OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE COUNTY.

—Thanks to John Chapelow for a mess of fine tomatoes.

—Visit Coup's Great Circus and Menagerie, at Nebraska City, Saturday.

—Excursion train to Nebraska City Saturday, to see the great show. Be sure and go.

—"Wizzard," of the Sheridan Post, is a notorious liar, we should think, from his reference to the ADVERTISER.

—James Den won the $5.00 bill offered by Jacob Rauschkolb on the fourth as a prize to the person making the best score during the day's shooting. Jim scored 37 out of a possible 42.

—Coup's great show at Nebraska City, Saturday, July 16th. Four great circus and hippodrome rings, and a Roman race track 40 feet wide and nearly half a mile round. Don't neglect this opportunity to see the greatest show now traveling.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the M. E. church, Brownville, will begin on Friday evening, at 7:30, when the Presiding Elder will preach and hold quarterly conference. On Sunday morning, at 10:30, the pastor will preach, and administer the Lord's Supper. On Sunday evening, at 7:30, the Presiding Elder will again preach, and close the quarterly meeting.

E. J. WILLIS,
Pastor.

We are printing a neat eight page circular pamphlet for ex-Gov. Furnas, for general distribution. It tells of the treasures of his "Evergreen Home Nursery and Fruit Farm." It contains much information gathered from a practical standpoint regarding the secrets of pomology, horticulture and forestculture. He who has planted, or will plant, a fruit or forest tree, or shrubs or vines that produce any of the luscious berries, will know more about all those things when they have read the Governor's pamphlet. A copy can be had gratis by any one on application.

—Albert Clark, the man confined in the jail here for the murder of his wife and citizen Sargent, has made no recent attempt to take his own life and the self-inflicted cut in the neck is about well, and his neck will be in good condition to be broken by the time the hangman is required to do that job. Clark still sustains the right to be deemed a curious character. About once a week he has a "spell" which is begun in a religious sort of way, and by singing and praying works himself into a frenzy, so that when through with his devotional exercises he manifests raving madness and he uses all his physical power to break the chains that bind him. This in a short time exhausts him, he becomes calm and sane, and so continues for several days. These crazy fits are getting to be a regular thing with him.

—A struggle for the control of the great monopolies is the impending conflict in this country. It is one of the political problems pressing for early settlement. Mr. Howe has cast his lot with the corporations. "Ephraim is joined to his idols," and the people will do well to let him alone.—Post.

Don't be alarmed about the good sense of the people. They will let Mr. Howe alone while he is doing so well for the whole of Nebraska county. The taxable capital that will be laid down in this county this year will double the wealth of the county and reduce the taxes of the people one-half. Mr. Howe is doing more to secure this additional wealth for the county than any other citizen; and the people will thank and honor him for it. Ephraim's idol is Nebraska county, and her glory his ambition; and "amen," says the taxpayer, "we're glad he's joined." "Mr. Howe has cast his lot with the corporations," sneers the Post, but the sneer is not appreciated, as it is well known to be but a sneer by proxy from the spirit that owns and controls the Post. If that paper, extremely thin and silly as it is, could act and speak independent of the imbecile outside pressure that it has to consult and please, its utterances would be more deserving of consideration than they are at present.

The stalwarts at Albany have also held a caucus and resolved to stand firmly by Conkling and Crowley. This we think, is not the proper thing for the Conkling men to do. A majority of the party having agreed upon candidates, now the minority should submit. There are several reasons presented by the stalwart organs why they should not submit, but while these reasons have weight, they are not sufficient to justify the maintenance of a "deadlock" against the will of a large majority of the party—about two-thirds to one-third. In the nomination of Miller and Lapham the friends of Wheeler and other candidates conceded the right of a majority by throwing into the caucus pool the claims of personal friendship, and Mr. Conkling's friends do violence to party fealty by refusing to do likewise. Mr. Conkling had the right to be a candidate, as we have maintained, so long as party inharmony reigned, and the usages of party were ignored; but now that a caucus has been held by a clear majority and candidates nominated, he and the stalwart Mr. Crowley cannot properly be kept on the track. THE ADVERTISER still insists, too, that while it would be pleased to see Mr. Conkling in the Senate, this legislature being Republican and in session should not fail to elect two Republicans, before it adjourns. Further effort to indorse Mr. Conkling by referring the matter to the people is too hazardous.

—The proposition of Mr. House regarding the M. P., was as follows: The right of way across Douglas precinct, with a donation of twelve acres of ground for the depot site. We think it extremely necessary that this thing be talked up with a vengeance. In our opinion this is the best chance ever offered to Sheridan, and it looks just a little as though it is the last opportunity for the location of a railroad station in the center of Nemaha county, and we must not let it go by without a strong endeavor to obtain the same, when it can be done at so trifling a cost.—Post.

