The recent Republican State convention adopted the following:

1. The republicans of "Nebraska" most heartily endorse the profession of principles formulated by the National Republican convention at Chicago, and pledge their unwavering support to the candidates there nominated.

2. We affirm that the doctrine of national sovereignty is the fundamental principle upon which the perpetuity of the nation rests, and that the principle of home rule as enunciated by the democratic party is but the cautious expression of the Calhoun doctrines of state rights; is revolutionary in its character and destructive to the unity of the nation.

3. We regard the recent seizure of the polls and wholesale robbery of the franchises of the republican citizens of Alabama, by the democratic party officials, surpassing in magnitude and effect any of the crimes in former efforts of that party under the Tweed plans in New York and the Mississippi plan in the south, as a fair specimen of democratic method and a forecast of democratic dominance in national affairs, that should incite every honest man and tax-payer in the country to the most earnest endeavor to defeat the party of prey and fraud, at the polls in November.

4. We have considered "what' Lee and Jackson would have done if they were alive," and have determined to employ our best energies in preventing the seizure of the national government by their living comrades through the fraud of a "solid south."

5. We congratulate the people of the state upon its rapid increase of population and wealth, and upon the good measure of prosperity that has rewarded their labor, and upon the rapid rebuilding of our material interests since the success of resumption and the revival of trade.

6. We pledge our support to such legislation in congress, and such measures by state legislatures, as may be necessary to effect a correction of the abuses and prevent extortation and discrimination in charges by railroad corporations.

7. We most cordially invite the aid and co-operation in this defense of the national integrity and the nation's purse, of all republicans and war democrats who have differed with us on temporary issues, or have clung to a party name.

Mr. J. F. Coulter, of Fillmore county, offered the following;

Resolved, That we heartily join in the recommendation made by Gen. Garfield in his letter of acceptance, urging upon Congress the speedy improvement of the Missouri River for barge navigation.

The Democrats at Macon, Ga., have nominated Gen. Philcock for Congress.

Vermont held her election Tuesday 7th inst. Maine holds her election next Monday, 13th.

Jim Wood, the Irish orator, is speaking to immense audiences in Indiana, for Garfield and Arthur.

We must give Watson a rousing majority next November.—Syracuse Journal.

That's what the Republicans of Nemaha county will do, too.

The Republicans of Lancaster have nominated the following excellent legislative ticket: Senators, C. H. Gere, (editor State Journal), C. W. Pierce. Representatives, C. O. Whedon, N. C. Abbot, N. McClun, R. B. Graham.

The Atchison Globe is responsible for the following: "Judge Elmer S. Dundy, of the United States Circuit Court of Nebraska, lately invested a great deal of money in a new process for separating silver ores, a California invention. He has lately been offered a million and a half in chash for the patent, and has already realized a handsome fortune from the investment."

President Hayes and party are now in the west. At Mendota, Ill., the President spoke briefly, alluding to the trips made by Washington and Monroe during their presidential terms over comparatively small areas, yet requiring a vast amount of time. Now the conditions are reversed, and what would have been an appaling journey to the president of fifty years ago is an easily accomplished and swiftly completed trip, the comforts of which are greater than some of us enjoy at home. The contrast shows what this government is doing and what it is capable of.

The Lincoln Globe, regarding Howe's nomination, says:

He had secured a part of the delegates, and then gathering a mob of his he filled the hall full, and by hooting and shouting for a compromise he finally accepted a second place on the ticket after being defeated for the first.

