Our Victory Sure. BY W. H. WARD,

Alr-"Yankee Doodle." Ho, boys, hurrah! around me draw. And harken to my ditty, Uptil you've heard the news that comes From fair Chicago city.

Why Garfield, he, my lads, you see, Was named with acclamation, For President, so he'll be sent, To fill the White House "station." Each Democrat is looking flat, And in a "scalding" pickle,

For well they know their "cake is dough And now not worth a nickel. So, let us shout, boys, loud and stout, Since 'tis to us revealed, sir. That 'midst the fray we'll win the day, Led on by brave Garfield, sir. In sixty-eight, their Seymour great,

We beat till he was mealy : In seventy-two, the same did do, By poor, deluded Greeley. In seventy-six, we gave them licks, That made the party crazy. Until the land, on every hand, Seemed to them sort o' Hayes-ey.

Sealed is their certain fate, sir, For we will win a victory in Each grand old Northern State sir. So, they may kick, and raise "Old Nick, Bulldoze, and go Yazooting; We'll grasp the prize before their eyes, Amidst their Bourbon hooting.

And yet again we'll beat their man;

No force we lack, so clear the track, You'll have to, Dems, remember, Till victory rolls along the polls, For our side in November. so 't matters not who may be brought (All backed up by your "brags," sir), To give us chase, we'll win the race, With our fleet, stalwart nags, sfr.

so, in the West, we'll march abreast, And give them "telling knocks," sir; And in the East, we'll raise like yeast, Around each ballot box, sir. Then let each shout rise high and stout Till victory rolls along the hills, For Garfield and for Arthur.
