We understand that John L. Carson has purchased a corner in Calvert and will erect a banking building thereon.

Nothing furnishes a room so nicely and adds to the comfort of a home so much as that beautiful wall paper at Nickell's Drug Store.

Lincoln Globe: Quite a number of Chief Justice Maxwell's friends are urging him to allow the use of his name this fall as a candidate for re-election to the Supreme bench. There is certainly much to recommend his re-election.

We like to receive local news from any point in the county; but our space is so limited now, while printing only one-half of our paper at home, we prefer the news pure and simple, without the attachment of spring poetry or disquisitions on the comet or mother Shipton.

"Who is the pretty girl with blonde hair and deep blue eyes, there in the jaunty hat?" asked Alfred, at the lawn party. "Who?" replied Annie, "that taffy-haired girl with the tallow eyes, and that nightmare of blue rags on her head? I never saw her before; nobody we want to know." That, brethren, is the way different people look at a pretty girl in a pretty hat.—Hawkeye.

The universal interest felt regarding the attempted assassination and the assassin, justifies us, we believe, in occupying so much space in our columns with matter pertaining thereto. We however select the most interesting and best authenticated statements for our readers from the extravagantly large and varied accounts that appear in the eastern papers.

On a recent suit involving the point in the following, Judge McCrary said:

"The railroad company is bound to carry for the express company for reasonable compensation, and must not discriminate against it. A court of chancery has power to decree compliance with this wholesome regulation. The court cannot for a moment sanction the proposition that a railroad company may, by extortion or unjust discrimination, exclude an express company from the right to conduct its business upon the railroad. I am not prepared now to fix maximum rates to be charged for transportation of express matter, but I have no doubt of the power of the court, after investigation, to do so.

Call for Homewood's flour. Try it—and you'll use no other.

The State Fair will be held September 12th to the 17th at Omaha.

The Calvert Courier, a six column quarto, published at the new B. & M. town, near the geographical centre of Nemaha county, was ushered into existence on the 14th ult. by G. W. Fairbrother, Jr. The Courier has a modest salutory, that promises nothing impossible or unreasonable; is Republican politically, but its mission is the local interests of Calvert and its people. This first number is commendably free of egotistic bombast, and if we may judge from the long list of personals, fresh local editorials and large amount of advertising, Calvert is certainly having a "boom," and enlisting the attention and confidence of men of capital and business.

An exchange tells us how to use lemons, as follows:

A good deal has been said through the papers lately about the healthfulness of lemons. The latest advice as to how to use them, so they will do the most good, runs as follows: "Most people know the benefit of lemonade before breakfast, but few know how it is more than doubled by taking one at night also. The way to get the better of a bilious system without blue pills or quinine is to take the juice of one, two or three lemons, as the appetite craves, in as much ice-water as makes it pleasant to drink, without sugar, before going to bed. In the morning on rising, or an hour before breakfast, take the juice of one lemon in a goblet of water. This will clear the system of humors and bile, with mild efficacy, without any of the weakening tendency of calomel or congress water. People should not irritate the stomach by eating the lemon clear; the powerful acid of the juice, which is almost corrosive infallibly produces inflammation after a while, but properly diluted, so that it does not burn or draw the throat, it does its full medical work without any harm, and when the stomach is clear of food has abundant opportunity to work on the system thoroughly.

From the Calvert Courier:

There is money in almost any investment that may be made in this place.

It is now a fixed fact that the Gould railroad will cross the B. & M. about three quarters of a mile west of Calvert.

Howard, the metropolis of Lafayette, will make a good town when the new road is finished.

The boys have found near town a splendid swimming pond, from six to eight feet deep, with a nice pebble bottom.

Manager Cross keeps his half dozen pencils well worn figuring the bills he is constantly selling for the Chicago Lumber Co.

The farmers of Nemaha county are busily engaged in preparing their harvest for the garner. It is thought the yield per acre will be fair, yet scarcely so large as the average year.