That is a false statement. He gathered no mob; did not fill the hall; there was no hooting nor shouting for a comprmise. Before the third ballot Mr. Howe withdrew his name, and he was not defeated. During the entire session of the convention from the moment the temporary chairman took his seat, all persons except delegates and newspaper men were excluded from the room, and the convention was the most quiet one we ever attended. There was no wrangling, not even a speech, by either of the factionists or any one else, and everything was done rapidly, and in good humor, so far as outside appearances went. These facts are sufficient to give the lie to the insinuation that Mr. Howe forced his name on the ticked by the influence of outsiders or the pressure of a mob. Not a word of truth in it. The convention was composed of good sensible Republicans who did their work quietly, exercising their own judgment regardless of the wishes of politician, office seeker or "mob." Now, further regarding the mob that some of Mr. Howe's envious enemies have been making so much chin music about, and from whom the Globe absorbs its inspiration about Nemaha politics, we have this to say in vindication of truth: Mr. Howe was not alone in the mob business at that convention. The friends of Mr. Daily were there also, and certainly did their share in making a noise, cheering and applauding the speeches made by Col. Majors the champion and leader of the Daily faction. And that was all the demonstration made by that terrible mob—each side applauding their men in turn, everybody, of both sides being in the best of humor. And we will digress here to place to the credit of the people there on that day and to the town of Sheridan that there was not a drunken man, nor a fight, nor even a quarrel in the town. And we will further, right here, nail it as a lie and a slander upon the best citizens of this county assembled there that day to say they were a mob, and that they were there to do, and did do, some illegitimate thing, and violated some common rights of citizenship. The gentlemen who whine about "that mob of Church Howe's" would divert attention from their own sins, but have nothing better to offer than pleading the "baby act."

It is no pleasure to us to refer to these bygone matters, and do so only as a duty in defense of one of the nominees of our ticket, against the assaults of a Republican newspaper governed more by the devilish spirit of personal hate and malevolence than that of honesty, good principles and truth. We have our ticket in the field. They are all our men now—standard bearers in the Republican party, and if, beside the duty of combatting the "common enemy," we have the extra one of fighting soreheads, traitors and political hyenas, such as the Globe, we'll try and give "general satisfaction."

Thurman is speaking to the Ohio people. His principal point is that "when that great and good man is elected there'll be established peace, love and harmony between the North and South." The old demagogue just leaves the bare assertion to go for what it is worth, and does not attempt a display of that sort of logic necessary to show how a state of brotherly love could be set up between a party of robbers and the party robbed. Mr. Thurman knows that he is uttering sheer bosh in such a proposition when coupled with that other one that Hancock must have the solid South, and those 138 electoral votes regardless of the constitutional and lawful rights of the Republicans of the South. Mr. Thurman knows that Hancock cannot secure those 138 electoral votes, nor even one-half of them, without the use of force and frauds; and he knows that the millions of men composing the Republican party knows it; and he knows that the seating of Hancock by such measures will leave a bitter wound in the heart of every man who feels that he has been robbed of his rights, which would intensify the hatred of sectionalism.

Thurman, with the immense effrontery and cheek of a practical demagogue, insults the American people with promises of harmonizing the sections, at the very moment that his party is deliberately stealing the Republican State of Alabama—deliberately and boldly stealing the Republican tickets from the ballot boxes of Alabama and substituting therefor Democratic tickets. The Democratic party will find that propositions for wiping out sectionalism, coming from a party that coolly commits felony to secure party success, meets with the contempt and scorn they merit from the millions of fair minded honest men they offend. The Republican party demands, and will never cease its efforts until it obtains a "free ballot and fair count" in every part of this Nation. And it will never accept peace on any other terms.

Kansas Republicans held their State convention on the 1st inst. and nominated Governor St. John for re-election with but little opposition. His nomination was a grand victory for the Prohibitionists. D. W. Finney was nominated for Lieut. Governor; James Smith for Secretary of State, P. J. Bonerake for Auditor, John Francis, Treasurer, W. D. Johnson Attorney General, H. C. Speer, School Superintendent.

Gov. Nance has appointed C. J. Nobes Warden of the penitentiary vice Dawson resigned. Mr. Nobes has been for years Deputy Warden, and a most excellent one.

Chicago Times: It is said that Gen. McClellan intends to retire from politics. He can do it without leaving a very big hole.

Garfield represents the industries of the country. Hancock, though an aristocrat, does not represent even the aristocracy. He represents the principles that Lee and Jackson fought for.

On the 29th ult., the steamship Vera Cruz was wrecked in a hurricane, off the coast of Florida, and at least 60 people perished. Of the drowned were the captain, Van Sice, and Gen. Tarbot, of Delaware.

Portland Press: John C. Calhoun stands at one end of this "long line" of spouting nullification, and Samuel J. Tilden at the other, trying to steal the electoral vote of a State by sly ciphering. The line is as lovely as it is long.

Hon. J. W. Dawes seems to be doing all in his power to spend what money may come into his hands without reference to the amount of good that may be done for the ticket.—Lincoln Globe.

