on me, for then I could move neither hands nor feet. I tried every known remedy, but of no avail; at last somebody recommended Dr. Olin's Rheumatism Remedy. I bought a bottle, and after using it a few days I was enabled to try it, but with little hope for relief. Having hardly used half a bottle, the pains diminished, and to day I am well and hardly know the name of the small sum of five cents had cured me.

Hon. J. W. Gannett, the agitator—Regent of the State University and Editor of the Register, is on his business trip to Colorado last week. We enjoyed a shaking of hands and a pleasant chat with him at Sydney. Mr. Gannett is a gentleman whom I know him the more they must respect him. In all our acquaintance with him we have never known him to be anything but a gentleman, a man of noble and honorable aims as any man in Nebraska or elsewhere, and yet such is the man who has been holding up the "infidel" and an agitator.—Grand Island Independent.

What is home without a baby? Many children have coughs and colds, and are in need of the greatest care, and a bottle of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup. Price 25 cents, 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by A. W. Nickell.

Rev. Jacob Ide, pastor of a church at Meadway, Mass., died recently aged 95. He was pastor of the same church sixty-three years. Of the 800 members of his original congregation, he conducted the funeral services of all except one.

Expressed Their Delight.

Thousands of notes of commendation have been expressed their delight in receiving such delicate, fresh flowery fragrance in Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes, Pet Rose, Alina Bouquet, Evening Violet, and his other odors. Ladies and gentlemen of taste appreciate the sweetness of Dr. Price's Perfumes.

"I Don't Want a Plaster" said a man who said "I can't give you something to cure me?" His symptoms were a lame back and disordered urine, and were a sure indication of kidney disease. The druggist told him to use Kidney-Wort and in a short time it effected a complete cure. Have you these symptoms? Then get a box to-day—before you become incurable. It is pure, safe and sure.

Prize Butter at the N. Y. Fair.

Boyd's packing house, Omaha, largest in the city, was destroyed by fire Sunday evening last. The total loss was about $250,000. Insurance covered about $128,000. The house was worth $20,000 and was packed full of pork. It is believed to have been the work of an incendiary, as there had been no fire where the fire broke out. This is a hard loss to Omaha; and there were 100 workmen employed in the establishment now thrown out of work.

One Box or Six Bottles.

If you are suffering from a combination of liver or kidney diseases, and constipation, do not fail to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is a dry compound as easily prepared as a cup of coffee, and in one package is as much medicine as can be bought in six dollar bottles of other kinds.

Facula vs. Theory.

In regard to the method of coloring butter, the theory is that it is well fed and cared for will make yellow butter; the fact is that no one in fact will, except in times of dust pasture.

This is just the reason that the very best Dairy men in the country use Walk, Richardson & Co's Perfected Butter Color. We warrant it to add at least five cents per pound to the value of white butter, a return for every cent it costs.

"Am All Played Out"

is a common complaint. If you feel so, get a package of Kidney-Wort and take it and you will at once feel better. It is the most reliable section of the kidneys, bowels and liver, and thus restores the natural life and strength to the weary body. Get a box and use it at once.

My Good Woman.

Why are all our wives, never able to tell us what you are well? Ten to one it's all caused in the first place by the leading complaint, which has no doubt finally caused deranged kidneys and liver. The sure cure for Constipation is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is a dry compound, and is the most reliable section of the kidneys, bowels and liver. Thousands are cured by it every month. Try it at once.

A Successful Dairyman.

is the one that makes ordinary "gilt-edged" butter the season through, and sends his butter to market in perfect condition. The best dairy men all through the country are by long and varied experience, found that there was no article so perfectly adapted to keeping up the golden June color, now absolutely necessary in order to realize the best price, as Walk, Richardson & Co's Perfected Butter Color, made at Burlington, Vt. Buy it at the druggists, or send for descriptive circular.

It has wonderful power on Bowels, Liver and Kidneys! What? Kidney-Wort, try it.

WRO MATE VOT AT SCHOOL MEETINGS—1. That by the laws of this state, "Every male citizen and unmarried woman of the age of 21 years, residing in the district and owning property therein which is taxable for school purposes in such school district, shall be entitled to vote in any district meeting." That if the person to a male, he must be a citizen—21 years of age—must reside in the district, and must own property in such district which is taxable for school purposes. If he possesses all these qualifications he is entitled to vote at any school meeting.

2. The length of time a man may reside in a school district, does not confer upon him the right to vote at a school meeting unless he possess the qualifications above stated.

3. When a person comes into the State from another State, with property, at any time of the year, he will be entitled to vote at school meetings and sign petitions in his school district as soon as his property becomes liable to taxation in his school district, provided he possesses the other qualifications of age, citizenship and residence.

4. Where a person moves into a school district after the 1st of March, with property, the property is not liable to taxation for that year in that district, but is liable in the district where he resided with his property on the first day of March of each year. The six-month clause in the general election law, does not apply to the qualifications of voters at a school meeting. In the latter case it appears to proceed on