Hon. Church Howe has purchased the south half of Jacob Keely's farm, located between Calvert and Long's Branch. It is evident Mr. Howe believes the Missouri Pacific is coming by that route.

The Courier is of the opinion that it is well for a county to possess a "caper" who has the influence necessary to "cap" the best interests of a county at the proper time. Such men belong to the needs of a county.

The B. & M. is now paying four dollars per day for teams, and two dollars for "scraper holders." The contractors mean business and are pushing things at a lively rate. A few days at most and the shriek of the engine will be heard approaching Calvert.

Calvert is situated on sections 27 and 28, town 5, range 14, in the centre of one of the richest and most fertile counties in the State. It is about twelve miles from any place of importance, and at the crossing of the Republican Valley and Missouri Pacific railways.

Harve McGee, of the firm of McGee & Moore, Brownville, gave us a friendly call Friday last. Mr. McGee informs us that they will occupy one of the rooms now being built by Mr. Salsbury, within the next six weeks. They are one of the most solid and enterprising firms of Brownville, and we are gratified to know that they will extend their growing business to Calvert.

The railroad grade between Calvert and Nemaha City is being pushed to rapid completion, almost the entire force of workmen having concentrated at the east end of the line, where they are fast reducing the road to its proper level. Within forty days, it is safe to say, the track will be laid to this point and the cars making regular trips with supplies for the workmen further west.

Johnson, the next station west on the new railroad, is beginning to boom, Claggett & Son having already commenced the erection of a commodious store room, and others, we understand, will soon follow. The town is located on high rolling prairie, on the divide between the Nemaha river and the Muddy, a fine view of both streams being had in the distance indeed the view of the surrounding country is truly magnificent. The town is surrounded by rich farming land, a large portion of which is already under cultivation, and a thriving town will soon be built.

A gang of thirteen robbers, about 6.30 p. m. on the evening of the 15th inst., took possession of the passenger and express train on the C. R. I. & P. road at Winston, Iowa. Jesse James is supposed to be leader of the gang. Only two of them wore masks. Their first act upon entering front and rear of the cars, was to shoot conductor Westfall, who fell dead on the car platform. A stone mason named John McClellen being mistaken for the engineer, was next shot dead. The express messenger, Chas. Murray, was overpowered and compelled to deliver the keys to the safe. The robbers found only a small amount of money, and were much exasperated at not getting a very large sum which they expected. The superintendent of the Rock Island railroad offers $5,000 for the apprehension of the robbers.

We are pleased to make a note of the fact that the UNION HOTEL this city has acquired under the management of J. G. Russell a popularity that it never had before. By the day it is only $1.50, yet its real substantial accommodations are first-class—comfortable rooms, good beds and excellent table fare with an agreeable landlord and landlady makes these headquarters a pleasant place for the average customer. Farmers, call and get your dinner for 25 cents.

A Fool Once More. "For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her. She is now as well and stronger as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W. Detroit, Mich.

NEMAHA CITY.

We neglected last week to record the fact that another son had been born to Mr. Rabe Elliott. That is thought to be the reason Rabe was paying such big prices for hogs during those days.

Mr. John Culp has just taken possession of his neat new residence.

Tuesday's rain made all hearts rejoice.

The cars will soon run on to Calvert from this point.

Mr. Harry Comstock, an engineer on the B. & M. construction, has located here.

Titus & Williams, it will be perceived, have the noblest awning in town, but they can afford it; for they have the biggest stock of goods, sell more goods, and cheaper, than any house in Southeast Nebraska.

Terry is putting a new roof on his store building.

The crop of sundowners is fully up to the average on the town plat.

Rabe Elliott has a nice big new barn.

Titus & Williams will receive an immense stock of new goods soon.

The new town may boom, yet the fact remains that Nemaha City is now and will continue to be the best grain and stock market in Southeast Nebraska—and don't you forget it.

Farmers have been cutting their wheat during the last week. "How's the crop?" "O, only middlin'."

Nemaha continues to improve.

Corn and wheat continue to pour into Nemaha City.

We learn that a street sprinkler will be started in a few days, by Gene Combs.