Mr. Dawes, why don't you send Eaton a dollar or two and shut of his little whine? Nothing else will do it.

To say that the news of Church Howe being nominated by the lower house filled all honest men with disgust, is but a mild way of expressing it.—Lincoln Globe.

If only honest men were disgusted, then that "lets the Globe man out." Will the pug nosed squirt of the Globe tell us how he and the other fellows enjoyed it?

The Okolona Southern States, which is the most influential Democratic paper in Mississippi, and perhaps the entire South, says:

The one momentous fact that I wish to bring forward and clinch in the public mind, by this reference to the records, is just this:

That the Democratic party is the party of Secession.

New York Tribune: It looks very like a literally solid North for Garfield and Arthur. There is little or no doubt about Connecticut or New Jersey, and Indiana is conceded to the Republicans by its Democratic leaders. New York was long ago taken out of the doubtful column, and the only question now is the size of the Republican majority.

John Hancock, whose "Bold signature" adorned the Declareation of Independence, was not the progenitor of the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. The Revolutionary John left no children behind him. His only daughter died in infancy, and his only son was killed in his eleventh year by a fall on the ice while skating. —Exchange.

Major General Winfield Scott Hancock's grandfather's name was Roberts. That is now a well known fact.

Inter Ocean: A great many thinking men are considering whether free men are not of more importance just now than an unlimited amount of greenbacks. The greenback can come nearer taking care of itself, with its present honors, than can the poor and oppressed men and women of the South. Besides this other questions of the gravest possible character are at issue, and upon their settlement depends the happiness and prosperity of the entire people for the next four years, if not for a greater period.

Gen. Weaver, Presidential greenback candidate, was recently interviewed and he said:

There is no fusion on the state ticket in Maine. If Gen. Plaisted is elected, it will be as a solid greenback victory, wholly without democratic significance. There will be no division of the electoral ticket with my consent, either with the democratic party in Maine, or with the republicans in West Virginia. Should anything of the kind be attemped in any state of this union, it will meet with my emphatic disapproval. I shall hold no joint meetings with Hancock speakers. Our missions are widely different. Let it be understood, once for all, that we constitute a well defined party.

The following patriotic letter characteristic of General Grant was written by him in answer to one from Gen. Logan requesting him to preside at a Garfield and Arthur mass meeting in New York:

MANITOU SPRINGS, COL., Aug. 12.—My dear Gen. Logan—I will be going east the latter part of September, and will gladly attend any meeting intended to further the success of the ticket headed by Garfield and Arthur. I agree with you that it will not do to be beaten now. We should never be beaten until every man who counts, or represent those who count, in the enumeration to give representation in the electorial college, can cast his vote just as he pleases, and can have it counted just as he casts it. Yours Truly,

U. S. GRANT.

G. W. Julian of Indiana, like our own Tipton was a most bitter Abolitionist before the rebellion, but about the close of the war got a terrible sore head and at once became a Democrat. He went like Tipton where all the trash goes out of the Republican party. The following extract from one of Julian's speeches during the war shows of what kind of material many Democratic leaders are now made of. He said:

"If I were President of the United States I would mass the armies of the Union, march them through every seceding States from the Potomac to the Gulf, burn, pillage, and devastate the country, and write death upon the earth and paint hell upon the sky."

That terrible fellow who would "burn, pillage and devastate," is now howling for Hancock.

— Physicians freely prescribe the new food Medicine, "Malt Bitters," because more nourishing strengthening and purifying than all other forms of malt or medicine, while free from the objection urged against malt liquors.

The Stampede in Indiana to the Republican Camp.

The Indianapolis Journal gives the following of New Albany, Clarke county as to the way "accessions" are going in that State:

Dr. Elijah Newland, formerly Democratic Treasurer of State, goes back on Landers and his bummers, and is out for Porter and the Republican State ticket.

Mr. David G. Hudson, a wide-awake business Democrat, said to the Journal correspondent, the other night: "This is a business man's campaign. The country was never more prosperous than now. Business men cannot afford, and do not desire, a change, and I shall, therefore, vote for Garfield and Arthur, and for Porter and the Republican State ticket."

The late Hon. Allen S. Davis, Judge of the Floyd and Clark Circuit Court, was one among the leading Democratic politicians of the State. Said one of his sons to the Journal correspondent, the other day: "Myself and two of my brothers, whom you know have been life-long Democrats, intend to vote the entire Republican State ticket in October."

