We had not seen a fresh newspaper for ten days, and were much elated the other day in receiving at one time, via Tecumseh, about a bushel—an armful of Republicans from Omaha and Journals from Lincoln, but the latest of these were several days old. We were glad to get them however, for they contained later news than the old lies that we had been rescanning for the "very latest" to dish up for our beloved readers.

Spring and Summer Clothing. A big stock for men and boys, at Dolen's, and he will sell them cheap. Call and see.

The new city council was inaugurated at the regular meeting on Monday evening last. The tie between Gilmore and Helmer for councilman of the 2d ward was decided by the judges of election, as the law directs, by lot in favor of Helmer. An ordinance regulating saloon licenses fixing licenses at $500, and bond at $1,000 was passed according to the provisions of the old law. Jake Rouschikolb, Phil. Fraker, and Jeff Campbell applied for licenses. The council will meet again on Tuesday evening, 17th inst. T. L. Schick was reappointed city attorney at a salary of $200 a year; E. H. Wilcox was appointed policeman at a salary of $15 a month, and Charley Chantz street commissioner at $2 a day for actual labor performed. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, Washington, D. C., April 24th. R. W. Furnas, Brownville, Neb.

SIR:—At the request of Hon. Alvin Saunders, we send you a package of Sorghum seed. The object of this distribution is the promotion of the interests of agriculture by introducing into the various sections of the country such new and valuable products as may be adapted to the soil and climate of each. To effect this, it is necessary that the seed should be in appreciative hands, and that a faithful report of the results of trial should be made, embracing the method of culture and the nature and causes of success or failure, as the case may be. Such a report will be expected of you in regard to the seed now sent you, and it is also expected, if the crop proves of value, that you preserve a portion of the seed obtained therefrom for distribution among your neighbors, so that they may be more widely disseminated.

Very Respectfully,
Wm. G. LEBUC, Com'r.

The seed above referred to can be had in small quantities by each person who will comply with the wishes of the commissioner of agriculture by calling at the First National Bank, Brownville, Neb. ROBT. W. FURNAS.

LOCAL PERSONALS.

Postmaster Hacker visited Peru Tuesday.

Thos. Hutchinson, of Peru, called on us Tuesday.

Wilson E. Majors, of Peru, was in the city Monday.

L. L. Hulburd, Esq., came in from Humboldt Sunday and returned Monday with Mrs. H.

Abe Williams has sold his farm near Peru, and will remove to Washington Territory soon.

Miss Sarah Harmon, who has been for some time past visiting with friends at St. Joe, arrived at home Monday on the steamer Dakotah.

W. S. Clark and W. C. Pavey, of Nemaha City, started for Pitkin, Colorado, on the 1st inst. They went by rail from Nebraska City.

We are pleased to announce that Miss Fannie Arnold is now preparing music for a concert which will be given in three or four weeks. We may look for a rich treat in a short time.

Hon. J. H. Broady, of Brownville, is in the city seeking what morsels of justice he can extract from the judicial decisions of Judge Weaver assisted by twelve good and true men.—Beatrice Courier.

Richard Kesterson will start to Washington Territory in a few days. Mr. K. has been for years one of our most substantial and prosperous farmers, and we regret his leaving our country.

Mr. S. A. Huntington, a popular blacksmith of Nemaha City, called Saturday and subscribed for our paper. He has just had painted an attractive sign for his shop. Call and see him when in Nemaha.

Dr. and Mrs. H. F. McCoy, of Falls City, returned home Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by Dr. E. D. Arnold, who will take the train at that place for Colorado, and will probably be accompanied by Dr. McCoy. Their destination is Silver Cliff, Col.

Dr. E. D. Arnold, while sailing on the river Tuesday afternoon, received a severe ducking by his skiff turning over and throwing him into the water. He, however, caught the skiff, turned it right side up, climbed in and rowed to shore, without assistance.

M. L. Emery, blacksmith of Howard, came in Saturday to be treated for a wound received the day before by a piece of steel flying from a hammer in the hands of an assistant, which buried itself in his back, making an ugly and painful gash. Dr. Holladay probed for the missile, but failed to find it. The wound is not dangerous, we understand.

Miss Fannie Arnold very generously offered to get up an impromptu concert for the benefit of those unfortunates who were driven from their homes by the late high waters, and sought refuge in our city, but the relief committee, while tendering thanks to Miss Arnold for her benevolent offer, deemed it unnecessary, from the fact that the generous subscriptions of the people were sufficient.

A Literary Revolution Challenge.

The old-lie publishers have, very naturally, not been well pleased with the new famous stereotype, "The Literary Revolution;" and in depreciation of its character have laid special stress upon the claim that in cheapening books so vastly it is against the interests of American authors. The Revolution boldly meets this assertion by statements as follows: 1st. That they are already paying to American authors more money than any other publishing house that is less than twenty-five years established. 2d. That American authors rarely receive from publishers a copyright exceeding 10 per cent upon the retail price of their books actually sold. 3d. That at least one-half, and probably more nearly three-fourths of the books published by American authors, the publishers furnishing no money, and paying no copy-right, but themselves receiving a large percentage upon sales made. 4th. That they propose hereafter to pay to American authors for acceptable manuscripts a copyright of 15 per cent, instead of 10 per cent, and they claim that their low prices, and immense sales resulting therefrom, are far more in the interest of authors than much larger copyright on the commonly limited number of sales.—"One thousand books, profit $100 each—$100,000. One million books, profit one cent each—$10,000."

As an example of an American copyright book, they issue, in an exceedingly handsome form, the famous poetical, historical, and satirical American classic, "M'Fingal, an Epic Poem," by John Trumbull, with very full annotations by the celebrated historian Benson J. Lossing, LL. D. This poem is almost as much a part of American history as the battle of Bunker Hill itself, and Dr. Lossing has greatly increased both its interest and its intrinsic value by his historical comments and illustrations. This book was published a few years ago by one of the old publishing houses at the price of $2.00 per copy, and had only a very limited sale. The publishers claim that the reception of their new edition guarantees a sale of at least 50,000, or even more probably 100,000 copies; and Lossing will, of course, reap a handsome reward, even from the small royalty upon the low price, American Book Exchange, Publishers; New York City.

A Losing Joke.

A prominent Physician of Pittsburg said jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health and of her inability to cure her, "try Hop Bitters!" The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!" "Well-a-day! That is remarkable!
