— Nemaha Times: Died, on Monday night, Sept. 20th, 1880, Capt. Johnson Henderson, in the 73d year of his age. He was born in the north of Ireland. In his early years he followed a sea-faring life, visiting all the prominent seaports of the world. In later years, he navigated the Lakes. In 1855 he commanded and sailed out of Milwaukee the first sailing vessel ever built there, and was renowned upon the Lakes as a skillful navigator. He was one of the early settlers of Nebraska, and, by the aid of his stalwart sons succeeded in making a comfortable and happy home. He was a charter member of Nemaha City God Temple Lodge, and remained a consistent member. "Till severed only in death"—an example well worthy of being followed. In his death the community loses an influential and valued citizen, and his family a good husband and fond father. The afflicted family have the heart-felt sympathy of everyone. The captain was one of those of whom it has been said "Blessed is the man who is afraid of no man, and of whom no man is afraid."

BROWNVILLE, Sept. 24, 1880. Brownville Lodge No. 69, L. O. G. T., adopted the following resolutions: WHEREAS, In view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our sister, Mrs. Adelia Hite, and by the still heavier loss sustained by those nearest and dearest to her, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of our departed sister to say that, in regretting her removal from our midst, we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard.

Resolved, That we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased in the dispensation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict them, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best, and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolved, That this heartfelt testimonial of our sympathy be presented to the family of our deceased sister; that they be spread upon the records of our lodge and a copy be furnished to each of our city papers.

— Mr. Wm. Stevens, a whilom citizen of this city, but now of Colorado, was in the city this week shaking hands with his many friends, and picturing in Eldorado colors, his new home. Mr. Stevens last May went to Yorkville, Fremont county, Colorado, where he purchased a ranch at advantageous figures, and is now making money "hand over fist." He keeps the stage station—six stages daily—which is half way between Cannon City and Silver Cliff—has a grocery store, the postoffice, and works two paying silver mines, which also yield some gold. Mr. S. presented us with a specimen of his ore which assays $100 to the ton. In that county he says politics looms as well as elsewhere, and he told us of raising a Garfield pole at his place over one hundred feet high, and indicated that the county there and pure atmosphere does not agree with Democrats, as at the pole raising in one hundred and fifty people present there were only three Democrats. Mr. S. still owns his farm opposite Aspinwall, and two other farms in Western Iowa, and he is here looking after his property interests. He says if any of his friends here will visit him they will receive a cordial welcome and the best he has to give them.

LEADVILLE LETTER.

LEADVILLE, COLO., Sept. 18, 1880. To the Editor of the NEBRASKA ADVERTISER and to my friends who would be glad to hear from me, and the far West. After three months stay in Leadville, I am prepared to give a correct statement of Leadville and its surrounding. It is situated 12,000 feet above the level of the sea, and is located on the north side of California grade, and has a population of 40,000 inhabitants. But three years ago where the city of Leadville now stands with its enormous wealth was a dense forest with but few inhabitants, but of late has a world-wide reputation, and one that has excited so many minds in the East, and has brought many to an early grave. They start from the East where the weather is nice and warm, and come out here not prepared to meet the high altitude where the snow lays on the ranges the year round and ice freezes every night. From this they will take a cold which will terminate in pneumonia and soon result in death. It is stated by an Eastern paper that Leadville is the very cradle of pneumonia. Well I must say to a certain extent it is, but the greatest amount of deaths is caused from drinking and suicides. For the three weeks past there have been 35 deaths. Of these 19 were murders, 7 suicides and 8 accident, leaving 10 that died natural deaths. Well, it is not so strange after all where there are so many men of different countries, and so many that do not see alike, especially when they get one or two drinks of Leadville whisky, having at least two lights and an attempt at murder in every glass that is drank.

The weather has been nice and cool all summer, and on the first of September we had a snow storm that lasted all day, and on the 15th of this month three inches of snow fell.

The mines of Leadville and vicinity are a success. The Chrisotite, the largest mine here, turns out 108 tons of ore per day, worth $87 a ton, while there is a number of them that turn out less, but more valuable to the ton. There are mines here that have been running for two years, and employ 100 men at $3 a day, that have never paid a dollar, but has been kept up by the stock being speculated on in the Eastern market. Mining here is a fraud to a certain extent, but one strikes it once in a while. More do not than do. We are collecting together a box of specimens for THE ADVERTISER, which will be along soon.

We arrived at Leadville on the fourth of June, after a successful trip across the great plains of 700 miles. In less than four days, regardless of the great strike, all received work at good pay, with one exception, and that was not agree with his constitution; and owing to the high altitude and light air, his stay was short with us, returning from where he came.

One of the most disgracing things that a man could be guilty of, occurred on the 13th of July by one who left Brownville with what was known as the Brownville Mechanic Mining Co., in good faith, and had pledged himself to our forth his best endeavors to help each and every one of the copartner-ship to his best ability. But he thinking that the teams were making us too much money, and he getting only one-ninth, determined to have it all. So he got out a writ of replevin, and took away the teams that were hired for six months, and had paid the sum of $200 before leaving. On the 2nd of July we had a trial and he lost it. But our attorney, More Hulburd, whom you all know, who stood at the head of Prof. Riel's school, and who started out a few years since, a young lawyer of much ability, and one who is meeting with success in his new field of work, advised us to take an appeal, which we did; and on the 29th of August the case was decided in our favor, and P. H. Douglas, the plaintiff, was compelled to pay cost to the amount of $118, and return the teams to us. Right will rule, no matter where.

Well, as I have given a history of Leadville and vicinity as near correct as it has occurred to me, I will close by saying that all are well and meeting with success. I remain yours respectfully, FRANK FERLIGHI.

Weaver Buys up the Animals. The following is a circular letter addressed to the greenbackers of the Union by their candidate for President: "Indianapolis, Sept. 27.—To the Greenback-Labor Reformers throughout the United States: I urgently request that you have struck off by the thousands, for circulation in each county, full extracts from Mr. Bayard's New York speech, in which he says that the Democratic candidates for President and Vice-President of the Democratic party are in favor of his bill to destroy the greenbacks, and that they will carry out that policy. Publish the Bayard resolution, with the full extract from his speech, so that the people may know just what it is that the Democratic party and its candidates are pledged to carry out. The issue is fully made. Let every greenbacker in the Union arrange himself to the realization, and brand as an infamous traitor to our holy cause any man, without regard to his former standing in our party, who attempts to transfer votes to either of the old parties. (Signed) J. B. WEAVER.

It has been recently discovered in the treasury department that after the breaking out of the late war, the New Orleans mint continued to coin for several weeks, and about one million and a quarter dollars of gold and silver of different denominations were coined from bullion on hand at that time. It is supposed this money fell into the hands of the confederacy, and has all been put into circulation, increasing the amount in circulation just so much.