Said Mr. Fred Wilson, heretofore a Democrat, and now holding a position at the DePauw glass-works: "There are seventy-five men in the glass-works who have heretofore voted the Democratic ticket that will vote for Garfield, Arthur and Porter and the Republican State ticket. We are now organizing a Garfield Club out of these men, and will make Mr. George F. Penn, the present Democratic Councilman from the First Ward, who has come over to Garfield and Porter, President, and Mr. Charles DePauw Secretary."

Eighty-five men who have heretofore voted the Democratic ticket are enrolled in three of the Republican Clubs of this city, the Journal correspondent is informed by officers of the clubs.

Captain David M. Dryden, a hero of two wars, and a well-known river man and falls pilot, is out red-hot for Garfield and Porter. Not a single Republican in this city has gone over to the Democrats. The exodus from the Democratic party goes on at such a rate as to create a panic among the Landers leaders and they are demoralized. The bummer element, that is so fierce for Landers, of course, curse the DePauws and Newlanders, the Penns, Hudsons, Ollsons and others who have left the foul party; but this does good, for it disgusts decent Democrats and they to turn wheel into the Republican column.

This thing is going on throughout Southern Indiana. The Journal correspondent met a well-known Democratic farmer from Washington county. "What's the political news?" asked the correspondent. Bad enough, I assure you, for the Democrats. Last week, while I was threshing my wheat, twelve Democrats were present during the day who said they intended to vote for Porter." A Republican residing in Harrison county said to the correspondent: "Every Republican in Harrison county will vote for Porter, and I know a good many Democrats who will also vote for him."

DEMOCRATS AND PENSIONS.

A Striking Document.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—A Pennsylvania Democratic Congressman has let a flood of daylight into the temper of the present Democratic Congress. A citizen of that State wrote to Mr. F. E. Beltzhoover, the Representative of the Nineteenth District, asking him to present a bill granting a pension for service in the Union army. Mr. Beltzhoover's reply, written in April, has just been made public, and it is a very striking document, coming as it does from a Democratic Representative. It is as follows:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
WASHINGTON, April 23, 1880.

DEAR SIR: Your favor was received. I would most cheerfully introduce and urge the passage of a bill such as you suggest, but with the present Democratic House pension bills do not have much favor. It has become almost impossible to get consideration of such a bill at all, and when considered its chances of passing the House is very remote, and the rebel general who is at the head of the Pension Committee in the Senate is still more averse to allowing any such bills to pass. It would not be at all probable, therefore, that the bill could be got through.

Very truly, F. E. BELTZHOOVER.

Harry L. Taggert, Vice President of the Philadelphia Protective Tariff Club, writes thus to a friend: "The Hancock boom is playing out rapidly in Eastern Pennsylvania. Garfield's majority in the State will be an immense one. The protection plank assures success, and is aiding the Republicans amazingly. Many Democratic manufacturers in Philadelphia have asked their workmen to vote the Republican ticket, otherwise their factories will have to close under Democratic rule in obdience to its free-trade platform."

Keep your hands off our sovereign States; let our citizens do precisely as they propose to do anyhow; recognize the regnant truths that thundered in the guns, rang in the trumpet-blasts, and hung like a glory over the gonfalon of the Confederacy. Thus, and thus only—can you compass a restoration of concord between the sovereign Republics that compose this Federal League.—Will. H. Kernan, of Mississippi.

Gov. Rice, of Massachusetts, says: Gen. Garfield is growing in the respect and admiration of the country as he becomes better known, and before November comes round an old-fashioned republican enthusiasm will be kindled that will sweep the country and carry the Chicago candidates into office with a splendid triumph.

Rough on 'em.

