

New York City is being lighted with electric light, and two thousand lamps will be placed in private buildings by February.

The Omaha Republican makes a very pertinent reflection in saying that the Lincoln Globe is a "miniature reflection of the Omaha Bee."

The cry comes from Topeka, Kas., for help for the destitute colored people. They ask for money, food, clothing, and bed clothing, in this terrible winter.

An Ohio gentleman, by the name of Garfield, who sometime ago was elected to the U. S. Senate, declines that honor, and has so notified the legislature now in session.

The Omaha Republican's position on the Senatorial fight is like unto that of THE ADVERTISER, believing in fair play, courtesy and gentlemanly treatment toward all the candidates.

Blizzard! We thank thee, West, for teaching us that word. It is a good name for it.—Philadelphia Press.

Another good word is "Cavor"—add it to Webster. It will often express the idea when no other word will do it as well.—Inter Ocean.

Governor Long, of Massachusetts, in his inaugural address, on the 6th inst., urges the more thorough enforcement of the liquor laws, and recommends giving to property-holding women the right of suffrage. Good for Governor Long.

It is not yet known who the hogs belong to, but anyone who has lost a couple of hogs had better call on Officer Watkins.—Nebraska City News.

That fellow "who doesn't know a hog from an ox, prides himself on his Democracy, and grapples with the Supreme court decision in the Olive case.

The Republican legislators of Michigan, in caucus, have nominated Congressman O. D. Conger for the U. S. Senate, long term, by a vote of 59 to 57 for Bagley, his opponent. H. P. Baldwin was nominated for the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Zsch. Chandler.

A few days ago the Lincoln Globe sat down on another sand bar, and howled fearfully when it imagined Hon. Church Howe was a candidate for the chairmanship of the State Farmer's Alliance; but now it transpires that Howe was not a candidate, and the Globe man made another ass of himself.

It cannot be charged that he (Padock) is dishonest.—Bloomington Argus.

You mean that anyone having any respect for truth or decency will not make such a charge; but, mind you, such papers as the Lincoln Globe or Omaha Bee can charge anything, lie about anybody, and prove nothing.

More than one hundred U. P. railroad strikers were shipped to Lincoln to help in electing Church Howe to be speaker of the house, and they lacked several votes.—Lincoln Globe.

That may or may not be true, and yet Mr. Howe can muster about as much solid strength as any man in the State. Like Gen. Grant at Chicago, no one man could muster such solid backing; and only the cry of anything or anybody to defeat Howe, regardless of merit, ability or efficiency, defeated him.

Time has proven that the Lincoln Globe drew upon its imagination in other words lied—when it said Church Howe wanted to be the president of the State Alliance. The Globe itself says that Mr. Howe was not at the meeting. There is no man in the State that stands better with the farmers than Church Howe; and no legislator will do more for such legislation as the farmers want than he; and ere long he will make the best speech before some Alliance that will be made, and will stand more highly and as much respected before the Alliance as any Globe demagogue may ever expect to be.

Eaton, of the Globe, was kicked out of the Bloomington land office because of numerous charges being made against him for dishonesty in administering the affairs of his office, and Conlee has been ill-natured ever since he failed to get the Beatrice post-office. Hence the opposition of the Globe to Senator Padlock. This is the path of their afflictions.—Bloomington Argus.

And that is the virtuous Eaton? Well it is only another instance where the fellow who cries "thief" the loudest does so to divert attention from himself. But the Argus didn't take in that other fellow who hangs around the Globe office who would probably have spent a season pounding stone in striped clothes had it not been for Church Howe. That's a "bad lot," sure.

The defeat of Hon. Church Howe for the speakership is now worrying the Lincoln Globe even more than its fear of his election did; and it winds up its week's work; Saturday, with over a column on the speakership. There seems to be no happiness for the cures of that miserable outfit so long as the Nemaha lion is in their path. But he is there, all the same, and their yelling is not in the least annoying him. They now wish for fear that Mr. Howe will do something to injure Lincoln, on account of alleged treachery of the Lancaster legislators. But Mr. Howe is not that kind of a man; and the city of Lincoln, for whom the Globe is only self-appointed to speak, need have no fear of Mr. Howe—on a revenge stand-point, at least. If he owes any of the Lancaster statesmen anything he, in due time will pay them, but he harbors no grudge against the city of Lincoln.

BROWNVILLE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1881. VOL. 25.—NO. 30.

NEBRASKA STATE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

The Organization.

On the 5th inst., at Lincoln an organization of the above name was effected. Delegates from many of the counties of the State were in attendance, and much interest and earnestness was apparent in the object for which this convention of farmers had assembled. J. Burrows, of Gage, was chosen to preside over the preliminary deliberations of the convention; and G. M. Dodge, of Dodge, was chosen secretary. All practical, operative farmers present were invited to participate in the organization of the State Alliance. The following constitution was adopted:

PREAMBLE. We, farmers of the State of Nebraska, being convinced that an organization is necessary for the protection and development of our industrial interests, and for the purpose of effecting such an organization, do adopt the following constitution:

SECTION I. This organization shall be known as the Nebraska State Farmers' Alliance.

