THE ADVERTISER

BROWNVILLE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1880. VOL. 25.—NO. 28

The army appropriation by this session of Congress will be about $30,000,000.

A bill was passed by the Vermont legislature taxing express and telegraph companies two per cent. gross receipts.

The Lincoln Globe says "the railroads have dropped the Hon. Church Howe."

A party of Ponca chiefs, now in Washington, inform the "great father" that they are entirely satisfied with the Indian Territory, and desire to remain there.

Barking dogs or "curs" seldom bite.—Sheridan Post.
But there is one out at Sheridan that barks himself out of breath at the bidding of his owner, for the reward of a cold biscuit.

Next week our citizens will no doubt feel completely left without the usual appearance of the Post. It may tend to convince you, however, that you could not get along without it.—Sheridan Post.

O, they can use corn-cobs, as they formerly did.

The Brownville Advertiser says Mr. Howe is going to name the next U. S. Senator.—Lincoln Globe.

That's another lie. The Advertiser has said no such thing. Can't the Globe get through this matter and keep somewhere in the neighborhood of truth?

The Brownville Advertiser said Mr. Schick would heartily support Mr. Howe.—Lincoln Globe.

We have never said anything of the kind. The Globe is in a terrible sweat, that it has to get down to such barefaced falsehoods. The signs are good. Hurrah for Howe!

The House committee on public lands, after thorough discussion and argument, have refused by a vote of four to two, to make a favorable report upon the Senate bill to equalize homesteads. The main objection to the bill on the part of the majority of the committee was that the benefits, if any, would inure to land speculators, and not to homestead settlers under homestead titles.

"We say" is a put phrase with the Lincoln Globe; and its mere "we say," without the support of either law, logic or sense, is arrayed against the written opinion of the Supreme Court, amply sustained by law, logic and sense. But ordinary intelligence easily distinguishes the reasoning of wise men from the reckless assertions of a concern permitted by the grace of God to exist without a conscience.

The Sheridan Post of last week brings out Hon. T. L. Schick as a candidate for speaker of the house of representatives. This was done without the knowledge of Mr. Schick, who knew nothing of the matter until his attention was called to the article in the Post. We are not informed as to whether or not Mr. Schick will consent to become a candidate.—Nebraska Times.

No, he wasn't "informed" didn't have time to consult with the "great I am" organ. Shoel.—Sheridan Post.

No, the Post didn't have time, after it received orders from headquarters, to consult Mr. Schick. Shoel!

If Gov. Nance should be elected United States Senator, it would be rather cruel to have to kill Carns, so as to prevent his taking the gubernatorial chair.—Fairmount Bulletin.

We guess Lieut. Gov. Carns would do as well in the gubernatorial chair as anybody else. All who are pitching into Carns have taken their cue from the Bee, and ought to be abandoned for having no better reason. It looks now as if the Lieutenant Governor has a pretty fair chance of being Governor, and if he is, we'll bet that he will give general satisfaction. What do the howlings of the cross-grained Bee and Globe amount to, anyway?

To the ADVERTISER we would first ask the a if they had just as soon publish a few of the statements to be found in their back files.—Sheridan Post.

That's all right, and will the Post man first please tell us how much he got for his sudden flop from an ardent supporter of Church Howe to opposing him. Wasn't it Senator Daily? Of course. And how much credit does Daily give to that note due him for the entire Post office? Does the said "Buc" cancel the whole thing? Such ridiculous and awkward dopping, making the Post man the laughing stock of the neighborhood, ought to be well remunerated by the Post's masters.

He says that in an interview with Mr. Schick, that gentleman informed him that "as he was wholly without legislative experience he did not want to be speaker, even if such a thing were possible," and that statement is FALSE.—Sheridan Post.

Mr. Schick's ambition and loyalty to those who run him has got the better of his conscience. Mr. Schick did use those very words to us, and if we cared to do so could give the names, and probably the affidavits, of several other gentlemen to whom he said, in effect, the same thing. Many of Mr. Schick's former special friends have said to us that from what Schick had said to them they were convinced that we had not misrepresented him. One gentleman remarked, and we think very truly: "Those fellows, in their desperation to beat Howe, are spoiling Schick, and he's already has the worst case of big head that we ever saw. I nor any of his friends can do anything with him."

THE HOWE BOOM.
For Speaker of the House.

Judging from the utterances of some of the enemies of Mr. Howe, some might be led to think that Mr. Howe has very little support from the press of the State. Now let's see. We might fill a couple of columns with the favorable notices we have seen, of Mr. Howe and his prospects, but the following will suffice for our present purpose:

It is generally supposed that Church Howe, of Nemaha county, the gentleman named, will be speaker of Nebraska's next house of representatives. Well.—Nebraska Journal.

The indications appear to the Republican to be conclusive that Hon. Church Howe will be elected speaker of the house by a very decisive majority.—Omaha Republican.

A number of our exchanges, we see, are speaking favorably of Hon. Church Howe in connection with the speakership of the House. Mr. Howe's unquestioned abilities mark him as a man eminently fitted to perform the duties of this responsible position. Those of our readers who are not familiar with the name of this gentleman, we are of the opinion, could they have a voice in the matter, cheerfully lend their influence to help make him speaker, because he so favorably impressed all who heard his masterly handling of party questions.—Fairmount Bulletin.

Church Howe has fifty-seven members of the legislature who will stick to him through thick and thin for the speakership of the next house. "Nough said," the next speaker will be the Hon. Church Howe, of Nemaha.—Lincoln Democrat.

Church Howe is on top of the pile of speakers of the next house. And Church is a pretty good singer to stand in a slippery place.—Grand Island Times.