All over the country the Irish are forming Garfield clubs. This is especially so in the Eastern States. The candidates of the Democracy, General Hancock and William H. English, are especially obnoxious to Irishmen, wherever it may be, and it is no wonder they are deserting them. It is asserted and proven that at the second battle of Bull Run, Hancock remarked of the Irish Brigade, "The d——d flannel-mouth sons of b——s are only fit to be killed, to make room for better men!" English's expressed opinion is very similar. The little daughter of a poor laborer was run over and killed, in Indianapolis, by a car of the street railroad in which English is a heavy stock-holder. It was caused by gross carelessness on the part of a cheap driver. The Irishman sued the Company for $1,000 damages, but English kept putting off the trial, and taking changes of venue, in order to wear out the laboring-man, who had not the means to indulge in a protracted suit. Finally, English went to the Irishman, to get a compromise. In the course of their conversation, English exclaimed: "D—n the Irish! This country would have been better off without them. You set too high a price on your damned young one!" He finally effected a compromise, by making them take $250 of the amount in street railroad tickets. This is the opinion the Democratic candidates hold of the people from whom they expect to get a large proportion of their votes.—Northern Indianian.

The above is a true story coming directly from the parents of the child. The father is a democrat but he does not propose to vote for such a brute as he knows English to be.

The Colored Men's Convention.

The state convention of colored men, which was held in this city Tuesday, closed its labors on Wednesday. The organization comprised:

President—Rev. C. M. Brown, of Lancaster.

Vice Presidents—J. Gordon, Otoe; J. Smith, Washington; John Lewis, Douglas; L. W. Washington, Merrick.

Secretaries—Frank Bellamy and B. Fulton, of Douglas.

E. R. Overall offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

WHEREAS, Alvin Saunder, being at that time the chief executive of the territory, used all his official influence to have said territory admitted upon that condition, thus showing his love for justice and all men; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of two be appointed to wait on Senator Saunders and invite him to address the convention; and, be it further

Resolved, That this convention tender its heartfelt thanks to the Hon. ex-Senator P. W. Hitchcock for his noble and strenuous efforts to secure the seating of P. W. B. Pinchback, of Louisiana, in the United States senate; proving that his policy lay not in words alone, but in deeds as well.

The committee on resolutions reported a series, which was adopted, urging measures to preserve the freedom of the ballot in the south, and to encourage immigration in the state of Nebraska.

The committee on address reported a memorial which set forth the advantages of the immigration of colored people into the new states and territories; the idea that the colored men vote with the republican party, not because they feel bound to, but because they regard it as the party of progress. —Omaha Republican.

D. R. Anthony, of the Leavenworth Times, thus expresses himself on the renomination of Governor St. John: "Men who desired to see Kansas politics lifted above the level of blackguardism were forced to favor Mr. St. John. Men who believed that the day of purchasable politicians like Legate, silly politicians like Aller had gone by, were forced to favor Mr. St. John. Men who believed that George T. Anthony was guilty of deliberate, willful lying, were forced to favor Mr. St. John. Men who believed in the doctrine of district representation, and not packed conventions, were forced to favor Mr. St. John. We congratulate him upon his success, and trust that Republicans will give him united support, remembering that the amendment is not a political question, but will be favored as well as opposed by Republicans and Democrats alike."

We want a man who, standing as it were on a mountain height, beneath his feet all the achievements and in his heart all the love for the glories of our past, looks forward to meet the dangers to come. We want him in no spirit of revenge against those that we fought in battle. The Republican party goes to the South with the palms of peace, the olive branch of peace in its hand, and holds it out to every one on this supreme condition: that it shall be admitted forevermore that we were right and they were wrong. On that supreme condition we meet them as brethren, and on any other terms we make no terms forevermore.—Gen. Garfield's speech nominating John Sherman at Chicago.

General Alexander, Adjutant General, and a member of the committee on arrangements for the reunion of ex-soldiers and sailors, recieved a telegram yesterday from Jeffersonville arsenal, stating that 300 tents for the use of the reunion had been forwarded from Chicago, on Friday evening, for Central City, in charge of a government agent, and that the same would arrive at their destination about Tuesday. The tents are what are known as "Hospital Tents," and will accomodate easily thirty persons, thus providing quarters for nine thousand people who may be in attendance.—State Journal.

In the estimation of the New York Sun, W. H. English is an immense patriot, and the soul and embodiment of generosity. The business by which English has amassed a fortune is lauded, and the misery of the unfortunates foreclosed under mortgage and taxtitles receive only a sneer, but the poor men made homeless by this "patriot and embodiment of generosity" as the Sun has it, will be heard from ere long, in a way, too, that even the Sun will despise!—Northern Indianian.