SECTION 2. The members of this Alliance shall consist of delegates from the different subordinate Alliances of the State of Nebraska.

SECTION 3. Each subordinate Alliance shall be entitled to representation in the State Alliance as follows: To one delegate for each subordinate Alliance in the State of Nebraska. It shall have the sole right and power to grant, suspend, or revoke charters, originate and regulate the means of its own support, and to receive and decide appeals, and determine all questions of law and usage, subject to the National Alliance.

SECTION 4. The officers of this Alliance shall consist of a president, one vice-president for each judicial district of the State, a secretary and a treasurer, who shall be elected by ballot at the annual meeting in September, and an executive committee of three, who shall be elected, one for one year, one for two years and one for three years, and thereafter annually, who shall serve three years.

SECTION 5. The president, vice-presidents, secretary and treasurer shall perform the duties prescribed in Cushing's Manual.

SECTION 6. Each subordinate Alliance shall pay annually into the treasury of the State Alliance ten cents for each member of such subordinate Alliance.

SECTION 7. There shall be a finance committee composed of five members, by the president, and subject to the approval of the Alliance, which shall audit all bills before they are paid, and shall examine the books and accounts of the treasurer and report as to their condition on the day or night of every election.

SECTION 8. No person shall be admitted as a member of any subordinate Alliance in this State, unless he shall be a practical operative farmer.

SECTION 9. After the adoption of this constitution no person shall be entitled to a vote in or to take part in the deliberations of the State Alliance, without having credentials from a chartered subordinate Alliance, duly signed by its president and secretary.

SECTION 10. The following officers were elected for the first term of the State Alliance: President, E. P. Johnson; vice-presidents, G. H. Gale, of Gage; first judicial district; W. W. West, of Otoe; second; Allen Root of Douglas; third; Geo. Seibert of Hamilton; fourth; J. J. Smith of Buffalo; fifth; D. Hayne of Kearney; secretary, J. Burrows of Gage; treasurer, W. A. Town of Thayer.

The following resolutions were adopted: Resolved, That we invite the attention of the legislature of Nebraska to the well known abuses and evils which exist in the management of the corporations operating railroads wholly or in part in this State, among which we would enumerate the following, viz: The carriage of freight for citizens of other States and other countries at lower rates than for the citizens of Nebraska; giving individual citizens of this State special privileges and rates out of proportion to those given to the public in general; giving individual citizens secret rates.

The maintenance of subsidiary organizations, through which rates are made unnecessarily high, and the revenues of the roads depleted before they reach the stockholders.

The watering of stock, or capitalization of surplus earnings.

The charging of rates for transportation which are not in proportion to cost of service and distance carried and discriminations against local and non-competing points, which tend to discourage the location of wholesale houses and manufacturing establishments in Nebraska.

The lack of that publicity in methods and responsibility to the public which properly belongs to organizations exercising a great public function like that of operating public highways.

MAKING A SENATOR IN NEVADA. The Democratic Legislators Strike a Blow.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., Jan. 3.—The Legislature met here to-day and organized without delay. Interest centers in the forthcoming election of United States Senator James G. Fair, the hon. and princely, who here Saturday, preceded by a large case of cigars and a whole cargo of champagne. This preparation for the Senatorial fight did not cause a depression, but inspired the average politician with a high regard for the wisdom and foresight of the leading candidate. At the opening of the canvass last fall, as soon as the nominations for the Legislature were made, Mr. Fair sent each of the Democratic candidates a check for $500, with a letter asking him to accept the contribution towards his political expenses from a friend who cherished a high regard for him and hoped for his election. This delicate tribute seems to have won the hearts of the Nevada Democrats, who are now feeling quite sure that they still expect Mr. Fair to see that the wheels of progress are well oiled. The opposition to him will be very slight, and perhaps merely nominal, as, in the slang of this section, he seems to have a pinch on the Legislature, and will squeeze an election out of it without difficulty. Some Democrats have raised an objection to Mr. Fair because of his well-known liberal political sentiments. While he is a Democrat, and the Democratic party, and has generally voted their ticket, there is a feeling among the Bourbon Democrats that he is not so firmly established in the faith as they would desire Senators to be, and messages have been sent to the Democratic party, asking the voters of the Eastern States to secure positive pledges from Mr. Fair that in case of his election he will assist Democrats to obtain control of the Senate and will vote with them on party questions. Republicans feel quite sure that Mr. Fair will not be a political Senator, but will vote at all times with the side upon which his personal interests lie.

Fred Nye of the Omaha Republican, in his Lincoln letter of the 5th, referring to the election of the Speaker, says: The inside of the fight over the speakership seems to be that Lancaster county deserted Church Howe at a late moment and beat him. Two years ago Howe worked with all his might for Lancaster county in her attempt to secure the capital appropriation; and now verily he hath his reward. Lancaster is a county that knows of nothing but the flesh-pots. It has neither gratitude nor conscience. I had forgotten to say that I do not believe Church Howe altogether defunct. That is to say, he will still remain in the house, and he has a few friends who died with him who will probably remain in Lincoln during the session. If, incidentally, Mr. Howe and his friends can return the compliment paid them by Lancaster county and another locality or two, it is expected that the compliment will be returned.