The Pawnee Enterprise comes out with a senseless tirade of abuse against Hon. Church Howe, and threatens the representatives of the county with the wrath of the people if they dare to vote for Church for Speaker. He'll get there all the same; the word "fall" ain't in his dictionary.—Sheridan Post.

Hon. Church Howe of Nemaha county is a candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives at the coming State Legislature. He is a stirring fellow, a thorough parliamentarian, quick witted and will, if elected, do much toward getting through the rush of business that will come before that body this winter.—Beatrice Courier.

Church Howe, of Nemaha, will no doubt be a candidate for speaker of the house of representatives this winter, and if he don't get there "will be awful funny."—Nebraska Herald.

The name of Church Howe is mentioned by many republican papers of Nebraska in connection with the speakership of the next house. It is a great compliment to that gentleman. Of his ability for the position there is not the least doubt; while his long experience in legislative matters, and in domestic energy, are additional titles entitling him to the honor of the place. We hope Mr. Howe will be successful in securing the speakership of the next house.—Lincoln Democrat.

Mr. Kasson moves with potency on the Speakership of Congress, and this is true of Church Howe for another Speakership not so far away as Washington.—Omaha Herald.

Rosewater's abuse will elect Hon. Church Howe speaker of the next legislature. Any one whom he favors is a dead duck politically.—Nebraska City Press.

Church Howe's chances for the speakership have dwindled into nothing.—Pawnee Enterprise.

Don't you squander your money too freely on Howe's opponents, for Church is the lowest candidate you ever saw.—Fairmount Bulletin.

The candidates for speaker of the House of Representatives are numerous, and the number is constantly increasing. H. H. Sheld, of Ashland, is a leading candidate and a strong man. He is a member of the constitutional convention. Slocumb, of Fairbury, will doubtless be the choice of this senatorial district. He has served during one session of the House, and has considerable experience. Kelley, of Red Cloud, will also be a strong candidate, and is a good man for the place. Church Howe also wants the speakership, and with his dexterity at setting up his pins it would not be surprising if he secured it.—Beatrice Courier.

Nearly all the leading papers of the State favor Church Howe for speaker of the house of representatives.—Nebraska Times.

Everything seems to go back on Van Wyck; but Church Howe, seems to be as secure for the speakership of the house, as Carns is for the presidency of the senate, and this is not saying very little.—Democrat.

Church Howe seems to be ahead in the race for the speakership of the next house.—Beatrice Courier.

The Brownville Advertiser booms for Church Howe for speaker, Judge Dundy for senator, and ex-Gov. Furnas for commissioner of agriculture. The Press could say amen to one or all.—Press.

The Lincoln Globe and two or three other papers, have been very remarkable for their influence in State matters are just ranting and tearing their shirts, about Church Howe. That's a good sign for Church. It seems he is bound to be Speaker.—Brownville Advertiser.

The "two or three other papers" are under the control of Rosewater, and do not assert their convictions. They attempt to cause the belief that they are honest in such a course, when in reality they are doing just what they denounce so bitterly in regard to Rosewater monopoly. Mr. Howe, nor any other Republican need have any fear of their harmless bark.—Fairmount Bulletin.

Special Correspondence of the Inter-Ocean. WESTERN BUREAU. THE INTER-OCEAN, OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 15.—The Hon. Church Howe, of Nemaha county, who is a prominent candidate for Speaker of the House in the Nebraska Legislature, has a good army record, and that is about the best capital a man can equip himself with who seeks political preferment in this State. He

THE INTER OCEAN FOR 1881.
DAILY, SEMI-WEEKLY, AND WEEKLY.

In presenting the prospectus of the Inter-Ocean for the year 1881, it is scarcely necessary to remind the people of Nebraska that the paper has been, from its date of establishment, pronounced an independent, stalwart, disinterested, and in advance of all others in promulgating that species of political ethics which is so essential to the progress of humanity in politics. It is in this respect, and in its courage, its integrity, its boldness, and its independence, that the Inter-Ocean has distinguished itself from all other newspapers of the State. As such it is well known of all men.

It is necessary to say that the Inter-Ocean has never departed from the principles on which it began its career. It has remained true to its motto, "to be for the people, and by the people." It is gratifying to see that the republican party are finally to stand squarely on this stalwart platform, and that its motto is being carried out in the most literal sense of the word.

REMIENT TELEGRAMS.

THE EXODUS. GREEN CASTLE, Ind., Dec. 21.—A party of eleven colored North Carolinians have arrived here. They report their people in that section trying to raise means to transport themselves, and predict a large exodus from that State during the winter and spring.

SNOW IN VIRGINIA. FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Dec. 21.—Snow has fallen in Northern Virginia thirty-three hours without intermission. Travel is impeded, and trees broken down by the weight of the snow. A storm of such severity has not been experienced for twenty-five years.

A SUPPER TABLE TRAGEDY. WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 24.—A dispute arose this evening at the supper table in a boarding house at New Alexandria, Ohio, near Stubeville, and Dr. Henry, a dentist, attacked Dr. Schooley, a prominent young physician, of Mt. Pleasant. A wealthy farmer named Buckingham took Henry's part, when Schooley drew a revolver and put a bullet into Buckingham's head, inflicting a probably fatal wound. Henry seized a shovel and beat Schooley about the head, wounding him so that he cannot recover. All are among the best citizens of Jefferson county, Ohio.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF STRONG DRINK. NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A Washington dispatch says, James Madison Turlington, consul general at Melbourne, Australia, under President Pierce, died from want and exposure last night.