We hear but little opposition to the return to Congress of Hon. E. K. Valentine. The State press, quite generally, would accord him the courtesy of a second term, because he has so well earned it. Mr. Valentine, for the past two years, has worked very faithfully in the interest of his State, and, having served one term, he would be able to accomplish much for young Nebraska, were he sent to Washington for another two years.—Fairmont Bulletin.

John Eye Redick would be a good man to succeed Gen. Myers as national weathercock.—Omaha Republican.

BRUTAL CRUELTY.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept 2.—It is said that many women are stowed away in the cellar of a lunatic asylum here, in which no person accustomed to the decencies of life could be hired for any sum to pass an hour. Other accomodation is deficient and investigation reveals so revolting a condition of arrangements that no St. John newspaper would care to describe.

A FEARFUL ACCIDENT.

MADRID, Sept. 2.—A wooden bridge over the River Elbro, near Logrono, fell to-day while a battalion of troops was crossing. One captain, three lieutenants and sixty-four men drowned.

LATER—Seventy-nine persons are known to have been drowned by the breaking down of the bridge over the Elbro. It is feared the full extent of the loss of life has not yet been ascertained.

AN INDIANA STRAW.

EVANSVILLE, IND, Sept. 3.—A special election was held in the first ward to-day for councilman to fill vacancy. The republican majority was one hundred and forty-eight. Last spring the republican majority was eighty-seven.

AN IMPOSING RELIGOUS FUNERAL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The funeral of Rev. Dr. Wm. Adams, president of Union Theological Seminary, this morning, in Madison Square Presbyterian Church, was one of the most imposing funerals ever held in this city. In the central part of the church sat at least 400 ministers, representing various religious denominations, and including the most distinguished pastors of New York. In the body of the house were at least 600 gray-haired men, representing the oldest and most prominent families of the city. In the aisles stood many more people, and the galleries, which almost encircle the church, were crowded. Special delegations from various organizations attended. The remains were interred in Mount Auburn cemetery, near Boston.

TOUCHES NOT PITCH.

AGUSTA, Me., Sept. 3.—Gen. Weaver spoke here to night, and took positive ground against fusion. Previous to the meeting he refused to be escorted by a democratic torch light procession.

A BOOM IN INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 4.—The Wigwam was packed to-night with an immense crowd to hear Hon. Chas. Devens and Fred Douglas. A large number were unable to gain an entrance to the Wigwam, and an auxiliary meeting was held at a stand near by, addressed by Gen. Chapman and others.

A BETTER DEMAND FOR DOLLARS.

"SHELL OUT."

LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 4.—Persons coming in from Cave City on the L. & N. railroad report that two stages, which run between that town and Mammoth Cave, were stopped by highwaymen last night, and all the passengers robbed. The stage to the cave was first attacked, about four miles east of Cave City, and the one passenger on board was rifled. The coach coming the other way was shortly afterward met by two men on horseback, heavily armed, who ordered the driver to stop. They then compelled the passengers to get out and stand in a line, and ordered them at pistol point to give up all their property. The travelers were unable to resist successfully, so they had to shell out. The robbers took possession of all their jewelry and watches, aggregating in value about $1,2000. After the exploit, they made the victims take a drink of whisky with them, and rode off.

The Herald is howling about "nigger mobs"—"nigger mobs" in Ohio—mobs by "republican niggers" in Delaware—"nigger mobs" in Omaha. The "niggers" of Omaha and Nebraska stand faithful to black republicanism. Hence the Herald howls. Howl away old fellow; you have lived long, but you'll live long enough yet to see "mobs" of "republican niggers" exercising their political rights in every state of the union south and north. The wool growing business in this county has increased amazingly in the past two years. At the present time there are nearly 8,100 head of sheep in this county, and allowing an average of four pounds of wool to each sheep, the clip next spring will be 32,400 pounds. A woolen mill to work up this product is one of the most urgent wants of the county.—Stanton Register.

Colonel Ingersoll pointedly says that Hancock's famous Order No. 40 was agreeable to the Democrats only because it was a lie. It declared that peace reigned in the South when the Democrats were commiting an average of thirteen murders a week.

It is stated, upon the authority of Secretary Thompson's son, that the De Pauw plate-glass manufacturers, of New Albany, Ind., until recently avowed Democrats, have given their check to the Republican State Committee for $10,000.

Miraculous Power.