The people have been "talking it up with a vengeance," as the Post directed. It seems that anything, almost, ought to pan out when talked up with a vengeance. Although right of way and depot grounds—that is the donation thereof—have been talked up with a vengeance for ten days, the inspiration of the plan hasn't penetrated the hearts and percolated through the systems of the land owners in and about the "centre" to any alarming extent. Talk, even "with a vengeance" is exceedingly cheap, but it takes money to get the right of way. Having no money, and "talking it up with a vengeance" being the first and last of the resources, in and about the "centre," the "last opportunity" will vanish and retire where the woodbine twine. Ah, the delusion of hopes based upon the extreme thinness of "talk with a vengeance." The railroads and depots and so forth will be at

CALVERT.

Ex-U. S. Senator, P. W. Hitchcock, died at his home in Omaha, on Sunday the 10th inst., in the 50th year of his age. Mr. Hitchcock for twenty years was a leader in Nebraska politics. He was a delegate from the Territory of Nebraska in the national convention which nominated Lincoln; he was U. S. Marshal from 1861 to 1864, in 1864 he was elected delegate to the 39th Congress. In 1867 he was appointed Surveyor General; and in the winter of '71 he was elected United States Senator, serving six years. He was an honest and capable man.

At the New York Chamber of Commerce a few days ago, a subscription paper was started to raise two hundred and fifty thousand dollars as a testimonial for Mrs. Garfield "in appreciation of the noble character of the President." The paper was signed by Cyrus W. Field with $5,000 and Jay Gould and others followed with like sums. The money is to be invested in United States bonds and deposited with the U. S. Trust Company, the income therefrom to be paid to Mr. Garfield during his life, and at her death to be equally divided among her children.

—The Omaha Sunday Item, but recently brought into existence, has fizzled. Went up like a rocket and came down like a stick. The Item thought it could see money in the wit and bosh it could sell, but there are only about one to ten million luxuriating at that kind of business.

—In the Protestant Episcopal churches of Nebraska last Sunday, by instructions of a postoral letter from Bishop Clarkson, prayers were offered asking for the recovery of President Garfield, providing God should think his recovery would benefit the country, and himself. These are the words ordered to be used: "In the prayer for the President, after the words, 'Thy servant, the President of the United States,' insert the words, 'If it be in accordance with thy holy purposes, and if it be the best for him, and for the nation, save and spare his life, we humbly beseech Thee.'" this city has acquired under the management of J. G. Russell a popularity that it never had before. By the day it is only $1.50, yet its real substantial accommodations are first-class—comfortable rooms, good beds and excellent table fare with an agreeable landlord and landlady makes those headquarters a pleasant place for the average customer. Farmers, call and get your dinner for 25 cents.

New Firm.

Lon. and Milt. Jones, under the firm name of Jones Bros., having purchased the meat market of Bath & Body, would respectfully invite the public to call and see them. Jones Bros. claim to understand their business, and will not only keep all kinds of meats that can be had in this market, but deal it out in choice parcels, tastefully cut, to suit purchasers. Remember the place—old stand of Body Bros.

If the President survives his injuries the heaviest penalty that can be inflicted on his would be assassin is eight years imprisonment; unless it would be a greater punishment to find him incurably insane and confine him for life in an asylum. The punishment for an attempt to murder a President is no greater than a like attempt upon a common man.

MANHOOD

How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culvertwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure of Spermatorrhea or seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to marriage, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, ERIGENCY and FRA, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, etc.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual; by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

LEGAL NOTICE.

CHARLES JAMES SARFF, AND JOHN J. Fletcher, guardian of said Charles James Sarff, and all others interested in the estate of William E. Sarff, late of Mason County, Illinois, deceased, you and each of you will take notice, that Sarah Sarff, administratrix of the estate of said William E. Sarff, deceased, has presented her petition to the District Court of Nebraska county, Nebraska, setting forth the amount of personal property which has come into her hands, the debts outstanding against the deceased, a description of the real estate of which the intestate died seized, and the condition and value thereof, and asking for an order of the said court to sell the southeast quarter of section twenty-one (21) in township four (4) north, of range fourteen (14) east, in Nemaha county, State of Nebraska, for the purpose of paying the debts of the estate.

On the 29th day of June, 1881, the Judge of the said District court made the following order, to-wit: It appearing from the petition attached that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administratrix to pay the debts outstanding against the deceased, and the expenses of administration, and that it is necessary to sell real estate for the payment thereof, it is hereby ordered that notice be given by publication in the Nebraska ADVERTISER as required by law in such case, that all persons interested in the said estate appear before the District Court of Nebraska, at the office of clerk district court in the city of Lincoln, Lancaster county, Nebraska, on the 27th day of August, 1881, at three o'clock p. m. to show cause why a license should not be granted to the said administratrix to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased described in the petition, as shall be necessary to pay such debts.

Dated June 29th, 1881.
